

Daily Worker Raises $1,240

New efforts to meet a financial deficit of The Daily Worker raised $1,240 at a meeting of 180 persons Saturday, Simon W. Gerson, executive editor, reported yesterday. Plans were made to obtain $25,000 more by Dec. 31. The session at Academy Hall, 853 Broadway, heard Max Gordon of the Communist newspaper's staff report that a recent cut from eight pages to four pages would reduce the annual deficit from $275,000 to $160,000.

The New York Times

Published: October 28, 1957

Copyright © The New York Times