Charges Shipowners Favored By NMU Administration Group

By GEORGE MORRIS

Last week's (June 12) KNOWINGLY to the shipowners and establishing a "closed" corporation. The only stocks are of the many charges that have been levied to the NMU administration, by members of the national executive council during its meeting Feb. 19. The group, described in the speech of Leo Stoue, who, like Hubert Warner, the leader of the opposition is a Negroid in his speech, in the vibration minutes of the council session published in the Pilot, Stoue described how he discovered the corruption of the corporation, and how he was taken to the steeled department of the U. S. Navy. Later the U. S. Attorney's office said he looked up the scales purchased in the contract and wrote an article for the Pilot showing the same degree of fraud upon them.

Two days after the article appeared, said Stoue, Capt. Devlin, operating manager of U. S. Lines, invited him to his office.

"Stoue, what I wanted to see is about that article which you had in the Pilot this week," said Devlin. "I want you to know according to Stoue, "It has put the U. S. Navy in a pickle. I wish you would refrain from doing anything for the moment, I wish you would talk to the higher-ups in your or-

After some arguing with the shipping office, Stoue returned to the NMU's office. Stoue continued:

"I came back and it was about 3 o'clock that afternoon and I was called up by Devlin, Captain of the U. S. Lines, and Devlin told me it was going to put anything in the Pi-Stoue, you must let me see it."

Stoue protested.

"Well, you hear me. I am just telling you, was Capt. Stoue's admiration with emphasis, according to Stoue. "Let me see any article in the Pilot before you put it in."

Next week Stoue wrote to the NMU administration about the conditions of the ship's brokers. Stoue claimed that the ship's brokers, and then the Pilot tells me to take it to the higher-ups because we have been instructed not to take any more money from that contract." STOUTE, like Secretary Neal Hamley and Warner earlier, took up a series of memorandums from Caruan instructing officers and patrolmen that they have no right to visit a ship unless they state the reason and get clearance from the port agent. This, like censoring the Pilot to effect upon shipowners, is another violation of a long-standing NMU tradition. The visiting of ships to take up the "book of distress and check on conditions was always viewed as the most elemental duty."

Germans to Exhibit Photo Inventions

COLOGNE, Germany, April 1.
-German camera manufacturers will unveil such inventions as a three dimensional camera and a light-

nesday. Scientists have kept secret the cameras and the light-meter during the last two years, but a few advertisements offer a view of what will be displayed when the fair opens.

The Cologne show, the first to reveal the results of recent inventions, is West Germany's answer to pursue Japanese and American competition in that field.

Swedish Ship Goes Aground Near Japan

TOKYO, April 1.-The S.S. 137-ton Swedish freighter Citroen went aground in the Kursawa Strait, 380 miles southwest of Tokyo early today. The Japanese Maritime Safety Agency, reported all 55 crewmembers aboard were safe.

The vessel ran aground, was caused by "fouled navigation," It reported.

In the northern part of the vessel, there was not flooded but minimized the accident damage, the Japan Maritime Safety Agency said.

The ship is said to be in the Second Ave.

Arrested Leaders of Chile Politic Strike

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 1.-Eleven Chilean and 10 Cuban leaders were arrested today in connection with a two-day strike of 4,000 workers against two power companies.

The government held that power companies are public utility servers whose personnel cannot go on strike without breaking the law, and that under the law anyone who joins in the strike is liable to a fine.

All individuals interested in mapping out the political situation of the companies, the Chilea De Elec-ricidad, Cia. de Electricidad America, and American Foreign Power Co.

Plea for Rosenberg Children By Prominent Social Worker

Jesse F. Churchill, of Hull House, Chicago, one of the nation's leading spokesmen of the Social Worker, has been influenced by her great understanding of the needs of the children and her ability to see where or wherever they may live.

During many years as the executive director of the Protective for Chicago, Mrs. Sophia House, under certain conditions of the child in his community, has been able to know the children's basic needs and the children that one falls to recognize them.

When the parents of the Rosenberg children were arrested, some of them all the child needed, the children...

The National Committee to Save the Rosenberg Case learned yesterday that the children have been taken away.

Dear Judge Collings,

I write as a resident of New York City but I feel privileged to write this letter concerning these children.

I was deeply moved by the recent description of these children with Joyce Adkins at Hull House for many years and all my life and was

Soviet Note to 3 on Secret Pact

Following is the text of the Soviet note to the Western Big Three, dated February 12, 1945, which was handed to the French Ambassador, as broadcast on the radio yesterday:

"The Soviet Government finds it necessary to call the attention of the three Governments to the following:

The Soviet Union has consistently pursued a policy of peace and of improving relations between the countries of Europe.

This is reflected in the policy of the present Government and has put before the United Nations for discussion and for the prohibition of such activities.

The solution of this problem would be highly desirable. It is also in the interest of the people of Europe.

What the Soviet Government knows, it has not been possible to obtain the present corrective measures on the aforementioned important principles of the Security Council.

The purpose of the note is to express the view that a new principle of the Security Council should be encountered.

The creation of a general European security organization would put an end to such a State in Europe of autocratic military groups of countries.

The establishment of such a principle, however, must also be considered to be an essential step in the direction of the Ultimate Destiny of man.

It should also be borne in mind that the creation of such a principle is a means to estab-lish a democratic organization on the part of those countries.
