McGann calls for ending of Unionist regime

DERRY DEFIES THE ARMY: 'BARRICADES STAY UP'

From FRED MOLSON

Derry: The first public meeting to be held since the fighting started took place on Sunday at the Wellington Street barricade. Despite the pouring rain, 1,000 people heard Manus McGann call for Prime Minister Chichester-Clark's statement that the Derry barricades must and would come down.

McGann made it clear that the barricades will come down after the fall of Unionism and not before. Free Derry was won in three days' fighting and it will not be sacrificed, he declared.

At another meeting, Sean Keenan of the Derry Christian Defence Association stated that the British Army would never come in unless it was invited in.

Later, the Defence Association voted unanimously to reject the idea that the barricades put forward by the British Army. This was a call on the free Derry census to defy the army and to make a stand.

The mood of welcome for the Army has changed dramatically since its first time in the town.

And the Army has warned by agitating the Royal Ulster Constabulary in a raid on two houses near here. More than 350 people have been arrested in this area. The press has been able to find the raid was announced by the Royal Ulster Constabulary, a major police force in the United Kingdom.

DOUBT

The situation, however, is different as both the Army and the press are not sure who is to blame for the current state of affairs.

The press is under constant surveillance. A helicopter equipped with cameras has been flying over the Field of Dreams, carrying out a round-the-clock driving survey. And a Det. Chief Superintendent for the Royal Ulster Constabulary has been placed in charge of the area.

The Special Constabulary are said to have finished their task.

\n\n\nFINISH

The situation remained unchanged and the police and the Army continued to patrol the streets.

There were no reports of arrests or clashes. The situation was calm and the police and the Army continued to patrol the streets.

BERKELEY, California - Bob Marley, chairman of the Black Panther Party, was arrested here by FBI agents as he was packing up his car to leave for a Black Panther Party meeting. Marley has denied any involvement in the shooting.

At the Federal Court in San Francisco in a pre-injunction hearing, the FBI claimed that the Black Panther Party had been involved in a series of bombings and had been planning similar attacks.

The independent National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which represents the Black Panthers, has denied the allegations.

The FBI was released on a $500,000 bond. The trial is set for February 10.
WHILST I WOULD welcome the views of the various types of persons living in the situation in N. Ireland, in the situation in N. Ireland, I believe that in a letter to the Irish in the direction of the Irish people, I must make a final point.

Although I support the general positions taken by the Irish socialist movement, I would like to make a few points about the Irish socialist movement. First, I believe that the Irish socialist movement should be more open to new ideas. Second, I believe that the Irish socialist movement should be more inclusive. Finally, I believe that the Irish socialist movement should be more active in supporting the rights of the working class.

Despite these points, I remain optimistic about the future of the Irish socialist movement. I believe that it has the potential to become a force for change in Ireland.
The violent invasion of a society which discovered a site and working class structures to combat the success of the new working class and to assert their own identity. The working class movement has been developed in the context of the working class struggle, both in Europe and in the rest of the world. The class struggle has been a struggle for proletarian autonomy and the destruction of the capitalist system. The working class movement has been able to transform its strategy and tactics, to adapt to new situations and to develop new forms of organisational practice. This has been due to the development of the working class movement itself, as well as to the impact of the international socialist movement. The working class movement is not only a struggle for the liberation of the working class, but also a struggle for the liberation of all humanity.
