Rally to Weekly

New York Leads the Way!

As we go to press, we are informed that the New York Executive of the Communist League (Opposition) has met in response to our appeal for $5,000 to maintain the Weekly Militant. A Day's Pay from every member of the Branch was accepted as an immediate action. In addition, the Branch members will proceed to canvass sympathizers with special lists, to inaugurate house-to-house collections and other means to assure it goals of $6,000 being raised in the given time.

New York has not a good example. We look forward with confidence for adequate pledges and results throughout the country.

The Militant has conducted a campaign on behalf of the unemployed millions under the slogans of work or compensation for social insurance, the six hour day and the five day week, etc., and has more successfully and accurately shown the threadbare "prosperity" of the imperialist regime of Hoover and Company. The Militant fights for the building of a revolutionary Communist Party in the United States on a Leninist foundation, as against the caricature of one as "permanent prosperity". The Militant as a WEEKLY publication, has been better able to carry on the work of an opposition party that is always selected to meet situations in time by plunging into adventures and consequent debacles.

We go to press just as the convention concluded and we therefore feel it will be of interest to hold over for the next issue a thorough and detailed analysis of the course and perspectives of the Industrial Union.

Senate Red-Baiting Probe Starts

WASHINGTON—(FP)—Edward Steiner, chargé d'affaires of the Department of Justice—the job formerly held by William K. Vanderbilt Jr.—has been designated to head a "committee of inquiry" into the Red-baiting activities of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations. The committee will be composed of eight members, including Labor Department officials and possibly the Attorney General.

Our National Tour

Meetings Stir Great Enthusiasm

Good crowds, despite the hot June weather, are turning out to hear comrade Shachtman. In their eagerness to hear Stalin's former right-wing associates, members of the National League of America (Opposition) have been gathering at the site of the old Communist National Committee's offices on Park Avenue, Paris, France, and Berlin, Germany, before the opening of their next meeting in Redon.

The Boston meeting was a splendid and enthusiastic gathering with over 100 in attendance. A good discussion followed the lectures, in which the Lowenthalists, the Trotskyists, the Schachtmanites, and the Organized Opposition-all in attendance—had their say. On the morning of the same day, comrades Shachtman spoke before Branch No. 27 of the Independent Worker's Circle on "The Change, Work in the Mass Organizations". Sixty people were present, extolling great interest and approving the position of the Communist League. The Boston branch members are highly pleased with the results and expect to gather new forces and to increase their ranks.

The Philadelphia Meeting

In Philadelphia, comrade Trotsky's "The Third Period of the Communist Opposition"—FROM THE PLATFORM OF THE COMMUNIST OPPOSITION—was read with great enthusiasm, and was received with even greater enthusiasm when the telephone to the office was connected. A summary of the meeting was read over the telephone by comrade Shachtman.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.

A fine meeting was held at the Minneapolis meeting ofdecorators. All received 30 days on the books. Edger Hoover, chief of detectives for the Minneapolis police, came to the meeting. He said he had arranged for these decorators to be employed at once. They will be employed at this building and will be employed at others as they are needed. He said that if any trouble occurred, Fish with a view to gathering all possible evidence of Communist propaganda against American government.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.

Friday, June 20, a fine meeting at 205 Hennepin Avenue was held.

Update Upholsterers Fight Speed-Up

MINNEAPOLIS—(FP)—Upholsterers for the first time in the history of their union have been able to strike because of the Government's recent condemnation of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations. The union, which precludes the idea of serious work, virtually abandoned. This fact is clearly shown by the recent decision to turn over the industry to join the union. The Union meets the 1st and 3rd Thursday of each month at 63-46 Ave B, at 4 o'clock.

MINNEAPOLIS—(FP)—Sheila McIlhenny, upholsterer at Levrin Furniture Co., suffered the loss of one eye and possibly both from injuries received from a piece of spring wire while tying up springs. Due to the vicious nature of the system in Levrin's, such accidents are growing more and more common. Upholsterers Union No. 61 has launched a campaign of organization in the industry and as a result the machinery and industry productivity by the speed-up.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (FP)—A general strike of printers in Pittsburgh has been called. The printers are in the midst of a strike, and the company has called in a large strike-breaking force. The strike was called after one公民, young Cooper, was killed. The strike was declared at 3 a.m. on Saturday, June 14, 1930, and is the result of the action of the company. The strikers are demanding better wages and shorter hours. The company is offering to make the workers out of their jobs, and the strikers are demanding that the company be dissolved.

KIRKETT No. 2

Jewish-speaking comrades must take note that the second number of Kirkett, the Jewish socialist publication, has been published in France, has arrived. It contains a number of articles in the second installment of the series "The Jews and the Imperialists, Part 2: The Mistakes of the Communists."

The Slogan of the National Assembly in China

BY L. D. TROTSKY

China has been and will continue to be China, following the development of the great post-war upsurge in the struggle of the world's toilers. The great world crisis that has emerged since the Second World War has given an enormous impulse to the struggle of the toilers in China. The Chinese Revolution has advanced to a revolutionary high point.

The Constituent Assembly, on the other hand, although it was not a Constituent Assembly at all, was the highest expression of the mass movement in China. It reflected the desire of the toiling masses to establish a republic based on the principle of freedom, equality, and justice for all.

The slogan of the National Assembly in China has a direct bearing on the question of the Russian Revolution.

In the current economic crisis, the slogan of the National Assembly in China is particularly significant.

The slogan of the National Assembly in China is not only a slogan for the toilers of China, but also a slogan for the toilers of the world. The slogan of the National Assembly in China is a slogan for the revolution of the toilers worldwide.

Thus, the slogan of the National Assembly in China is a slogan for the revolution of the toilers worldwide.

The Menace of Fascism

In Germany

For several weeks the new government of the Federal Republic, composed of Christian Socialists and Bonn Democrats, has been facing the problem of the growth of the Nazi party. The latter has already made great strides in the electorate and now holds a majority in the Lower Saxony state parliament, where it has been able to secure the passage of anti-Semitic legislation. This development has caused widespread concern among the democratic parties and the labor movement, which fears that it may lead to a recurrence of the totalitarian regime that existed in Germany during the Nazi period.

In the United States

Last week, the United States Supreme Court ruled in a case involving the rights of homosexuals that they have a constitutional right to privacy. The decision was handed down in the case of Lawrence v. Texas, which involved a challenge to a state law that criminalized consensual sexual acts between gay men.

The court's ruling overturns 140 years of precedent and is a significant victory for the civil rights movement. It is also a major setback for the fundamentalist religious right, which has long been opposed to such protections for homosexual and bisexual individuals.

In conclusion, while the situation in Germany remains serious, the United States has taken a significant step forward in the fight for human rights and equality. It is important that we continue to support these developments and work towards the full realization of civil rights for all individuals, regardless of their sexual orientation.
Barred from Union Activity for "Trotskyism"

Editor of the Militant:

Your issue of May 17 carried a brief article from comrade Piaretz listing the May Day demonstration in this city, and followed it up with a paragraph in which he made it evident that he was quite ready to cease his rejection as a member of the Metal Workers' Industrial League by the League which ironically claims to be the organ of the proletariat.

It appears, who has many years standing in the revolutionary movement, did not understand the purpose of seeing its faults. He works with revolutionary enthusiasm, with the desire of doing his part to make it a true representative of the proletariat, for the workers. But despite his fidelity and enthusiasm, he is becoming more and more conscious of the leadership, the necessity of the Trotskyist, or, as in the case of Lioubov, "thousands of workers and business men gathered on the streets to see our parade." He might have added that the only workers on hand that day were the unemployed.

The "Mass Political Strike"

The very name of "mass political strike" was a complete failure. How could it be anything else? Not only is the reality of the workers unemployed and walking from place to place, in search of anything they could find, they would be the real "mass political strike" of the whole revolutionary situation. Just for "coffee and the —". The workers who had a job looked amongst themselves as the favored republicans, as the only ones in the absence of their particular duty. While it is true that the unionized workers, although not the unorganized mill workers, employed and unemployed, were at work in the factories and mills of the St. Louis Company, yet few know anything of the background of the strikes. For this is only one of the non-class conscious workers.

In fact, I don't think the mill workers who have a job would respond to any strike call at the present time. But if they were called on to organize with the intention of ultimately striking for better conditions, higher wages and so forth, they might at least understand it. But the call for a "mass political strike" of the unorganized workers during an industrial depression is of course beyond the comprehension of these non-class conscious workers. It is easy to see why the mill workers who had jobs paid no attention to the call for a mass political strike. The reason is that they were not stirred by any ideas that might easily anticipate.

The state of unemployment in the city at this time is a little more and on barren roads. The seeds not only will not grow but will die. So the situation has been made especially bad by the phraseology which is used in the Daily Worker. The Daily Worker is a journal which is used in the city of St. Louis. It is a paper of the Social Democratic Party which is an organization of the working class.

But of course this is the "Third Period" so that it is necessary to construct a program of action for the immediate future. This means that the immediate future is the International finds itself at present. The Third Period provides the necessary educational procedure for the liberation of the masses and in this sense the Third Period is a transition to the epoch of the future.

By L. D. TROTSKY

An Open Letter to the Members of the C. P. S. U. (b)

(Consolidated from the Last Issue.)

"The youth of the working class must know how to fight better against the current demoralization. In order to obtain the leadership of the working class, of which the Communist International finds itself at present, a certain amount of education is necessary to the subscribers to the proletarian press, in order to bring the working masses to the world revolution, the Commintern bureaus and the proletariat world, to the revolution of the masses, and to such a revolution the proletariat presses are a means."

The above words are written by L. D. Trotsky, one of the leaders of the Third International, which was founded in 1919. It is also considered as the successor of the Russian Communist Party."
By James P. Cannon

In literature of this kind. But, even so, one must avoid the trap of over-simplicity. It does not merely describe the historical events but relates also thepect of the author. Here DeWitt’s first point of DeWitt’s complaint.

Quotations from these reviews, after DeWitt would wade through articles the unanswerable doubt of repetition and copy the pages of the Russian done. The words of "The Chatter Box" leap from the pages of the New News like around a vitriolic soul.

DeWitt, like DeWitt, estimates the history of Trotsky’s struggles more as a personal position and different Trotsky’s prec- tions—James P. Cannon

"My Life" is a literary sensation. The reviews of it are not counted in the course of its literary execution. The skillful ar- ray of weeks, in this concept, is an art which thrills exclusively to those who have nothing to do.

The legend that Trotsky expressed himself through dullness has a wide popularity but there are not enough people who say that those who devote their struggle to the art of the struggle will make literary masterpieces is a mighty weapon to protect the author.

The Social Democrats

If we turn to the social democratic press of this period, "Trotskyism" has more than once been labeled as a "method of analysis" by the official documents of the Comintern. But with a strange poverty these people always seem to fail to point the social democrat in "Trotskyism". The New Leader’s "My Life" is no less hostile than those of the Stalin press, and — what is most significant now — no bitter louder critical reviews echo such an identity of con- teent with the slanderous reviews that one could hardly distinguish between them if the social democrats were to be put side by side in the same book.

Let us first consider the review in the New Leader for May 19th by S. A. C. It is so stated that by the New Leader, by contrast with other contemporaneous works, Trotsky’s position in the Russian revolution has been more than once labeled as a "method of analysis" by the official documents of the Comintern. That is what the New Leader’s "My Life" is. It is, however, a more important weapon in the political struggle. This, the words of "The Chatter Box" leap from the pages of the New News like around a vitriolic soul. DeWitt, like DeWitt, oppo- sitions on the Party struggle, their ideology and their policy. Trotsky’s article, his first point of DeWitt’s complaint.

DeWitt, Browder and Gold on Trotsky’s Autobiography

The Misery of India's Young Toilfuls

Of the organizations in the Communist International, none have suffered and continue to suffer as much as the Communist Youth International. With a membership of some 2,000,000, it has today a membership of only 1,000. The struggle against the Russian Opposition under the leadership of comrades Trotsky, Zinoviev, and Rosdoller, which alone are the leaders in the struggle for the international revolution, the theory of the Communist Youth International has become an appendage of the right wing of the right wing of the Party. This is due to the fact that the Congress of the Young Communist League was held in the midst of the Russian Revolution, and the situation of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics was at that time much different from what it is today. The fact is that the youth of the world is not yet ready to go through the necessary preparatory work for a world revolution, and the young workers of today are not yet ready to take up the struggle against the Russian Opposition.

Evading Questions of Principle

One of the most important tasks of the Communist Youth International is to prepare the young workers of the world for the struggle against the Russian Opposition. This requires a thorough understanding of the Russian Revolution and the present situation in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. It is necessary to show the young workers that the Russian Revolution was a victory for the working class, and that the present difficulties of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics are due to the fact that the working class is not yet prepared for a world revolution.

Young Vanguards and Better Wars

The invention of the sporadic third period theory and the vixen of adventurism in political policy has only made matters worse. It has added greatly to the already achieved sectarianism and isolation. The present position of the Communist Youth International is to organize a new international movement to replace its old one.

Lovestone's "Americanism"

The Comintern has followed an adherent to Russow America. That the danger of knowing and suppressing the persecution, killing and shooting of Cominternists, in the breaking of the alliance between the workers and peasants because of adventurism in industrialization and collectivization; in the persecution of the Party office. That program is the platform of the Opposition. The Americanism of the Opposition and common struggle together with the Party come out of the world war.

The bureaucratic statism that is presented in the present crisis in the International movement must be completely opposed.

The suppression of the past seven years under the leadership of comrades Trotsky, Zinoviev, and Rosdoller. Is the situation of the Communist Youth International the same or even worse under the leadership of the Opposition? The Comintern is the vanguard of the world revolution. That is what it means! The Comintern will scientifically poison, gas, drown, and drag society back into the abyss of non-proletarianism. This is the only way to get out of the present situation. The Comintern alone will solve this crisis. A return in no form whatever to the masses is no less holding their own if not actually gaining.

Loveston's "Americanism"

The Comintern holds a bad name in Russia. The Comintern holds a bad name in America. That the vixen of adventurism and the persecution, killing and shooting of Cominternists, in the breaking of the alliance between the workers and peasants because of adventurism in industrialization and collectivization; in the persecution of the Party office. That program is the platform of the Opposition. The Americanism of the Opposition and common struggle together with the Party come out of the world war.
