AUSTRIA NEXT IN ORDER!

Austrian Bonapartism

By Leon Trotsky

Workers of the world, unite.

The revolution which is now in process in Austria follows the general pattern of the political life in Germany, but only closely. In the German revolution, the working class led the struggle, while the proportion of the middle class was relatively small, amounting to about one third. In Austria, on the other hand, the middle class constitutes the main body of the revolutionary movement, while the working class is only a minority of the total population.

Austria is passing through a period of intense revolutionary upheaval. The Constitutional Law of 1923, which was passed by the Habsburg government in 1919, has been declared null and void by the Austrian People's Assembly. TheSocial Democratic Party, which is the largest in Austria, has now taken control of the government. The Social Democrats are led by Karl Renner, who has been appointed president of the republic.

The Austrian workers have been forced to take up arms against the government, which is trying to suppress the revolution. The workers have been joined by the middle class, which has been sympathetic to the Social Democrats. The Austrian revolution is in its early stages, but it is certain that it will develop into a full-blown civil war.

The Austrian revolution is a battle between the working class and the middle class, which is controlled by the Social Democrats. The workers are fighting for the establishment of a republic, while the middle class is fighting for the maintenance of the old order.

The workers have a clear program, which is based on the principle of the worker's control of the means of production. They are opposed to the Social Democrats, who are trying to establish a new order, which will be based on the principle of the worker's control of the means of production.

The workers are also fighting for the establishment of a republic, which will be based on the principle of the worker's control of the means of production. They are opposed to the Social Democrats, who are trying to establish a new order, which will be based on the principle of the worker's control of the means of production.

The workers are also fighting for the establishment of a republic, which will be based on the principle of the worker's control of the means of production. They are opposed to the Social Democrats, who are trying to establish a new order, which will be based on the principle of the worker's control of the means of production.

The Condition of the Party After the Fascist Victory

Saturday, April 15, 1933

Chicago and St. Louis...the storm clouds gathered together...in the wind, the sun burst into a fit of laughter...in the smoke, the fire shone with staccato bursts...in the ashes, the stone was changed into gold...in the calm, the moon shone with a thousand rays...in the silence, the voice of the people rose up...in the song, the air was filled with the sound of victory...

TRADING POLICY OF THE PARTY

The party has been given the mandate of the Left Opposition to prepare for the coming campaign...

Hilferding is chagrined. He says we are being too lenient.

The trade union policy of the party will not be lenient. We will stand against the fascist parties on every issue. More than ever, the fascist parties are bent on the destruction of the free trade unions, and we will resist them every step of the way. The fascist parties will be defeated. The trade unions will live and thrive.

THE DUBLIN PROBLEM

In the recent elections, the Dublin problem was given to the party. The party has made a strong showing against the fascist parties. The party has shown its strength in the cities and rural areas. The party has won the support of the working class. The party has shown its strength in the trade unions. The party has shown its strength in the working class.

An Interview with Leon Trotsky

We are glad to print the following interview with Leon Trotsky in which he considers the question of peace and the prospects of the C.I.S. revolution.

Question: What is the actual situation in the C.I.S. at present, and what are the immediate prospects of the revolution?

Answer: The immediate prospects of the revolution are uncertain. The C.I.S. is in a state of revolution, but there is no assurance that it will be a successful revolution. The immediate prospects are uncertain because the C.I.S. is a large and complex country with a history of political instability and social upheaval. The immediate prospects are uncertain because the C.I.S. is a large and complex country with a history of political instability and social upheaval.
