The Industrial Control Bill

Workers Must Organize Against State Capitalism

The speedy adoption of the Industrial Control Bill was not surprising. The bill was needed in order to finance the war. But in addition to this, the bill is an attempt to prevent workers from organizing. It is the latest step in the struggle for control of the workers. This bill, as well as all other legislation, is an attempt to bring about a new form of capitalist society. The workers must organize against this bill.

A Form of State Capitalism

The Industrial Control Bill is a form of state capitalism. It is a system of government intervention in the economy. This bill is not just a measure to finance the war, but it is a step towards establishing a new form of state capitalism. The workers must organize against this bill.

New York City to Stop All Jobless Relief

The Banning of the Austrian C.P.

The End of Austro-Marxism

The Banning of the Austrian C.P.

The Austrian social democracy was dealt a serious blow by the decision of the central committee of the Communist International which has announced that the Austrian Communist party, the K.P.O., is to be dissolved. The decision, which is to be implemented immediately, follows the expulsion of the Austrian social democracy from the Fourth International.

In a statement issued by the International, the solidarity of the working class of Austria is emphasized. The party is not only a point of departure for the social democratic movement in the country, but is also an important factor in the international struggle.

The ban on the Austrian C.P. was announced by the International after a series of meetings of the central committee. The decision was taken after careful consideration of the situation in Austria, where the social democratic movement has been struggling against the forces of reaction and reaction.

The ban on the Austrian C.P. is a significant step in the international struggle against reaction and reaction. The Austrian social democracy has been a consistent and active fighter against the forces of reaction, and its activities have been an inspiration to workers and intellectuals all over the world.

The ban on the Austrian C.P. is a victory for the working class and a defeat for reaction and reaction. We call on all workers and intellectuals to support the struggles of the Austrian social democracy against the forces of reaction and reaction.
