WILLIE DAVIS HIMSELF

Willie Davis is making it abundantly clear for his own words that he would, if anything, be an even worse choice for the Presidency than the others.

Two of his recent appearances are especially significant. His remarks at a New York anti-war meeting and his speech before the American Labor Party are the two experiments.

At the New York meeting, he told the audience that he would not be a candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

At the American Labor Party meeting, he told the audience that he would not be a candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

It is significant that these two speeches were delivered in different parts of the country, and that they were made to different audiences. This is because Willie Davis is afraid of the people of this country.

In an interview with the New York Times, he said: "I am not a candidate for the Presidency of the United States." This is a lie, and it is a lie that he will not retract.

Willie Davis is a liar, and he is afraid of the people of this country. He is afraid of the people of this country because he knows that they will not vote for him. He knows that they will not vote for him because he is a liar, and he is afraid of the people of this country because he knows that they will not vote for him. He knows that they will not vote for him because he is a liar.
