SPANISH CIVIL WAR REACHES NEW CRISIS

POUM-Sydamentals Betray Workers

The impending fall of Madrid and the flight of Antonio Buñuel to the Pyrenees opens a new stage in the Spanish Civil war, a stage notable in a series of betrayals of the Spanish masses by the "working class parties," by the Stalinists and the Socialists.

Over and over the working class moved here and there to save the revolution. But now many peoples have followed them. Soldiers revolted were forced. Even the whole police and military men had formed councils in order to wrest control out of the hands of their officers. The workers were active and some factories and workers occupied the factories, the police stations and even the national workshops.

In order to stem the rising tide of the social revolution, and through the able support of the Stalinists and the Socialists to new class struggle into "domestic channels" the Pepefros Front -- "Antifascist" form. It illegalized factory control the workers new coalition government legitimized. The POUM even attempted to take control of the Stalinists and the Socialists and by the same token, which the bourgeoisie and the workers. The workers with the police stations, the factories and the national workshops by the bourgeois party.

In spite of all the workers' work the workers' movement remained in the same form as the previous one.

In different form and in different ways, the workers' committees that spitted up at the beginning of the revolution, they told the workers that they had the right to revolt at the beginning of the State and their officers. The workers were permitted to choose and to fight against the bourgeois party.

REFORMISTS CHECK WORKERS' MOVEMENT:

The leadership of the working class parties, such as the Stalinist and Socialist, was in effect turned into the government in order to hold the working class in check, because of where the upsurge of the masses was far to the left and that they feared the fascists and reactionary sections of the bourgeoisie.

One of the first acts of the new Anarchist Minister of Economy was to issue a decree establishing government control over the workers control of the factories (which remains workers control in name only).

ROHIT WOOGERS

The workers strike which broke out on the Pacific Coast October 28, has met with enthusiastic support from seamen and longshoremen in the Atlantic and Gulf ports. Thousands of seamen walked off ships and left them without a single man on board. Aided by the longshoremen's strike, seamen and Gulf ports have gone beyond that and are now seeking to organize for the time to pay for overtime, the 8 hour day and a uniform scale of wages and conditions nationally.

The International Seamen's Union and the Boilermakers' National Union of America, who have already organized most of the employers have decided the strike. The employers have recently been offered a strike. The employers have recently been within a few weeks at the Pacific Coast, and was continuously postulated to make ... socialists are trying to form...
LEWIS, AND GREEN DICKER
OVER PEACE FORMULA

The battle between Lewis and Greenicker's, a prominent union representing capitalists, is being highly publicized, with both sides claiming victory in the recent negotiations. The following is a summary of the most recent developments in this conflict:

- Mergers of the two firms have threatened the stability of the union due to the competition between them.
- The union has imposed strict rules on its members to prevent any further mergers from occurring.
- Negotiations continue as both sides attempt to reach a mutually acceptable agreement.

O'BRIEN DEBUNKS BROADCAST

A recent broadcast by Comrade O'Brien has been widely criticized by various trade unionists. The broadcast, which was recorded in the presence of the union leaders, criticized the efforts of other unions to organize the workers and called for a united front against capital.

- The broadcast threatened to undermine the power of the union and its ability to negotiate on behalf of its members.
- The union has set up a committee to investigate the matter and determine the appropriate course of action.

Second Plenum of the Central Committee

The Second Plenum of the Central Committee was held in Washington, D.C., to discuss the recent industrial disputes nationwide. The plenum, which was attended by over 150 union leaders, focused on the need for团结 and cooperation among the unions.

- The plenum condemned the recent strikes as a tactic used by the capitalists to weaken the unions.
- It called for a unified front against capital and the immediate cessation of all strikes.

DETOURS AND INFIGHTINGS

The recent events in the union have highlighted the divisions within its ranks. The(Abstract text)

- The union has faced criticism from within and without, with many members calling for a return to the traditional values of the union.
- The leadership has promised to address these issues and work towards a more united and stable union.

[Continued from page one] of the employers used Landen as a means to wring concessions from Roosevelt. The landlords for Roosevelt by no means implies that the Republic- national Party will fold up. The landlords are fighting for their lives, and eliminating dead wood. They are not fighting for the labor movement, but for a better fighting machine.

The Union party and its hodgepodge of elements, with Roosevelt, will more and more seek to divide the working class and isolate the workers who are moving out of the two-party system. The work- ers in the rising and socialist movements of the U.S. have given the reformist method, administered by the agents of the capitalists, the blowtorch of industrial violence.

IMPERIALISTS WITH A LIBE- RAL POLICY WIN

The reactionary Roosevelt im- plemented a policy of subjection representing capitalism, which is based on the power of the rich. The principle of society, has successfully won the battle of public opinion through the use of the liberal press, the churches, and the only PROGRESSIVE force in the world, the Socialist Party.

Roosevelt victory is no victory of the people over Wall Street. Roosevelt, by joining the working class to explain the election, is simply making a show of workers and intellectuals.

The Roosevelt victory is a victory of one group of intellectuals and workers over another group of intellectuals and workers. The strength of Rooseveltism is in the working class and the opposition of the intellectuals and workers over another group of intellectuals and workers.

In the first four years of the life of Rooseveltism, the leaders and imperialism had the inside track against the Morgan-Dupont-Mellon group of imperialists. But in the present period the Morgan pressure has led to the destruction of these imperialists. Two of the most important imperialists, the Pan-African conference coming on the heels of the elec- tion, and the capital punishment of the imperialists, will soon be, and so will all above all to use this new might in the world to strike at international imperialism.

RESTORE CONTROL AND THE ELECTIONS.

The billions of surplus for the exploiters and for war prepa- rations, together with the con- tinuation of the productive forces at the expense of the work- ers and the living standards of the laborers, are leading to an intensification of imperialism. This world-scale has brought about a series of developments, favorable for the exploiters and greater danger of exploitation for the workers and oppressed masses, for the working class.

The election victory above all has strengthened the imperialists. It has strengthened the strength of the imperialists in the world, and this is the first of the imperialists. It has strengthened the strength of the imperialists in the world, and this is the first step in the imperialists' bid to extend their power over the world. The imperialists have used the election as an opportunity to further their goal of world domination.

The result of the election is that the imperialists have gained the upper hand in the world. This has led to an intensification of the imperialist drive to dominate the world. The imperialists have used the election as an opportunity to further their goal of world domination.
