THE NEW ASSAULT AGAINST THE DAILY WORKER A TRIBUTE TO ITS POWER

With the official leadership of the labor movement doing the dirty work of imperialistic reaction against the American workers' movement, with all forces of tyranny chained to the wheel of the working-class policies to the war-mongers, with the government itself being used as the agents to crush the revolutionary movement, it becomes apparent that the revolutionary workers' paper should be singled out for renewed attacks.

The history of capitalist attacks against the labor movement follow a certain well-defined course, beginning with attempts to ridicule it as a manifestation of workers' sentimentalism. The next phase is the attempt to utilize the strike as a means of attacking the workers. The third step is the attempt to disorganize the leadership of the unions at the head of the unions. The Daily Worker, as the official organ of the Communist Party of the United States, is not only a propagandist as well as the collective organ of the working-class—"the face of" the revolutionary movement—"responsible for the defense of the working-class movement in spite of all the assaults upon our paper, our in the business of the working-class movement, our workmen to defend our paper to the limit of their ability, all our friends and all revolutionary workers from the working-class have been trying to combat these attacks.

The more frequent the attacks upon the workers' fighting paper in face of this persecution, the more the working class, the workers, will develop a revolutionary consciousness. Against the attacks is a basis for the growth of the workers' revolutionary movement.

This is the course that every Daily Worker, rally at once to the defense of our paper in order that this latest of a series of attacks against us, will be defeated and the paper live on.

THE RUSSIAN OPPOSITION

BY WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

IT was inevitable that the struggle between the Trotskyists and the "Kulaks," would inevitably arise between the middle and upper classes and the lower working class. If the middle and upper classes and the lower working class, the "Kulaks," had not been allied with the Trotskyists, there would be no "Kulaks". The middle and upper classes are the most revolutionary class in the world.

The Russian Opposition fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.

The Russian Opposition was a mass movement, a mass movement. They fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.

The Russian Opposition was a mass movement, a mass movement. They fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.

The Russian Opposition was a mass movement, a mass movement. They fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.

The Russian Opposition was a mass movement, a mass movement. They fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.

The Russian Opposition was a mass movement, a mass movement. They fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.

The Russian Opposition was a mass movement, a mass movement. They fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.

The Russian Opposition was a mass movement, a mass movement. They fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.

The Russian Opposition was a mass movement, a mass movement. They fought against the kulaks, the middle and upper classes, and the lower working class, the "Kulaks." They fought against the Russian proletariat, the working class, and the middle and upper classes.