FIRST WAGE-HOUR INDICTMENT IN STATE WON BY U.S.

Grand Jury Hands Down 6-Count Indictment Against Kelter Mfg. Co.; Action Seen as Planned Program in Wage-Hour Drive

The first action of the New York State Labor Department against any violators of the Wage and Hour Laws on the state level was taken by Attorney John T. Cahill against the Kelter manufactured Goods Co., at 1215 Main St. in Tonawanda, under a 6-count indictment charged with refusal to pay wages, employment of minors, and use of involuntary labor.

TRADE UNIONS AND THE PEOPLES HEALTH

By William Z. Foster

C P. Chairman Urges
Trade Relief

The writer, right to health by trade relief, is a matter of the utmost importance, and this is why it is that the trade unions have been so active in their efforts to improve the working conditions of their members.

One of the most important aspects of trade relief is the provision of health insurance. This is where the trade unions can play a vital role in ensuring that their members have access to quality health care.

Workers need health insurance to cover the costs of medical care, and this is where trade unions can help. By negotiating with employers, trade unions can ensure that their members receive adequate health benefits.

By William Z. Foster

James B. Carson, Chairman, Consumer's Federation

The writer, right to health, is a matter of the utmost importance, and this is why it is that the trade unions have been so active in their efforts to improve the working conditions of their members.

One of the most important aspects of trade relief is the provision of health insurance. This is where the trade unions can play a vital role in ensuring that their members have access to quality health care.

Workers need health insurance to cover the costs of medical care, and this is where trade unions can help. By negotiating with employers, trade unions can ensure that their members receive adequate health benefits.

Ant-Hague Forces Unite In Bayonne Poll Rally

RAVEN, May 5—A united labor movement will throw a page from the past tonight, when hundreds of the leading industries of the city will march through the streets in support of the Hague Anti-Hague Rally.

The march, which will be the largest ever held in Bayonne, will be composed of workers from all industries, including steel, rubber, and metal goods. The rally is being held in protest against the anti-labor policies of the Hague administration.

Broadstreet Stores Vote CIO in Poll

UNION, May 7—Workers in the Broadstreet Stores, a large retail chain, voted CIO in a poll held last week. The vote was seen as a victory for the union's organizing efforts.

The Broadstreet Stores, which employ thousands of workers, have been the target of anti-union activity by the company. The union's victory in the poll is seen as a major victory in its campaign to unionize the workers.

HEALTH EDUCATIONAL LEADERS OPEN PARLEY

Educational leaders in the field of health education gathered at the New York State Department of Education today to discuss ways to improve the teaching of the subject.

The meeting was sponsored by the American Medical Association and was attended by representatives from across the state.

The leaders discussed a variety of topics, including the need for more standardized curricula, the importance of including health education in the core curriculum, and the need for better teacher training.

Workers in the Broadstreet Stores, a large retail chain, voted CIO in a poll held last week. The vote was seen as a victory for the union's organizing efforts. The Broadstreet Stores, which employ thousands of workers, have been the target of anti-union activity by the company. The union's victory in the poll is seen as a major victory in its campaign to unionize the workers.

The Broadstreet Stores, which employ thousands of workers, have been the target of anti-union activity by the company. The union's victory in the poll is seen as a major victory in its campaign to unionize the workers.