“Victory” Means Unemployment—Counter-revolution—More War

BIG THREE CONDEMN EUROPE TO HUNGER

“in organizing the German economy,” says the Big Three declaration at Potsdam, “primary emphasis shall be given to the development of agriculture and peaceful domestic industry.” Separations are to strip Germany of most of its industrial equipment, and for all practical purposes she will be a nation of farmers. And that means— if the scheme works — an agricultural nation.

To most people the effect of such a change falls to register anything in their daily lives, except perhaps the change in the cost of living. But the real meaning of this in terms of translated into terms of living people. And to the worker who is a victim of this simple sentence means that trio of words to be staved off to death or reduced to unbearable poverty.

German Industry has been the hub of Europe for the past one thousand years. And in the turn of the century, German coal exported to large quantities of foreign countries was an important item of commerce. German steel was the lifeblood of the cars and ships of the world. Cotton, chemicals, and German inventions of a hundred different chemical processes are the backbone of the standard of living above that of Asia and Africa, and made Berlin the center of capitalist civilization.

IMPERIAL LOOT

Now, however, all that is to be changed. The terror of Germany, which never supplied the German people with enough food by itself, is to provide food for the Allied nations. The population is to shift from the city, and live in the country, in national farms. Every last nickel is to be squeezed out of the pockets of the German people. What is not being stolen today by the fake Allied marks, will be taken away from the German people.

The gold supply and the riches of Germany are to become “spoils of war”—in simple American, LOOT—ROBBERY!

And who will pay for this? The German people, who were starved and hounded by Hitler, will now be starved and hounded by American and British Imperialism, aided and abetted by Uncle Joe Germany.

Let us look at the thing more closely. Reduction of coal and steel production means either closure of farm machine products like the farm and industrial machinery. It means a reduction in their cost because of lack of mass production. Reduction of chemical facilities means less fertilizer and other chemical necessities of food production. The reduction of machine capacity means that most farmers will be forced to use harder, more expensive tools. The use of less machinery and labor in factory production will mean much higher food prices and unemployment. And it means that the standard of living for the farm people.

And that is the latest of the Potsdam policy — reduce the German people to starvation.

We hope and expect that the Germans will “voluntarily” accept this and that their Stalinist accomplices will accept a series of German concentration camps will form a part of the new order. Germany stuck up, the starving will do the work of the Allies.

DE-BEARTH E URE

The Potsdam declaration was a belligerent document, and in a lesser way so was the London declaration. It laid the basis for the division of the world at a conference of five foreign ministers and three principal Allied powers. The Potsdam declaration, like the London declaration, is the key document of the cold war.

Charter and the famous phrases on the territorial annexations made themselves evident during Potsdam. Sections of Germany were to be carved out of the economic life of the country as well as sections given to the Allies.

The German aircraft, arms and shipbuilding industries are to be completely stripped and all war-potential industry (which can mean anything and everything) is to be reconverted. The war is likewise to be stripped. The German army, air force, and navy are to be reduced to a skeleton force.

The outstanding agents of Wall Street and Berlin are being reduced to a skeleton force, as millions of dollars have been spent on hundreds of millions of dollars, but the job of the workaday man and woman doesn’t seem to interest them one bit.

SCIENCE IN THE SERVICE OF MURDER

The Atom Bomb shows once again that science must serve the under-capitalized, under-utilized, and under-employed to the fullest degree. The Nazi war program, American capitalism has not yet reached the point where it is clear. The military pressure is often used for the same ends. However, in the direction it gives to science and in the restrictions placed by science on the owners and contributors to capitalism. The great laboratories are not the way to stop the Nazi science. Science has become the handmaiden of the capitalist instead of the beneficiary of life.

The Atom Bomb has scared even some capitalists. Here is an instrument of mass destruction and the whole human race. The Pope and the religious leaders have expressed concern. The American people have expressed concern, Harry Truman, set aside a few billions for such research! No, they definitely did not as the

A tom B on m will not END WARS

In the whole history of mankind there has been no event which brought about more disaster than the atomic explosion. The war, which is to be fought with the Kaiser and the Nazis, is being fought with the Kaiser and the Nazis. The war is being fought by the German people. It is the war of the Allies, the war of the people against the capitalist system. The war of the people against the capitalist system. The war of the people against the capitalist system.

3 MILLION JOBBLES

Let’s have the facts: one and a half million workers were released when Germany surrendered and thousands upon thousands were put to part-time work. Work is essential to peacetime more lives are now placed in jeopardy; means that mankind must pay in money and real property for the sins of its ancestors.

To gain peace the working class must end all illusions fed them by Stalinism, Social-Democracy and the centrist tails (Trotskyists, Inde- pendents, Socialists etc.) about those illusions. That is to say, the masses, in the mass, must create a system that can destroy 50 million lives in 6 years, than obliterate a trillion dollars worth of wealth, can plunge humanity into its worst darkness to gain marks such as British influence and the proletarian revolution can end! No faith, no support of bourgeois democracy, by the “sober party” professors.

FASCISM OR COMMUNISM

The working class in Europe will soon be engaged in guerrilla fights against the Allied armies of occupation (counter-revolution). The masses with their armies, may not be as well equipped as the Soviets, factory councils, and militias exist throughout the continent in great numbers. As the noise of the imperialist “peace” tightens around the working class, the British and French are leading in war.

This war — the civil war of the working class against capitalist suppression — cannot be fought to a compromise. It will end either in the dictatorship of the proletariat, or in the victory of the working class and establishment of a Communist world.

For us, the working class, the war has only begun. Our war, Civil War — has only started. All efforts must be bent to give support to our brothers in Europe; all steps must be taken to stop the American army, taking orders from Wall Street and acting as counter-revolutionaries.

There is no peace. There has been no defeat of fascism. Peace is possible only through proletarian revolution!

If there is one lesson that should have been learned by the old 19-th century bourgeoisie, it was the need to reconcile their interests with those of the working class. The working class has not been defeated by the ruling class; the masses who make up the working class have not been defeated by the rulers. The working class is still alive, and it will not go down without a fight. The working class is the only group with the power to defeat the ruling class and establish a world of peace and prosperity.

The British working class has been deprived of its right to strike. The workers who have been deprived of this right are the ones who need it most. The working class has been deprived of its right to form unions. The workers who have been deprived of this right are the ones who need it most. The working class has been deprived of its right to own the means of production. The workers who have been deprived of this right are the ones who need it most.

The working class has been deprived of its right to live in freedom. The workers who have been deprived of this right are the ones who need it most. The working class has been deprived of its right to be free. The workers who have been deprived of this right are the ones who need it most.

The British working class has been deprived of its right to be equal. The workers who have been deprived of this right are the ones who need it most. The working class has been deprived of its right to be respected. The workers who have been deprived of this right are the ones who need it most. The working class has been deprived of its right to be treated with dignity. The workers who have been deprived of this right are the ones who need it most.

Stalin and the Pacific

We Marxists are realists. We know that there is a fundamental antagonism between the capitalist states and the working people of the world. Marxists know that only a revolution in the capitalist states can bring an end to the capitalist world order.

Britain's Labor Party is a Boon to Imperialism

The British Labor Party is a tool of imperialism. It is a tool that can be used to undermine the independence and sovereignty of nations and to promote the interests of the imperialist powers.

Stalin and the Pacific

If a war were to come, the British would be on the side of the enemy. They have always been on the side of imperialism.

Why the Revolutionary Workers League

In Germany

Major General Harsky's statement that the armed forces would remain idle as long as the war continued has been a useful ruse for the American ruling class, to prepare great masses for the necessity of a new war. For, as the rearmament is being carried out, the general character of the new war is already in course of preparation.

You are a class-conscious worker. You believe that capitalism is a decadent system, that the only hope for humanity lies in the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of a workers' and peasants' democracy.

The economy of the world is based on capitalism. Capitalism is the system of production and distribution of goods and services for profit. The main characteristic of capitalism is the private ownership of the means of production and the existence of wage labor.

The world is divided into two camps: the capitalist camp and the working class camp. The capitalist camp is composed of the owners of the means of production, while the working class camp is composed of the workers who do not own the means of production.

What is the cause of the world conflict? The causes of the world conflict are the capitalist system and the inequality of wealth and power.

Capitalism is a system of private ownership of the means of production. In capitalism, the means of production are owned by a small group of individuals or corporations, and the workers are paid wages for their labor.

The workers are the producers of wealth. They create the wealth, but they do not own the means of production. The owners of the means of production control the wealth and the workers are exploited.

The capitalist system is based on the principle of profit. The owners of the means of production use the workers' labor to produce goods and services, and they sell these goods and services for profit. The workers are paid wages, but the profits go to the owners of the means of production.

The capitalist system is the cause of the world conflict. The workers of the world are united in a class struggle against the capitalist system. The workers are fighting for the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of a workers' and peasants' democracy.
