Preparing the Imperialist Spermaceti

While the capitalists, in their capacity as war preparations, are busy in the soil of the United States, we are preparing and organizing ourselves in the fluffy imperialist capital, New York. We are preparing for a struggle which will not only be a struggle to protect our workers but a struggle to make the workers aware of their own economic and social position and to make the workers realize that they are not only capable of fighting for their own existence but that they have the power to fight for the destruction of the imperialists.

The capitalists, on the other hand, are busy preparing for war. They are building up the military power of these states and their governments have been maintained only by military force. The workers and capitalists, whether they are in the United States or in the United States, are in a state of tension.

The imperialists, however, were not prepared for the future. They were investing in full confidence that their policies would not repeat the same faults of the past. They were not prepared for the workers' revolutionary advances. The workers in the United States, however, are also preparing for a struggle.

The workers are preparing for a struggle of a different kind. They are preparing for a struggle of their own interest. They are preparing for a struggle against the imperialists. They are preparing for a struggle to make the workers aware of their own economic and social position and to make the workers realize that they are not only capable of fighting for their own existence but that they have the power to fight for the destruction of the imperialists.

The workers are preparing for a struggle of a different kind. They are preparing for a struggle of their own interest. They are preparing for a struggle against the imperialists. They are preparing for a struggle to make the workers aware of their own economic and social position and to make the workers realize that they are not only capable of fighting for their own existence but that they have the power to fight for the destruction of the imperialists.

The workers are preparing for a struggle of a different kind. They are preparing for a struggle of their own interest. They are preparing for a struggle against the imperialists. They are preparing for a struggle to make the workers aware of their own economic and social position and to make the workers realize that they are not only capable of fighting for their own existence but that they have the power to fight for the destruction of the imperialists.