LARGER WORKERS' SCHOOL TO BUILD FOR MASS PARTY

Need to Train Members in Communist Theory

By ELLA G. WOLFE,
Instructor in the Workers' School.

NEW YORK, March 11.—"Comrade teacher, every time I come to school I have to stand up. I can't study standing up." This complaint came from a young Greek furrier in the Elementary English Class. Hardly were the words out of his mouth when a young, enthusiastic sweater operator called out, "A fine Communist you are, complaining because you have no seat. Come over here, I'll give you my seat. I'll stand up, I don't mind it." Similar instances have occurred in other classes.

It is true that more than half of the students of the Workers' School are Communists, but it is also true that it would be very much easier for all students to study if they all had comfortable chairs to sit on, decent blackboards to write upon and adequate lighting to facilitate studying at night after a long, weary day's work.

There never has been a period in our movement as important as the present for the building of a large Workers' School. Such a school is the source from which will come the future leaders of our Party, theoretical leaders, practical leaders, for the Workers' School is forging Marxist, Leninist theory and practice into one harmonious whole. The School teaches all our students that to really understand the theories of Lenin and Marx means to be able to apply them to the daily struggles in the trade unions, in strikes, in lockouts and in all the other mass movements.

In the textile strike of Passaic our students are doing practical militant work—in the halls, speaking and on the lines, picketing. Our students are assisting in the present strike of the furriers with research work, speaking and picketing.

The reorganization of our party on the basis of shop nuclei is preparing the way for the building of a militant mass movement in this country. It means that the leadership of our Party can no longer be restricted to a small group at the center, but every organizer of a shop nucleus must become a leader. Our party leadership must be increased by hundreds.

There is only one place where our membership will learn intelligent leadership—in The Workers' School!

Comrades! We must bend all our energies to the raising of funds to build such a school!

Remember! This is the final week for a larger and a better equipped Workers' School. Help Build it, and then use it!

Let our slogan be:

A larger Workers' School for the building of a mass party in the United States!
