LIPPMANN AND FALLING AMERICAN PRESTIGE

By WM. Z. FOSTER

IT IS NOW a commonplace among many that the United States has a become deeply involved in the problems of the world. Politicians and economists talk of the international obligations and the international responsibility of the United States. In fact, a large part of the American foreign policy is based on the assumption that the United States is deeply involved in the world affairs. This, however, is not true. The United States has not become deeply involved in the world affairs. It has not become a world power. It has not become a world leader.

THE OTHER DAY Walter Lippmann (Herald Tribune, June 2, 1933) has written an article which is a further example of the sharp growth of the American Press. Mr. Lippmann is a writer of great power, and the government of the United States is always ready to listen to his advice.

Mr. Lippmann is a writer of great power, and the government of the United States is always ready to listen to his advice.

WHAT IS HAPPENING is happening to the prestige of the world is being increased, and it is not only what it ought to be.

Draft Program

Draft Program for the Communist Party

Basis for United Action on Crisis

By C. A. (New Jersey)

Our basic problem is the economic depression, which is a problem of a major economic depression, next to the danger of a hydrogen bomb, which is a problem of a nuclear war. The appearance of the Communist Party in this critical juncture is the result of the growing realization of the urgent need of the American people for a better life.

It is inevitable that we will change this unemployment. All the political parties can do nothing to help the unemployed. The only solution is to change the political system.

We must not be misled by various factors that vary from month to month such as the labor conditions and the prices in June and May 1935. While the government has not yet set in, we have not yet reached the stage of the crisis.

The BASIC Reason given for this depression is the financial crisis. The financial crisis has caused the depression. The financial crisis is caused by the overproduction of the capitalists.

The capital economy is based on the principle of profit. The more a product is produced, the more a profit is made. If the product is not sold, the profit is not made.

One of the basic ingredients of the depression is the oversupply of goods. According to recent reports, the oversupply of goods is about 10 percent.

This oversupply of goods is due to the fact that the capitalists have produced more than they can sell.

How has this economic situation arisen?

While no figures are currently available, the situation on the Negro workers, it is estimated that a large number of them have lost their jobs. It is also estimated that a large number of them have been laid off.

At the same time, a number of workers who have been unemployed for a long time have been employed on the whole economic picture and on the whole economic situation of the country.

Another important factor is the increase of business borrowing.

While this is true for the whole country, it is not true for the United States.

According to a report in the "New York Times," farm prices in February, 1935, were 11 percent higher than in January, 1932.

In the FACE of the situation, the Communist Party has presented a plan of immediate and fundamental reforms that should be made.

The draft program of the Communist Party is one of the best programs that has been put out in the Party, especially in the time of crisis. It is a program of simplicity of the class by the class, and it is the only program that can solve the problems of the working class.

The following changes and improvements have been made in the draft program: 1. The program is simplified. 2. The program is more specific. 3. The program is more practical. 4. The program is more popular. 5. The program is more direct.
