What the Record of the 83rd Congress Shows

It Went Far Toward Setting Up A Police State in Our Country

By William Z. Foster

The 83rd Congress has under the guise of "defending democracy" passed into the law of the land most brutal and reactionary legislation in the history of the U.S. Congress. The whole world looks to the U.S. to set an example of how to run a police state and the Congress is setting back three steps in that direction. The whole world looks to the U.S. as a model of democracy and the Congress is setting back three steps in that direction. The whole world looks to the U.S. as a model of democracy and the Congress is setting back three steps in that direction.

The general characteristics of this legislation, a further fattening of the profits of mea- sures which have been enacted in disregard of the demands of labor, of Negro people, youth and the farmers, a continuation of Wall Street financing, a grave intensification of the dangers of the depression.

Among the bills enacted to further enrich the wealthy businessmen was the creation of the Administration's giveaway program to the field of atomic energy. As a result of the subject being akin to the notorious bantering over of the rich tides lands oil fields to the monopolized control of the international oil trusts. The bill also included a big tax at the expense of the tax-exempt labor unions.

The 83rd Congress was shabbily militaristic and warlike. The reason for this aspect was expressed by the following telegram from a Morgan financier to his friend who had been in a joint session of Congress, an impressive and menacing threat to the world. But the international situation made it more evident to this dream of Wall Street to be real- ized by Congress.

The Congress appropriated more than half the billion for the Mutual Security Act, that dream of an international alliance was realized by the U.S. and China on this top of the many bil-

WHILE THE U.S. Senate is going mad over the non-existence of the "Communist danger," and even same sane individuals in the apprehension of silence, three groups rise in the United States groups of genuine political whole of the delegates by singing of the complete religious freedom, which at some point, is bound to come to the world.

A number of church spokesmen challenged the idea that the ideas of Christian brotherhood are bound up with "free enterprise" system of the big corporations, and claim that an H-bomb war against Socialism would be a "Christian war." The delegations were called to hear from an American minister, Rev. Theodore W. Weed of Washington, D.C., that if the H-bomb destroys the world and its peo- ple can make no money, "why should we expect the prospect of the end of the world did not frighten the early Chris- tians," he told the peace-supporting delegates, and it need not frighten us.

It is incredible how the politics of the Cold War turns some of our ministers—fortunately they seem to be a minority—into an tactic of the H-bomb war in which to try and make this world humane and even the very existence of human society.

Hoover maneuvers and Christian monopoly are not the end, and must be thwarting a just. It is a heartening sign.

A Program To Defend America

For a peace-time economy—jobs protected by federal public works—full employment, protection of the right of the Bill of Rights. An end to the political subdivisions and states which are destroying constitutional liberties. An end to the discrimination and violence against the Negro. An end to the war against Germany and the Pro-Fascist Association and its zaft.

Congressman Jacob Javits (R-N.Y.) has been quoted.

There are other headquarters in major cities, some of which are headquarters which should be available for any purpose, and a few which are dedicated to combating anti-Americanism.
