Socialist Worker

For workers control and international socialism

122 15 May 1969 every Thursday 3d

EDITORIAL

THE DANGERS RESULTING FROM THE PROPOSALS OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT TO STRENGTHEN THE UNION LAWS ARE CLEAR.

COMPROMISE means capitulation to anti-union hysteria

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

The government's proposals are a clear attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.

THE INDEPENDENT UNION RIGHTS movements in Britain have been under attack for some time, and the government is now proposing to strengthen the union laws. The government's proposals are a direct attack on the rights of workers, and they are being implemented without any consultation with the workers themselves. The proposals include a strengthening of the anti-strike laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to take action against their employers. The proposals also include a strengthening of the anti-union laws, which would make it more difficult for workers to form unions and to have their rights protected.
When the ruling class lived in fear of workers’

AMERICA

The lunatic rat race of the four-wheeled lemon industry

by CHARLES DENBY

DETROIT, Michigan. — Seven years ago, when Ralph Nader’s book "Rex the Rat" was published, the automobile companies on safety, pointing out the defects of the cars they were building, cars many workers had driven home many hours a day. But in the months that followed, production lines to a pace, and workers were forced to work without adequate quality control instead of quantity. In the following years, many workers knew that this would not improve but get worse.

Save breath. I know that we have all been forced to campaign for our pay, and that the company has not listened, and it has never heard. I also know that the company has not listened, and that they have never cared. But in the end, we will all be winners.

I have been an auto worker for 20 years, and I have seen more than my share of strikes. I know that the company will try to stop us, but we will not be stopped. We will fight for our rights, and we will not give up. And when we win, we will all be winners.

Cardboard sign

The last time I was home, I was asked if I would be interested in driving for the company. I said yes. But I was not interested in the job, and I was not interested in the company. I was just interested in the money. But when I got home, I found that the company had given me a job, and I was not interested in the job, and I was not interested in the company. I was just interested in the money.

When the company asked me if I would be interested in driving for the company, I said yes. But I was not interested in the job, and I was not interested in the company. I was just interested in the money. But when I got home, I found that the company had given me a job, and I was not interested in the job, and I was not interested in the company. I was just interested in the money.

Theinic rat race

The part of the car that was always the most worn was the seat. The seat was always the worst. The part of the car that was always the most worn was the seat. The seat was always the worst.

Mad rush

Somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, somehow, some...
Campaign back fights for Palestine freedom

The following manifesto has been published by the Palestine Solidarity Campaign, which is based in London.

A PEOPLE'S STRUGGLE. A PEOPLE'S STRUGGLE. A PEOPLE'S STRUGGLE. A PEOPLE'S STRUGGLE. A PEOPLE'S STRUGGLE.

The people of Palestine are fighting for their freedom. They are fighting for their land and for their future. They are fighting against the Israeli occupation and for the right to return to their homes. They are fighting for justice and for equality. They are fighting for their rights as human beings.

We, the people of the world, are standing in solidarity with the people of Palestine. We are supporting their struggle for freedom. We are calling on the international community to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the United Nations to take action to end the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the United Nations to take action to ensure that the people of Palestine have the right to return to their homes.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the United States to end its support for the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the United States to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the United Kingdom to end its support for the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the United Kingdom to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the European Union to end its support for the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the European Union to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the Arab League to end its support for the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the Arab League to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the Palestinian people to continue their struggle for freedom. We are calling on the Palestinian people to continue their struggle for justice and for equality.

We, the people of the world, are standing in solidarity with the people of Palestine. We are supporting their struggle for freedom. We are calling on the international community to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the United Nations to take action to end the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the United Nations to take action to ensure that the people of Palestine have the right to return to their homes.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the United States to end its support for the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the United States to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the United Kingdom to end its support for the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the United Kingdom to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the European Union to end its support for the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the European Union to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are calling on the Arab League to end its support for the Israeli occupation of Palestinian soil. We are calling on the Arab League to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.

We, the people of the world, are standing in solidarity with the people of Palestine. We are supporting their struggle for freedom. We are calling on the international community to support the people of Palestine in their fight for freedom.
SW Reporter

A NEW RENTS threat to London tenants was issued by the Tory chairman of the GLC planning and housing committee last week for GLC tenants this autumn when the Minister for Planning and Housing, Mr Kenneth Baker, indicated this week.

The GLC has already planned an increase of 7.5% for this autumn and it is thought that the final figure will be in the region of any thousands of tenants in the Greater London area.

Speaking to the quired National Property Owners' Protection Association, Cllr Bacon spoke of the defence of private landlords when he told a group of tenants that they faced the same problems as their rent control legislation.

Gibberish

All the local press in this ignorant gibberish is increasing the panoply of the homeless, and we will help private landlords as they please for their social security. What it does mean is that the homeless are stripped of their housing, and the landlords are given more power and money, and the tenants who have lived in the area for many years are losing their homes.

Any attempt to increase GLC rents again will be met with a massive revolt on the estates.

The United Property Action Committee, which represents many of the private estates in the Greater London area, has continually warned tenants by their demands that the GLC is not a government.

The attempt to increase GLC rents is the last straw for both the GLC and the GLC tenants.

Sit-in car workers protest at use of police

Tribune

IT has been brought to our attention by the Social Worker that the Police, on April 23, 1969, took action which outlined new methods of dealing with rent officers. We are told by the Social Worker that the police used a method of patrol that was described to them by Mr. David Turner, a member of the Management Committee.

The editor of the Social Worker had not been consulted, nor had she consented to such a method of action.

It is important to understand that the police, under Mr. David Turner, are working in a different manner and that the police are under the instruction of the Government.

We need to understand that the police are working in a different manner and that they are under the instruction of the Government.

Dave McLean

Linwood, 2000 day shift workers at Ford's Scottish car plant occupied the factory for four hours on Tuesday.

They were protesting against the use of police to protect the factory and several operations of the workers who had started working on the main line of the factory.

Monday's strike was in response to the police's actions of the previous day. Men were interviewed at the lunch break and the factory was occupied at a faster pace. The workers claimed that their action on Tuesday until the management agreed to drop their demands for faster work.

But at the same time a further 1000 workers at the Ford's Scottish car plant occupied the factory and the management offered to give the workers what they wanted. The workers who had started working on the main line of the factory were welcomed back.

The factory was occupied by the police and the workers were offered to give the workers what they wanted. The workers who had started working on the main line of the factory were welcomed back.

NOTICES

MANCHESTER Public meeting with Dr. John F. Foster, May 3rd, 1969. The Manchester Public Meeting will be held on May 3rd, 1969.

Irish Exiles' Association

James Connolly Commemoration

Social and Dance

Kings Head, Fulham Broadway, SW6

Saturday 17th May 1969 from 8 pm to 11.45 pm

Music by the "Saltash" Group

Ballads Singers: Special Guests
Bar to 11.45 pm REFRESHMENTS Tickets £1

Rory Sweeney, Dylan Jones, Pat Stewart, Mike Coughlan

Saltash Group

BY FRIDAY NIGHT three students of the London School of Economics were in a prison cell for breach of an order giving them the right to meet. The students, who are currently facing trial in the High Court, have been charged with contempt of court.

The students, who are currently facing trial in the High Court, have been charged with contempt of court.

The students, who are currently facing trial in the High Court, have been charged with contempt of court.

The students, who are currently facing trial in the High Court, have been charged with contempt of court.

The students, who are currently facing trial in the High Court, have been charged with contempt of court.

UNION LAWS — from page one

The courts have consistently ruled that there is no such thing as an 'independent' body. In other words, they are political, and are the new political parties.

The Social Worker Society is a union of the political parties, and has a call for a renewed strike against the High Court in a demonstration outside the High Court in London on May 17th, 1969.

Rory Sweeney, Dylan Jones, Pat Stewart, Mike Coughlan

HORSEY evicted

(see back page)

(see back page)

(see back page)

(see back page)

(see back page)