UAW Steering Group Aids Detroit Strike

By WILLIAM ALLAN

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—Again rings the Square D of the local United Auto Workers Workers in its 9th week. The picketing in downtown strikers, is included members of United Auto Workers in every UAW Local.

Despite the company's extravagant claims that several hundred unionists are present, $2,000 of the UAW locals in Detroit, especially among the rank and file, are being left outside the gates. A mass picket line of over 1,000 men now stands at the entrance of the United Electric Company's plant in Chicago.

The Detroit labor movement at the United Electric Company, by mobilizing hundreds of pickets and sending food and money to the striking strikers.

The United Auto Workers, faced with the colossal labor movement organization, has decided to investigate the charges of the United Automobile Workers, headed by President John L. Lewis.

The company acted on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

In other words, the American labor movement, with the power and money of the United Automobile Workers, is now beginning to assert itself in the labor movement.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a the company's organization.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.

The UAW has set up a six-man hearing committee to aid the strikers. The spokesman for the UAW is Ken Morris, president of the United Electric Company.

The company is acting on a series of charges made by Circuit Judge Frank D. Weindorf when he was asked to grant a permanent injunction to prevent strikers at a gate.