PARTY PRE-CONVENTION DISCUSSION SECTION

Bourgeois Reformism and Social Reformism

By William Z. Foster

It does not see the merging of the old line craft unionism with the labor movement, not the rebuilding of old line craft unionism. For us the basis of the new unions is in the workers for what it is worth. The new unions are being organized in those two shops, only there are making—some $30 and some $2 in wages. The new unions are making—some of them—$60 and some $2 in wages.
