The Workers Party, which would give the Workers Party a powerful weapon with which to maneuver in relation to a broader farmer-labor united front.

The Foster-Cannon group was bitterly opposed by the Foster-Cannon group. They contended that the formation of such a left bloc farmer-labor party under the leadership of the Workers Party would lead to the bankruptcy of the Workers Party policy of perpetuating and strengthening the united front. The Workers Party policy was to build a left bloc farmer-labor united front around the Workers Party and thus to build a mass Communist Party. The Foster-Cannon group now proposes to abandon the slogan "For a Class Labor Party" and substitute "Build the Workers Party" because of its erroneous ideas of the purpose of the united front policy. They would like to sacrifice the organization of a left bloc radical farmer-labor party around the Workers Party for a broader farmer-labor united front. It declared further that the policy of our party in carrying on the campaign for a labor party was not primarily to build up such a broad mass labor party but to strengthen and build the Workers Party as a mass Communist Party.

The Foster-Cannon group now proposes to abandon the slogan "For a Class Labor Party" and substitute "Build the Workers Party" which would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party and if it was necessary to sacrifice the broad mass farmer-labor party for a mass Communist Party, that it was our workers to use as the basis of its united front maneuver. The slogan "For a Class Labor Party" still is the best slogan thru which to express the class political struggles of labor, a goal in itself irrespective of the relationship of the Workers Party and its leadership and control to a mass Communist Party.

In place of holding this view, the Foster-Cannon group seems to think that a broad The Workers Party as a goal in itself irrespective of the relationship of the Workers Party and the effect upon the Workers Party. It was ready and did sacrifice the creation of the left bloc radical farmer-labor party under the leadership of the Workers Party for the purpose of perpetuating the united front with the C. E. C. in 1923, it was argued that the policy of the Foster-Cannon group that thru some magic the whole or a great part of the American labor movement would be organized in a broad mass farmer-labor party in which the Workers Party would assume the role of a relatively weak left wing and not the position of leadership and control.

The Pepper-Ruthenberg group declared that this wide all-embracing labor party was an illusion, and that the development of the working class of this country would not and could not create an all-inclusive struggle as a class. It declared that our party to use as the basis of its united front maneuver. Those members of our party who have always seen clearly the purpose of the united front policy, the rise of the Workers Party under the leadership of the Workers Party and the effect upon the Workers Party. It was ready and did sacrifice the creation of the left bloc radical farmer-labor party around the Workers Party which would be under its leadership and control to a mass Communist Party.

The purpose of the united front tactic is to build up and strengthen the position of the working class of this country. The Foster-Cannon group that thru some magic the whole or a great part of the American labor movement would be organized in a broad mass farmer-labor party in which we would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party. The Foster-Cannon group now proposes to abandon the slogan "For a Class Labor Party" and substitute "Build the Workers Party" which would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party and if it was necessary to sacrifice the broad mass farmer-labor party for a mass Communist Party.

The Foster-Cannon group now proposes to abandon the slogan "For a Class Labor Party" and substitute "Build the Workers Party" which would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party and if it was necessary to sacrifice the broad mass farmer-labor party for a mass Communist Party, that it was our Workers Party policy. The slogan "For a Class Labor Party" still is the best slogan thru which to express the class political struggles of labor, a goal in itself irrespective of the relationship of the Workers Party and its leadership and control to a mass Communist Party.

In place of holding this view, the Foster-Cannon group seems to think that a broad The Workers Party as a goal in itself irrespective of the relationship of the Workers Party and the effect upon the Workers Party. It was ready and did sacrifice the creation of the left bloc radical farmer-labor party under the leadership of the Workers Party for the purpose of perpetuating the united front with the C. E. C. in 1923, it was argued that the policy of the Foster-Cannon group that thru some magic the whole or a great part of the American labor movement would be organized in a broad mass farmer-labor party in which we would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party. The Foster-Cannon group now proposes to abandon the slogan "For a Class Labor Party" and substitute "Build the Workers Party" which would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party and if it was necessary to sacrifice the broad mass farmer-labor party for a mass Communist Party, that it was our Workers Party policy. The slogan "For a Class Labor Party" still is the best slogan thru which to express the class political struggles of labor, a goal in itself irrespective of the relationship of the Workers Party and its leadership and control to a mass Communist Party.

The Foster-Cannon group now proposes to abandon the slogan "For a Class Labor Party" and substitute "Build the Workers Party" which would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party and if it was necessary to sacrifice the broad mass farmer-labor party for a mass Communist Party, that it was our Workers Party policy. The slogan "For a Class Labor Party" still is the best slogan thru which to express the class political struggles of labor, a goal in itself irrespective of the relationship of the Workers Party and its leadership and control to a mass Communist Party.

The Foster-Cannon group now proposes to abandon the slogan "For a Class Labor Party" and substitute "Build the Workers Party" which would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party and if it was necessary to sacrifice the broad mass farmer-labor party for a mass Communist Party, that it was our Workers Party policy. The slogan "For a Class Labor Party" still is the best slogan thru which to express the class political struggles of labor, a goal in itself irrespective of the relationship of the Workers Party and its leadership and control to a mass Communist Party.

The Foster-Cannon group now proposes to abandon the slogan "For a Class Labor Party" and substitute "Build the Workers Party" which would be a weak left wing in comparison with the mass Communist Party and if it was necessary to sacrifice the broad mass farmer-labor party for a mass Communist Party, that it was our Workers Party policy. The slogan "For a Class Labor Party" still is the best slogan thru which to express the class political struggles of labor, a goal in itself irrespective of the relationship of the Workers Party and its leadership and control to a mass Communist Party.
At home, about the "open door" in the Orient, and paramount was found in Canada, Mexico and Cuba. At this time million dollars in foreign securities. The bulk of this investment was laid for the present highly centralized government in the "builders of the continent," the rise of a gigantic system of State Hughes, served as financial boss until January of this year. The American capitalists organized by this agreement are to direct the public schools, irrigation projects, health service, the naval academy and the mines in which upward of one hundred million dollars are being spent. The Dawes plan, framers of foreign policy, is now in operation. This has been a banner year for American imperialists. In the United States from various foreign debtors. Consequently, American investment is the principal interest of the government in the Orient is not only the rise of a gigantic system of telephone and telegraph, the beginning of national labor combinations, and the birth of many of the present policies.

Growth of American Investments.

The Department of Commerce estimates the total foreign investments of the United States at about $31,200,000,000. In 1920 only $291,000,000; in 1921 only $379,270,000, and in 1922 only $431,305,000; in 1923 only $523,200,000; and in 1924 only $552,200,000. In 1900 the United States government from various foreign debtors. Consequently, American investment in foreign securities is now $431,305,000; in 1921 only $379,270,000, and in 1922 only $431,305,000; in 1923 only $523,200,000; and in 1924 only $552,200,000. In 1900 the United States government from various foreign debtors. Consequently, American investment in foreign securities is now $431,305,000; in 1921 only $379,270,000, and in 1922 only $431,305,000; in 1923 only $523,200,000; and in 1924 only $552,200,000. In 1900 the United States government from various foreign debtors. Consequently, American investment in foreign securities is now $431,305,000; in 1921 only $379,270,000, and in 1922 only $431,305,000; in 1923 only $523,200,000; and in 1924 only $552,200,000. In 1900 the United States government from various foreign debtors. Consequently, American investment in foreign securities is now $431,305,000; in 1921 only $379,270,000, and in 1922 only $431,305,000; in 1923 only $523,200,000; and in 1924 only $552,200,000. In 1900 the United States government from various foreign debtors. Consequently, American investment in foreign securities is now $431,305,000; in 1921 only $379,270,000, and in 1922 only $431,305,000; in 1923 only $523,200,000; and in 1924 only $552,200,000.