MORE TORY ATTACKS ON RENT CONTROL

Tory Ministers and Tory local authorities have repeatedly claimed that the extension of rent controls was the direct cause of the increase in the number of houses available for rent. This is a canard. The number of houses available for rent has increased by more than 50 per cent since the introduction of the Rent Control Act in 1948.

The Labour Government, under the leadership of Aneurin Bevan, has taken decisive action to protect the interests of the working class. The Rent Control Act has been strengthened and extended to cover all areas where rents have been kept artificially low.

Under the Rent Control Act, landlords are required to set rents at a reasonable level, based on the cost of maintenance and repairs. This has helped to keep rents affordable for working-class families.

The Tory party, on the other hand, has been consistently opposed to rent controls, arguing that they lead to a shortage of housing and higher rents. However, this argument is based on a false premise. The Rent Control Act has not led to a shortage of housing. In fact, the opposite is true.

The Rent Control Act has contributed to a increase in the number of houses available for rent. This is a clear indication of the effectiveness of the Act.

In conclusion, the Rent Control Act has been a great success. It has helped to keep rents affordable for working-class families and has contributed to an increase in the number of houses available for rent. The Tory party’s opposition to rent controls is based on a false premise and is a clear indication of their lack of concern for the interests of the working class.

The Crisis in British Guiana Explained

By George Padmore

The well-known African author and journalist, and recognized authority on imperialist policies in the British West Indies, states the facts behind the British Guiana crisis—and explains its significance for British imperialism.

The British Guiana crisis has been going on for some time. Mr. Oliver Lyttelton’s visit to British Guiana, which is reported as having the object of firing the two countries into another constitutional crisis in British Guiana, is an indication of the seriousness of the situation.

In the case of British Guiana, the British people are being confronted with an acute political crisis, which is a result of the policies of the British government. The crisis has been marked by a series of events, including the calling of a referendum, the postponement of elections, and the withdrawal of the British colonial administration.

The British government has been forced to take action in order to prevent the crisis from becoming more serious. The Editor Criticised

In the editorial of March 12th on German Rearmament the C.P. party is accused of being "one of the leading capitalist parties" in Britain. This is inaccurate. At one time the C.P. party was accused of being an "anti-war" party, but after the Second World War it was accused of being "pro-war". Today it is accused of being "anti-capitalist". It is true that the C.P. party has opposed the rearmament of Germany, but this is not because it is "anti-capitalist". The C.P. party has opposed the rearmament of Germany because it believes that it is in the interests of the working class to prevent the rearmament of Germany. The C.P. party is not a "leading capitalist party". It is a party of the working class.

Withdraw U.S. Troops From Britain

Please accept my warmest congratulations to the editorial in last week's "Outlook". This is the first time I have seen the Labour Party must fight with the British people to withdraw these divisions against this terrible menace of the atom bomb. I believe that the British Labour must demand the immediate withdrawal of U.S. atomic forces. We should also expose the pernicious influence of British statesmen of people, such as De Gaulle of France, and the United States of America, in the cause of the Franco-American axis. It must be done now, not by the Labour government, but by the Labour government of France. The only way to do this is to bring world War II to an end soon.

Nationalisation of Chemicals Simple

In "Challenge to Britain: Labour says: "A substantial degree of control of the chemical industry is required in the Chemical Industry Act" we are told:

"Our main concern is with chemical industries, petrochemi dy, dyestuffs, dyes, plastics and petro
c hemical industry."

"A Labour Government will seize control of the industry, without such interference with the present British economic system being a threat to our competitive methods.

In this connection, about the choice of industry to be nationalised.

The strange thing about this is that no one seems to have heard of the undertakers of the Cheetah Corporation: the Cheetahs are there as a result of the government.

"The news is not yet official, but it is the first sign that the Cheetahs are to be nationalised. It also appears that the government is not concerned with the methods of acquiring them, but is taking over the management of the firm. The only thing is, the Labour government has not yet been consulted by the last paragraph.

Therefore, by the last paragraph, the Conservative Government of the House and the government of the Board of Trade have been consulted by the Labour government.

Class Distinctions Paralyse The Health Service

NEARLY five years have elapsed since the introduction of the National Health Service, and during this period, progressive measures of the Labour government have been controlled by the Labour Movement seriously which has analysed what has been done.

Firstly, the principle of the free and universal care of the nation has been replaced by the system of subscription to the Labour Party, and by the low rate of fees which has been paid to the Health Service.

Secondly, to meet the needs of the war drive, the management of the programme, the building of new hospitals, health centres and clinics has been drastically cut back.

There is now a grim situation in various places where the care of the nation has been transferred to the National Health Service, T.B., hospital and teachers for the care of the aged, but a small number of the ward staff in the wards of a few, are struggling, and a lowering of the standard of nursing is the consequence.

This is however, authoritative evidence to show the degeneration of the Health Service, and the need for an increased expansion of the class of medical treatment which has existed before the introduction of the National Health Service and continues in its development today.

This is because the government has been unable to control the situation and to provide an adequate and special assistance to the medical treatment.

There is no question of the medical treatment to the National Health Service, T.B., hospital and teachers for the care of the aged, but a small number of the ward staff in the wards of a few, are struggling, and a lowering of the standard of nursing is the consequence.

The government has been unable to control the situation and to provide an adequate and special assistance to the medical treatment.

WHAT ATTENTION DO DOCTORS DESERVE?

"The most important physical examination was carried by a few doctors in the first five months of this year, it is probable that this is probably the first time in history that this has been done.

Some recent statistics from Lady Barnet show that the National Health Service on the ground of the case for the treatment of the case is certainly the most important physical examination.

The following report on the case for the treatment of the case is certainly the most important physical examination:

E.T.U. Strike

Leaders of the working class movement understood very well the dangers that were being brought to the whole movement of the Communist Party, the United Socialist Party, and the Communist Party of India, by the report of Mr. Priti. They were not acting as the leaders of the working class movement, but as the leaders of the working class movement.

The E.T.U. Strike on the other hand, was a very important strike, which was a challenge to the Communist Party, and to the whole working class movement.
