Trade Union Work and the Role of the Young Communist League

By JOHN LEVI

VITAL factor in the success of the American Communist Party has been the organization of the trade union movement. The fight of the International Union, the Party's platform, has been to organize the mass of the workers in this country and to make them aware of the objectives of the working class movement. The Party will not be strong and effective until it has succeeded in organizing the workers on a massive scale.

The trade union movement is the strongest and most important organization of the working class in the United States. It is the only legal means of expressing the will of the workers. It is the only means of organizing the workers for the purpose of improving their working and living conditions. The trade union movement is the best and most powerful means of educating the workers in the principles of the working class movement.

The trade union movement is the best and most powerful means of educating the workers in the principles of the working class movement. The Party is the only political party that is truly working class. It is the only party that is truly interested in the welfare of the workers. It is the only party that is truly interested in the improvement of the working and living conditions of the workers.
