THE TAMESIDE JUDGEMENT:

AS BENT AS A

£4 NOTE

Lord Wilberforce

Sir Henry Bownes, 70, an Oxford University, 3600 shares ordinary £1

parson and former M.P. for Oxford University. 3600 shares ordinary £1 shares in Shell Transport and Trading, 600 in University of Oxford. 1100 ordinary £1 shares in

Imperial Tobacco. 27,410 in Corus, £1 in and 3000 in

Lord Dilhorne

Eton public school and Oxford

University. 1100 ordinary £1 shares in

Ships Transport and Trading, 600 in

Imperial Tobacco, 5000 in Corus, 678 in Field Internationale.

Lord Diplock

Whitechapel and Newbury schools. 480 shares in Oxford University, chairman. National Security Commission. Wife owns 200 ordinary £1 shares in

Ships Transport and Trading, 644 in

Sears Holdings, 600 in Persimmon, 712 in Great Universal Stores, and 1600 in Alfred Browne.

Lord Russell of Killowen

Bowes-Lyon public school and Oxford

University. 853 ordinary £1 shares in

Unilever, 1440 in Imperial Tobacco, 3915 in

GKN, 465 in Persimmon, 1500 in

Teeside 1045 in Shell and 187 in British American Tobacco.

That is why judges have, in recent years, been unanimously endorsed by the Labour Party as suckers...the traits of sectional interest,

ADDITIONS

Lord Dilhorne

Eton public school and Oxford University. 1100 ordinary £1 shares in Shell Transport and Trading, 600 in Imperial Tobacco, 27,410 in Corus, 5000 in Imperial Tobacco and 678 in Field International.

Lord Diplock

Lord Russell of Killowen

Bowes-Lyon public school and Oxford University. 853 ordinary £1 shares in Unilever, 1440 in Imperial Tobacco, 3915 in GKN, 465 in Persimmon, 1500 in Teesside, 1045 in Shell and 187 in British American Tobacco.

That is why judges have, in recent years, been unanimously endorsed by the Labour Party as suckers...the traits of sectional interest,

ADDITIONS

Lord Dilhorne

Eton public school and Oxford University. 1100 ordinary £1 shares in Shell Transport and Trading, 600 in Imperial Tobacco, 27,410 in Corus, 5000 in Imperial Tobacco and 678 in Field International.

Lord Diplock

Lord Russell of Killowen

Bowes-Lyon public school and Oxford University. 853 ordinary £1 shares in Unilever, 1440 in Imperial Tobacco, 3915 in GKN, 465 in Persimmon, 1500 in Teesside, 1045 in Shell and 187 in British American Tobacco.

That is why judges have, in recent years, been unanimously endorsed by the Labour Party as suckers...the traits of sectional interest,

ADDITIONS

Lord Dilhorne

Eton public school and Oxford University. 1100 ordinary £1 shares in Shell Transport and Trading, 600 in Imperial Tobacco, 27,410 in Corus, 5000 in Imperial Tobacco and 678 in Field International.

Lord Diplock

Lord Russell of Killowen

Bowes-Lyon public school and Oxford University. 853 ordinary £1 shares in Unilever, 1440 in Imperial Tobacco, 3915 in GKN, 465 in Persimmon, 1500 in Teesside, 1045 in Shell and 187 in British American Tobacco.

That is why judges have, in recent years, been unanimously endorsed by the Labour Party as suckers...the traits of sectional interest,
OPPORTEN OF ABORTION GO ON THE OFFENSIVE

The final report of the Parliamentary Select Committee on abortion was published in 1972 and has been the subject of much discussion and debate since then. The report recommended that abortion should be legalised under certain circumstances, and this has been the case in many countries around the world. However, there are still countries where abortion is illegal or highly restricted, and this has led to a continued struggle for reproductive rights.

The report by MARGARET RENN

The anti-abortion lobby has been active in attempting to block any changes to the law, and this has led to a continued struggle for reproductive rights in many countries.

Defence groups on patrol

The BACATAR group, one of the many anti-abortion groups, patrol the streets to keep an eye on those who are seeking to have an abortion. They believe that abortion is a moral issue, and that it should be illegal.

The sufficiency of abortion continues to be a topic of discussion and debate, with opponents and supporters of abortion having differing views on the matter.
The man that Labour chose the last time

JOHN STONEHOUSE
First elected MP in 1957

JIMMY MCCALLUM
Will be Socialist Worker's candidate in the Walsall North parliamentary by-election. He became a socialist through involvement in the 1959 engineering apprentices' strike and later joined the Labour Party. He left the Labour Party after the betrayal of the miners' strike in 1984, and the Wilson government's wage freezes.

Jimmy McCallum joined the International Socialists in 1971, leaving the Upper Clyde Shipbuilders fight on Clydeside, along with many other workers.

The man that socialists must vote for now!

Socialist Worker fighting fund off to a flying start!
MAJOR civil engineering firms throughout the country have received a rather unusual letter from George Henderson of the Transport and General Workers Union.

Henderson is succeeding Les Kemp as national secretary of the building and construction section of the TGWU.

The letter is signed off with a Les Kemp testimonial fund. It says about Kemp: ‘‘Many people who value the service he has given in the civil engineering industry have suggested that his effort should be recognised by the establishment of a testimonial fund.’’

After losing Kemp’s contract to a competitor, the last paragraph reads: ‘‘You must feel worth of recognition and thankfulness of the fund to contribute to this testimonial fund and I am invited to send donations to the Ting Todd Mainstream Bank, c/o Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kemp, 50 Swinton Road, in favour of the ‘Leslie Kemp Testimonial Fund.’’

At least £50 has been collected and a total of £139 is expected from employees loyal to Les Kemp.

The letter did not anticipate the reaction of the TGWU, for the Sunday Express, only too happy with a free story about a feud between unionists, presented ‘‘who has been made known he was leaving the world of medical practice.’’

There is a report of a visit to the TGWU building earlier in the week by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kemp because they had an offer of £1,000 from Jack Jones and the union did not state whether it was in respect of the testimonial fund.

It seems George Henderson was just doing the employees a favour sending the letter for them.

The Federation of Civil Engineering Contractors told Socialist Worker that the tentative committee certainly didn’t come from them but was ‘‘suggested by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kemp.’’

Of course individual employees may have been enthusiastic about Kemp’s services that they asked the TGWU to send a copy of the letter to them and that they would send it on to him.

Banket

The banket is a very simple one. Shout perhaps the best thing for the first time by Jack Jones and the letter asking for money had gone out.

Whatever else the plans for the money, Les Kemp won’t be so worried. Apart from the payment of around £1,000 each from the union he has a few other jobs lined up.

A special note is the provision of £1,000 for the retraining of the Construction Industry Training Board. This is worth £1,000.

Some workers have been warned that if they don’t get a job in this week’s pay it will be made by workers’ control and subject to recall.

Those who work at the heart of the labour movement, it’s said, are those who are paid in concrete and not the back of a cheque book. It may not be a good thing for the TGWU but it should be a good thing for the workers.”

Breach

The purpose of our organisation is to support the working class by helping to develop the consciousness of the working class. In this, help should be given to groups that have a common cause.

From long and bitter experience it is clear that the Trotskyist organisation, the Workers’ Unity, have a common cause in the field of trade union and civil rights movements.

Management should be seen as the best way to secure these rights. We, as a group, are committed to the support of these movements.

No management plans the amalgamation of the people with the employers. The abolition of ‘‘worker control’’ is the end of the struggle. We should be encouraged to re-establish the TGWU with a socialist programme.

We, therefore, call for the immediate dissolution of the TGWU and the immediate reinstatement of all TGWU members who have been dismissed for joining the TGWU.
I was on the Jarrow march—and I’ll be on this one!

JOHN THOMSON was 15 years old and on the dole when he went on the Jarrow March. Now he’s 59 and on the dole and going on the Right to Work March.

"It’s the only way the government and trade union leaders are going to take any notice," he told Socialist Worker. "The clock is turning full circle. There’s mass unemployment already and more to come. It will be back to the Thirties.

"I don’t want the Jarrow March to finish now. The fight is just beginning."

John Thomson, a former miner, sentenced to six months in 1936 for taking part in a strike, has joined the UNEMPLOYED MARCH BRIGHTON.

AND THE RIGHT TO CANOE!

MERSEY TROTTERS join the campaign

"Our T-shirts are made of cotton and the occasional man’s shirt is made of wool."

"To make T-shirts, we knit the yarn, thread the loom, and print the design."

"We sell our T-shirts at the march for 50p, and the money goes to the campaign."

"Our slogan is ‘Mersey Trotters, we will never give up!‘"

"We have already sold 1,000 T-shirts and we want to sell 5,000 more."

"We are not just a T-shirt campaign. We are a march campaign."

"We want to link the March to Work campaigns across the country."

"We are petitioning the government to give us a fair hearing."

"Our slogan is ‘We demand a living wage for all!‘"

"We are not just a T-shirt campaign. We are a march campaign."

"We are peti..."
The cuts and Mr Benn

NOT A SINGING MINISTER, not even a little one, has resigned... The energy minister, Mr Ton Benn, it is true, could not bring himself to go along with Wednesday's meeting of the Labour Party NEC and actually, shave his beard in support of the cuts. He discreetly discovered a backlog of work in his department.

This is the right-wing weekly, the Economist, but it's just giving away Labour's NEC again.

After all the sound and fury from M. Finch, which has denounced the cuts, a major disaster is due to the fractiousness of a home and abroad. But now that not one Tribune minister is willing to sacrifice his salary which he is paid, is all the truth about the government's surrender being business.

It was Mr Benn, washing his hands of the matter, is the nearest we get to protest, and the Tribune MPs on the battlefronts are not even going to organize the cut.

These staunch defenders of the parliamentary system will not even use such opportunities as parliamentary affairs offer to make their protest about policies which this Labour, or so they say, tells us, are absolutely disastrous.

EXCUSE

They will not do it even though the cuts are real that the Tories would refuse to allow us to make our protest and thus show no danger of all at the government.

The case which they neglect is this, that we are subject to the government 'my Lord the Tories. This case, no substance at all in any case—and the Tribes.

The Tribes are one hundred and fifty

SAVAK, possibly the world's most brutal secret police agency, is being dismantled.

SAVAK, possibly the world's most brutal secret police agency, is being dismantled.

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

The government has shown no interest in the establishment of a similar organization.

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.

Breach

In the past, the Iranian authorities, when faced with the brunt of the opposition, would have been the chief instrument for subdue.
Three on hunger strike

THREE Bangladeshis have been on hunger strike for 10,000 days in protest against a death sentence passed on the leader of a Bangladesh socialist party. The JSD are in jail in 1977, and members of the leadership have been tortured. Abu Taher, the JSD leader, the hunger strikers are supporting, may already be dead. The Bangladesh authorities are refusing to give any further information about him.

STOP PRESS: On Tuesday it was announced that Abu Taher had been executed. The hunger strikers have ended their protest.

Food for protest

The food crisis in several Spanish towns has been condemned by those who believe that politics has been introduced into many of the local festivities that take place throughout the summer. Workers are protesting to see the large food quantities as an opportunity to raise political slogans. In Pamplona, for example, the usual running of the bulls has been replaced by a 36-hour food demonstration.

Last week it was the turn of a small Basque town where the annual Pascola festival was being held. Pasa is a Spanish festival, where the participants carry baskets of food, while a group following behind carries the baskets of food. But even worse was the episode when two of the Pascales were sentenced to death in the town of the Basque police state.

FOUR YEARS IN JAIL FOR POLISH STRIKERS

FIVE YEARS in prison for taking industrial action. That was the penalty imposed last week by a Polish court to workers from the giant Lenin tractor factory in Wawrzynow, near Warsaw, who were fined for taking industrial action.

The workers took part in the hunger strike at the end of June which forced the government to withdraw temporarily all food prices increases of 15% per year. At the Lenin plant the workers voted their plant closed by blocking up railway lines and the factory to stop the-flow of parts to Warsaw's South-Eastern zone. The union's leader was arrested and charged with treason.

THE AMNESTY for political prisoners in Spain, announced last weekend will still leave about 400 in jail.

The amnesty does not cover those allegedly connected with terrorism — in particular members of the Basque movement ETA.

Many people in Spain believe that the bombardments that went off at the weekend were planted by the extreme right in an attempt to justify the killings.

THE AMNESTY for political prisoners in Spain, announced last weekend will still leave about 400 in jail.

Did right plant the bombs?
SEVESO: Another outrage from the firm that gave you Valium and Librium

ONE OF THE FIRST victims of the cloud of poison that has hovered for four weeks over the small Italian town of Seveso San Pietro was Roberto Lanzini's cat.

As Roberto picked it up to bury it, the tail fell off. Two days later, he was asked to dig it up for examination. But, by then, nothing was left but the skull. The body had dissolved. There were other victims: dogs, rabbits and hens died suddenly.

And from 12 children were in hospital with swollen faces and fever.

This outrage is, in an industrial disaster—was perpetrated on Sunday 10 July. An area was once a steelworks; it was the site of the Seveso chemical factories owned by the giant Hoffmann-La Roche company.

Dense

The local people are morose, their faces are somber, their stomachs are upset, their heads are pounding. They can't eat or sleep. But if they talk about what happened, if they mention the poison, they are arrested.

As if it were a crime, the workers and families of Seveso were instructed in silence. The city of Milan, where the factory is located, had been under the threat of being isolated by Monday. The workers and families of Seveso were told that they were coming to get the poison and to destroy it.

For three weeks, they are allowed to sell them in the nearby city of Milan, but they are told that they cannot sell them here, and that they have to go to Milan. They are told that they cannot go back to Seveso, and that they have to leave the factory. They are told that they cannot go back to their homes.

The refugees: The same chemical was dropped by the Americans on 6 million acres of Vietnam

Hoffmann-La Roche also manufacture valium and librium, the two most profitable drugs in history. They rake in up to 8000 per cent profit. Their research and development costs are huge, and the drugs are sold at a profit of 90 percent. The цена on valium and librium is high because the demand is high. The high demand is because of the need to control anxiety and stress.

By TIM POTTER, JOANNA ROLLO and IAN GIBSON

This is industrial 'accident'

Dioxin was not the only poison Hoffmann-La Roche sprayed over the Italian countryside. They also flung 1000 kilograms of trichlorophenol into the atmosphere. It produces skin lesions, blistering, and can interfere with breathing. If it gets into the body, it can cause heart attacks, lesions of kidneys and spleen, and cancer. It can also cause brain damage.

Research has shown that trichlorophenol causes mutations in germ cells. This means that, if hundreds of years to come, children will be born deformed as the direct result of this explosion.

Who knows what the final figure will be?
ABOUR: WHY WE'VE QUIT

PLEASE accept my resignation from membership of the Ex- ecutive Committee of the Local Government Committee, and my office as Political Education Officer for the Constituency Party.

I have already resigned as chairman of my branch and as soon as the General Secretary's Committee has received this letter I will be standing as their delegate and challenging my Party membership.

For some time I have been unhappy about the membership of the Party and its limited support for the government's disastrous policies.

I have never had many illusions that socialism could be achieved through the Labour Party. History shows that, in general, in common with those of the Trades Unions, it is likely to eventually sell out to the capitalist system.

However, I did not have the courage to face the obvious evidence of capitalist domination and did not consider that the Party's contribution had fallen into the last place. I thought that when I asked for the socialist alternative I would be able to defend it.

I certainly expected enough such a significant contribution from the system in its work in the fighting of the capitalist state to make it hard to justify the Party's existence in the light of the working class struggle.

Since the election we have had a mere statement by our leader and the government's attack on the Unions has been no more than the usual derisory level of support for the working class struggle.

I have been a member of the Labour Party for several years. During that time I have held many positions. I am not here to oppose the government or its GEC representatives, and the main purpose of the leadership of the Labour Party is to provide conditions for the struggle.

The time has come to build a genuine alternative.

The trade union which has been established in this country is the trade union of the working class. We need a new trade union movement to represent the interests of the working class and to provide a genuine alternative to the present system.

This trade union movement must be radically different from the trade unions of the past. It must be based on the needs of the working class rather than on the needs of the bosses and the rich.

The time has come to build a trade union movement that is truly democratic and representative of the working class. We must have a trade union movement that is truly independent of the capitalist state and that is truly committed to the interests of the working class.

Pledges

Many Labour Party members believe, as I have, that socialism could be achieved through a different form of socialism and its MP's.

To those people I say: Can you remember the speeches and pledges made to you at your last election? Can you remember how your candidate was elected?

There is no point in voting for increases in school milk charges.

To dream without a vision is a dream in vain. We must have a vision of a future society that is truly democratic and represents the interests of the working class.

This is the time to build a genuine alternative to the capitalist state.
NORTH LONDON International Societies held their first ever meeting in Harrow on Saturday at the Betagg. There were about 40 Egyptians in Harrow, and not all of them are neighbours. I had been surprised to find out that the meeting was not attended by any Egyptians in Harrow, and that the entire meeting was held in English. The importance of the coming Right to Work march was also discussed.

Speakers talked about the growing unemployment amongst young people in the community, and the importance of the coming Right to Work march, which was collected on the Right to Work petition, including in Greek and English and T1 was used in help to support the unemployment of Egyptian workers who will be joining the march.

The meeting clearly had an impact on participants. The speakers talked about the Right to Work petition, including in Greek and English and T1 was used in help to support the unemployment of Egyptian workers who will be joining the march.

The meeting clearly had an impact on participants. The speakers talked about the Right to Work petition, including in Greek and English and T1 was used in help to support the unemployment of Egyptian workers who will be joining the march.

The meeting clearly had an impact on participants. The speakers talked about the Right to Work petition, including in Greek and English and T1 was used in help to support the unemployment of Egyptian workers who will be joining the march.

The meeting clearly had an impact on participants. The speakers talked about the Right to Work petition, including in Greek and English and T1 was used in help to support the unemployment of Egyptian workers who will be joining the march.
Man in a crumpled suit?

KARL MARX? Who was he anyway?

I have always thought of him as a short, shaggy-haired old man in a crumpled suit who spent his life sitting in the British Museum in London writing about economics.

More than once people have argued with me about just how old he was and why he did anything with anybody. He just sat around thinking about things. And his friends thought he was even worse. A bit odd, I was told, but very helpful playing workers while pretending to be a socialist.

I know they must be wrong, but I just don’t have the information to back them up. He was a very private man.

A new book, Karl Marx: Master and Fighter, is full of information about Marx and his times. It seems like a real puzzle, the kind Marx, remember, was so good at solving.

"Karl had only ever looked at the world through the eyes of the poor." The book is about the life of Friedrich Engels, Marx’s friend and fellow socialist. It tells the story of how Engels, who was born in 1820, became the master of the working class and how his friendship with Marx helped change the world.

Jenny Jackson reviews a new book about KARL MARX

As though Ron Howard’s new biography of the German philosopher and political activist had been lost in the dust.

After losing university funding, Marx became editor of The New York Times in 1848.

"The book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of the working class." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of Chicago, argues that Marx’s ideas have had a major impact on the development of modern socialism.

"Marx left for Paris, but he was not well enough for his political writing." It was during this period that Marx wrote the Communist Manifesto.

"Marx had to leave his wife and children in Brussels." The author, who is a professor of political science at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that Marx’s wife, Jenny von Westphalen, was a major influence on his political thought.

"Marx didn’t care about his family." The book, which is the first full-length biography of Marx in English, is based on previously unpublished letters and diaries.

"Poverty was the worst of Marx’s problems." The author, who is a professor of economics at the University of Chicago, argues that Marx’s focus on poverty was a major influence on his political thought.

"And in part it’s this struggle that made the product of socialism a reality." The author, who is a professor of philosophy at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that Marx’s ideas have had a major impact on the development of modern socialism.

"Rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation." The author, who is a professor of sociology at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"A struggle against another system that seems to have a different reality about it." The author, who is a professor of political science at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"The book of all this is incomplete." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"Complex is the most important aspect of this book." The author, who is a professor of sociology at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"This is not a book about the history of political theory." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"The book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of political theory." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"The book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of political theory." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"The book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of political theory." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

The Fight Against The Racists

THE DAILY MAIL is a nasty, scurrilous newspaper. That's scarcely news. It was after all, Ward Price of The Daily Mail who in 1938 unashamedly congratulated Austria on her "honor" of imprisoning one of the best filmmakers in the world. When Hitler's Nazis marched in and took the country over.

I look at the Mail now. I don't see that its politics have changed much since 1938. Its hysterical coverage of the recent arrival of a few refugee immigrants shows it's still protecting itself, seeking new depths for right-wing gutter journalism to sink to. Yet hand-wringing about the motives of the Mail won't get us anywhere

The paper couldn't last for a week if it didn't have several million readers prepared to put up with its particular brand of poison. In the end it's the attitudes of those readers we have to confront

Their racism is part of the legacy of decades of racist history. The relationship between colonialism and racism was sharp. But why? That is a question I have been dealing with since I was a child. I have been asked often what I think about this subject.

I argue that the roots of racism are complex. But how old is this? I have been asked this question so many times that I am not sure I can answer it without getting into an argument about ideology and history.

The roots of racism are complex. My father, as I have argued, is a white man. He doesn't know what it's like to live in a country that has been colonized. I think it's important to understand the history behind racism and how it has been perpetuated.

And in part it's this struggle that made the product of socialism a reality. It was during this period that Marx wrote the Communist Manifesto.

"Marx left for Paris, but he was not well enough for his political writing." It was during this period that Marx wrote the Communist Manifesto.

"Poverty was the worst of Marx's problems." The book, which is the first full-length biography of Marx in English, is based on previously unpublished letters and diaries.

"And in part it's this struggle that made the product of socialism a reality." The author, who is a professor of philosophy at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"This is not a book about the history of political theory." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"The book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of political theory." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"The book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of political theory." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

"The book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of political theory." The author, who is a professor of history at the University of California, Berkeley, argues that rhetoric is often linked to the central process of capital accumulation.

The Nazional Front and How to Smash It

A Socialist Worker pamphlet

10p a copy plus 7p postage (more than 5 copies: post 3p each) from: SW Distributors, 6 Cottons Garden, London E2.
Postal Points

OVERHEARD in Sackville after the demonstration on Saturday: "Even the whites don't like English.

Dirty red bloody, we should all go back to Russia.

D: Dave Hughes, Guisford,

AT THE HYDE PARK anti- Nazi peace march on Sunday, dozens were being arrested even though their wrappers were in place, treated from a litter bin. People seemed to the world belongs to us all and to the human spirit.

The world is just to us.

They are some comrades who put every human value on beauty and friendship to enjoy beauty by others.

Dawn Johnson, Croydon.

GLAD TO see you are flouting the law and show your contempt for the police. I am not calling for a police station to be burned down.

I am calling for a police station to be burned down.

T: Ken Harding, London NW.

SOCIALIST WORKER was excellent on 24 July, particular on the unemployment issue. I was very impressed.

But you give too much prominence to the 1,400 workers who have been jobless for a year. The figure is much higher. The government and the bourgeoisie are the only ones who can reduce the number of unemployed. I suggest that it is unfair to focus on a group of workers who have been jobless for a year.

S: Tony McInerney, Vice-President and Personnel Management Committee.

FASCISM: The biggest threat to women's rights

YOUR GENTLEMBMEN'S excellent coverage of the racist attack in Manchester by a group of young fascists is important, but your future reporting attention to the discrimination against women by a group of fascists on the streets is crucial.

The National List, which includes the National Front, is a racist group that is spreading its poison. They need to be challenged and exposed.

T: B. McDonnell, Southend.

Control

The women's movement has made a great impact in the last few years. Our goal is to help women live more independently and to challenge the patriarchal system that has oppressed them for so long.

We must continue to fight for women's rights and to support each other in our struggles.

Targets

Attacks on black women are increasing. The National Front and other fascists attack black women as a way of spreading their racist ideology.

It is important that we stand together with black women and support each other in our struggles.

Fourteen and angry

After reading one of your articles, I have become more interested in International Socialists.

My friend and I are interested in the fight against racism and the abolition of the National Front. We would like to join a socialist group that is working for equality.

Can you recommend a group to us?

L: Sue Johnson, International Socialists.

SONGS OF STRUGGLE

Sackings are not our policy

I WAS surprised when I saw a newspaper article on 24 July about a worker at the Rover factory who was sacked for not accepting a 10% pay cut.

The story should have been taken up by local Labour Party members and trade unionists to challenge the management and demand that the sacked worker be reinstated.

As regards sackings or dismissals, such a decision should be challenged and if necessary taken to the Labour Court in a wider and more comprehensive context.

T: Tony McInerney, Vice-President and Personnel Management Committee.

IN DEFENCE OF THE ARCHBISHOP

I SOCIALIZED with the Archbishop in a pub and he seemed to be a nice, friendly guy.

But when I heard the news that he was being sacked as Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Liverpool, I was shocked.

Recognizing that the Archbishop's actions were not justifiable,

I commend the Archdiocese's decision to remove him.

J: Robert Fleming, Durham.

A lesson from the teacher stops the racist vermin

I TEACH English in a large, multi-cultural comprehensive school. A few weeks ago during a discussion on women in the United States, over half my class of 15-year-olds spoke up and said that they would stop immigration and segregation between the races.

In the room next door we had a couple of Asian classmates doing an essay. Someone suggested they should come in and join the discussion while black classmates were challenging the racist views.

The two Asian girls asked if they could participate and they were received with open arms.

Comment

At the end of the lesson, the white kids and the two Asians parted on good terms, and I did not hear any of the kids or girls in that class make any racist comments in the future.

We cannot defeat the racism of a whole society through education in schools. But we can make a start.

By educating our children, we can give them some way of understanding the racism on which the society is built.

In the way, it seems that the racist mentality is still prevalent.

From the beatings that the police give us, we get a sense of what racism is.

T: Dave Moore, Oldham.

I AM distressed at Transport Council's behaviour. If they want to improve relations with the dockers, they must first address the issue of their own workers.

That in our dock the feeling arises that we are not welcome.

T: Mike Shkolnyak, Poole.

The great Healey con trick

WHILE SOCIALIST Worker did an excellent rundown on the recent strike, it did not mention the effect on employers' national insurance subscriptions.

The effect of all three increases will be an extra strain on employers' national insurance subscriptions.

This means we will be paying the increase, it is a wage cut.

Much more important issues in the strike will have to be fought.

T: John Watts, Hull.

We must be ready to resist.

K: Kevin Jones, Huddersfield.

About six months ago I was a student at Leeds University.

I got involved in the student movement and was soon involved in the student strike.

About six months ago I was a student at Leeds University.

I got involved in the student movement and was soon involved in the student strike.

I am now a member of the National Union of Students.

D: Martin Hart, Salford.
Heard the one about the Duchess who fell out of the window while ironing the curtains...

OF COURSE NOT. BUT YOU'VE HEARD COUNTLESS 'JOKES' LIKE IT ABOUT IRISHMEN. WHY?

IN A SOCIETY such as ours, it is amazing what passes for humour.
Go into virtually any club in the country and you'll hear some wacky humourist on about his mother-in-law.
Or about how the Scots are mean, or if he's Scottish how Australians are mean.
But the main victims, almost without exception are either black or Irish.
The appalling way in which this need of empire led to the persecution of native-born black people has been the subject of recent issues of Socialist Worker.
Jokes and stories about the Irish have been a permanent part of the multiracial society.

Murder

Ireland. Brian's first college, was assigned to the punch,挖和 辣椒 that distinguished Britain's colonial masters.
The Irish were feared by the businessmen, going among other places to Belfast.
They had to be the wars jobs.
They built the railways and the canals.
They did the sweat and the hard work.
The black underground in the tenement years were spurred and spurred by the need for work.
The Jewish areas were always fighting and murder and murder and murder.

By LAURIE FLYNN

The Irish Frankenstein.

A murder and a right.
How the Irish were presented as subhumans.
The magazine Punch also tried to portray them as animals.

African do not exhibit an example of any intermediate animal. But in this, as in many other cases, philosophers go wary of so-called animal for that which they would readily find if they sought for it at home.

Punch

The mid-19th century illustrated magazine Punch and Sunday newspapers by means of which this racism reached its peak were the key to total and complete integration.
The cartoonists depicted a deliberate and calculated presentation of the ugliest and the most disadvantageous aspect of their own society.
It is not to be considered a surprising occurrence.

Africa does not exhibit an example of any intermediate animal. But in this, as in many other cases, philosophers go wary of so-called animal for that which they would readily find if they sought for it at home.

Savages

A creature manifestly between the Gorilla and the Negro is to be found in some of the lowest districts, whence it has continued to migrate; it belongs in fact to a tribe of Irish savages; the lowest species of the Irish Yahoo.

When conversing with such a man it is not a sort of gibe, but it is, moreover, a contemptuous and haughty attitude.
And sometimes, by ascending a ladder, the middle-class man with a haughty air, the middle-class man with a haughty air.

The Irish Yahoo generally confines itself within the limits of its own colony, but it is not unknown in the most remote districts to find a Yahoo in the midst of a large town.

The Yahos, however, it savages forth in states of excitement, and attacks civilized human beings that have provoked its fury.

Ability

The somewhat superior ability of the Irish Yahoo to utter articulate sounds, may suffice to prove that it is a socialized and not as some imagine, a degeneration of the Gorilla.

The Yahoo was not only subject to the written word Punch and Judy, but also to the printed word, which increased its vocabulary and its intelligence.

In these sentiments, the Irish were represented as gods, much after the fashion that Communards or Jacobins today represent the IRA.

Paddy had, in fact, devoted himself to the study of the history of the Gorilla. He knew the Gorilla's way of life, its habits, its fears, its dreams.

When conversing with such a man it is not a sort of gibe, but it is, moreover, a contemptuous and haughty attitude.
And sometimes, by ascending a ladder, the middle-class man with a haughty air, the middle-class man with a haughty air.

Branded

You're better than the blacks. Don't complain.
Yes, man, you're better than the blacks.

The best known authorities were put on show to prove that by force and by sheer force the British were further removed from society with the area than any other type of human being.
The Anthropological Society in London held lectures on the subject. Books were set aside as the 'enemy' was being banished from this country.

But Irish people struggling for their own national independence was not the only fear that best in the break of the partitions of Empire and addles of PUNCH.

They learnt the ring working class in Liverpool, Manchester, Bradford and the Tyne. But, the difference is that the blacks were held to be unfit to run their own lives. They too needed masters to do it for them.

Occasionally, a man with a civilizing mission to emphasize that some of his creations imagined had no connection with them.

Branded

You're better than the blacks. Don't complain.
YOu don't matter, you're not a machine

KENT: 1000 construction workers on the huge site of a Grain power station construction site are still on strike. They are demanding adequate protection against asbestos and the reinstatement of some sacked for refusing to work without protection.

The local council admits that they are all contaminated by the deadliness of all varieties of asbestos: blue asbestos.

A two inch layer of blue asbestos was blown on as a foam to cover the straw-board ceilings. It has deteriorated over the years.

Terry Bellamy, a docker in the Royal Group

THE SCABS WAIT TO MOVE IN...

Just down the road from the factory, the scab lorry drivers and the police waited for the signal to move in. On this lorry, the names of the company have been covered over. There were five concurrences of police waiting to help the scabs.

...AND WITH A LITTLE HELP ...

The police had no intention of allowing the pickets to talk to the lorry drivers. The pickets were warned. "Just down the road from the factory, the scab lorry drivers and the police waited for the signal to move in. On this lorry, the names of the company have been covered over. There were five concurrences of police waiting to help the scabs."

The road where it snows asbestos...

The 14 garage's 14 council houses in Biggin's Factory, Newham, East London, are locked. The local council admits that they are all contaminated by the deadliness of all varieties of asbestos: blue asbestos.

A two inch layer of blue asbestos was blown on as a foam to cover the straw-board ceilings. It has deteriorated over the years.

Terry Bellamy, a docker in the Royal Group

MATERIALS containing asbestos are sold for domestic building and workshop use. Would a housewife, be closely marked as containing asbestos and the need to avoid inspiriting dust while cutting, sawing or spraying should be stated on the label.

This advice comes in the government's report on the Cancer Hazard to the General Public Due to Asbestos, kept secret since 1968.

Exposure to and handling asbestos can cause serious lung disease.

Terry Bellamy uses a tank in the neighborhood and states the report is in his garage. "Sets of football cards, cricket cards, roundersare..." everything you can imagine. And it has been exposed to the killer asbestos and now by the local children before the risk was known.

"What mountains are tied in..."

"What mountains are tied in..."

"What mountains are tied in..."

The council just wanted to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get the money and to get..."
STUFF YOUR RENT INCREASE, TENANTS TELL COUNCIL

By Laurie Waterman

COUNCIL tenants in Sandwell, a large West Midlands' borough, are organizing against rent increases of up to £1.50.

The company started when six tenants on a council estate got together. They had just moved to council flats and were faced with the high rent increases and the closure of local shops. A John Daly put it: “We've been hit on rent, but they're not going to live in it. We're going to fight back and we're going to get our rent back.

This small group began to ask tenants to sign a petition for every rent increase in the area. In a matter of weeks, this has snowballed into the campaign of the Sandwell Tenants Action Committee and could soon involve nearly 40,000 tenants.

PETITIONS

More than 400 people attended last Monday's public meeting. They heard that 4,000 signatures were already on the petitions against the rent increases.

By an SW supporter

GENERAL EXPRESS SERVICE

...FROM THEIR FRIENDS...

Eileen Ward, one of the striking workers, writes to her friends:

The operation was set up jointly with the American Dockworkers, International Union, and the National Dock Workers' Union.

The workers are demanding better working conditions and higher pay.

BLACK THESE FIRMS

THE FOLLOWING haulage companies have been sued in strikebreak- ing at Trico and should be blacklisted immediately:

- General Express Services
- Abbey Road, London, E6
- Home & Dry
- Phoenix Freightliners
- G.T. North

By Margaret Rem

How you can support the strikers

If you or your employer will pay the same.

- Visit the picket line
- Review documents in the Strike Committee
- Support the Strike Committee
- Send financial support to the strikers
- Give a donation to the strikers
- Support the strikers by sending a message of solidarity

SUPPORT!

Send to: National Secretary, International Socialists, 6 Cottons Gardens, London, E8, 8DN.
The six-month strike at Automat, Swinton, near Manchester, is under attack by the majority of the workers at the factory. Winston Churchill MP claimed that John Tatchell, the lead Engineering Union organiser who was a member of the Communist Party, had 'joined forces' with the International Socialists 'to destroy democracy.'

Churchill should know about democracy. He had a good teacher in his grandfather, who ordered the guns down and struck miners in South Wales in 1911. Churchill made great play about a petition supposedly signed by 60 per cent of the workforce with the statement that they didn't want to join the union.

He neglected to mention the intimidation used in collecting those signatures. When people were taken one by one into a management office where the petition was pushed on them.

Nor did he mention that the alleged 90 per cent includes all the supervisors, managers and white-collar workers.

Democracy has never been implemented at any time by Chamberlain, the managing director of Automat. For years he has been a dictator, who has intimidated workers when approached about union recognition.

The form was backed by the draughtsmen's union T&APS when a few years ago staff in the drawing offices approached management about union recognition and were immediately sacked.

In 1973, four shop floor workers were sacked when they tried to organise the shop floor into the AEU.

Pressure
The present strike began when the pattern was repeated and all the AEU members at Automat were sacked. Nor wonder the rest of the workforce are frightened to say whether they really want a union organisation.

They will only change their minds when the pressure from pickets outside and from the tradition of union movement nationally is greater than that from the management.

An important step in that direction was made when a 24-hour picket was held, 400 strong.

Messages of support and offers of help to the strikers, to Tom Smith, c/o AEU of 147 Great Ancoats St, Manchester.

Where the profits are hidden.

We appeal to all readers and trade unionists to bind the companies that are putting a stop to the strikes with the AEU at 23 July 1976.

The list includes: Water Street, Accrington (supplying electrical equipment), Garrick Engineering, Stockport (supplying electrical equipment), E. & M. Cables, Newcastle, Stafford (supplying electrical cable), R.T. Tramway Depot, Bozingford, Crewe, Manchester (supplying electrical equipment), S. & A. Hill, Electric, Birmingham (supplying electrical equipment), Manchester 12 (wholesalers, supplying English Electric fans), Clifford & Johnstone, Globe Works, High Street, Birmingham (supplying electrical equipment), Industrial Polymers, Oldfield Lane, Stockport (supplying electrical equipment), and the four above.

Workers threatened to stop work at 7am. To prevent management from putting workers under pressure, there has to be an effective 24-hour picket. Bank and the stevedores should be pressing for this at the Engineering Unions Conference meeting this Thursday.

There should be a week of action with effective 24-hour picketing, solidarity strikes in the Manchester district and surrounding districts finishing with a mass demonstration in London. There should also be a weekly bulletin produced by the Combined Unions Committee.

 STOP THE NAZIagalactic National Front Rally Sunday 8 August, Old Market Square, Nottingham, 5pm. Contact: Emotional International Socialists, Immigration, 30 Buckingham Gate, London SW1.

Bank
Automat has a bank overdraft of £12,000. This is authorised by Chamberlain, which indicates that he isn't short of a few quid.

If ever he had to pay off the workers, he could probably do it with money gained from the sale of the weekly tabloid of his own Agricultural Union, Limited Profit, and assets of the company brought Chamberlain a total of £1.60.

The workers sacked to get this money probably won't see any.