George 'Starvation' Bill Is Signed By Roosevelt

By Art Preis

President Roosevelt last Tuesday signed the Stalinist Leaders George Demobilization Bill, a measure designed by the agents of Wall Street to create an army of unemployed in the coming period and to deliver over to the capitalist monopolies approximately $100,000,- 000,000 worth of government-owned plants, machines, tools, raw materials, 'surplus' goods and lands.

The George Bill was patterned according to the "master blueprint" of the big business Baruch-Hancock plan sponsored by Roosevelt. It was passed by an overwhelming majority of Democrats and Republicans in both legislatures who ganged up against and howled down the most modest proposals for more liberal measures. Roosevelt put his signature to the final version of this bill which had been stripped by the Democratic-Republican coalition of even several minor provisions of a more liberal character.

Curb Uprising Of Bulgarian Masses By Ralph Graham

The burning movement of mass discontent and rebellion against the old and rotted capitalist order, leaping into flame in Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia, France and Spain, has spread to Bulgaria where the workers and peasants, held down for 21 years under the most brutal and savage dictatorships, are once more lifting their heads and showing a firm determination to strike out for a new socialist future.

Campaign show how deep an impression the ideas of The Militant have made on its new subscribers. Their enthusiasm for the principles and program of our press makes the sale of the four Minneapolis Trial Pamphlets an even easier task than expected.

As they gain experience in visiting and talking to the new readers of The Militant, the comrades are learning to use the pamphlets more effectively, and therefore the percentage of sales is rising steadily. One branch reports that they have been explaining to the readers they visit that the Trial pamphlets, giving an explanation of the basic ideas of Trotskyism, will increase the reader's interest and enjoyment of the paper, helping him to understand The Militant's workingclass analysis of events.

While most of the emphasis in discussions with readers has been on James P. Cannon's "Socialism On Trial," because its question-and-answer form is particularly popular, the other three pamphlets are by no means overlooked. Albert Goldman's "In Defense of Socialism," the CRDC pamphlet "Who Are the 18 Prisoners in the Minneapolis Labor Case," and "Why We Are in Prison" complete the exposition of our ideas, and acquaint the reader intimately with some of the leading figures of the Trotskyist movement. At the special price of 25 cents, the sets of pamphlets are selling readily to new readers-both those who are visited by the comrades and those who receive the paper at union distributions.

ROOSEVELT'S ROLE

Roosevelt who now avails himself of "the President's rule" in the face of nation-wide protest against his frame-up, was not bothered by any such self-imposed rules three years ago when, upon the single telegraphed request of AFL Teamsters Czar Daniel J. Tobin, he immediately instructed the Department of Justice to initiate the Minneapolis Labor Case prosecutions. The N. Y. As a still further pretext for the administration's pardon decision, Lyons writes that "the Attorney General feels... he could not properly present this case to the President with a recommendation favorable to the exercise of clemency." Thus, Attorney General Biddle, the man who operated the legal machinery of the Minneapolis labor frame-up at his master's orders (and at this same master's orders whitewashes real criminals like corrupt Boss Hague and suspends the prosecution of criminal monopolies) continues to

Trotskyists In India Turn Accusers At Trial

Below is the full text of a statement made in the magistrate's court at Kandy, Ceylon on Feb. 8 of this year by Comrades N. M. Perera and Philip Gunawardene, leading members of the Lanka Sama Samaja (Trotskyist) Party, who were tried and sentenced to prison on charges arising from their escape in 1942 from a British concentration camp.

I was arrested on the 8th of June, 1940. 1 was kept in detention till the 7th of April, 1942. No specific or precise charges were ever made against me. I was not tried before a court of law. My colleagues and I refused to appear before the Advisory Committee - that mockery of judicial tribunals.

Why were we kept in detention? I challenge the right of Sir Andrew Caldecott, agent of the Bank of England and tool of the capitalist class of Britain, to issue a warrant for my arrest and detention. What right has the ruling class of Britain to rule over this island except superior force? Britain has as much right to rule over the people as the Nazis to rule over the people of Denmark and Norway, or the Japanese imperialists to rule over Formosa and Java. NO MORE. The British ruling class came to this island as pirates and have remained here as plunderers. The British Empire was built up by perjury by day and forgery by night.

Ever since my return to this island in 1932, my colleagues worked with ceaseless endeavor to disseminate the idea of scientific socialism among the petty bourgeois intelligentsia and the advanced sections of the working class. The spontaneous labor movement which displayed tremendous vigor and militancy in the twenties had spent its force in the stagnant waters of trade union politics by the early thirties. After three years of work in the propagation of Marxism, we had developed a sufficiently large nucleus, imbued with the ideas of scientific socialism, that we were in a position to launch the Lanka Sama Samaj Party, in December 1935. The history of the party is known to the people of this country. Suffice it to say that it put itself at the forefront of every struggle against imperialism and the capitalist class in this country ever since the party was founded.

The leadership of the LSSP from its very inception refused to come under the leadership of the Stalinist Communist International and remained ever loyal to the principles Lenin and Trotsky stood for in their day. In March 1940 the party, under the influence of the teachings of Trotsky, expelled the Stalinists who were trying to smuggle into the party Stalinist contraband. In 1942 the LSSP became a section of the Fourth International, founded by Trotsky and the comrades of the International Left Opposition.

When the Second Imperialist World War broke out in September, 1939, the party characterized the war as an imperialist war and took a revolutionary defeatist line. My colleagues and I continued to intensify the class struggle and the fight against British imperialism. War is the continuation of politics by other means, i.e. by more forcible means. The character of the war is determined by the class that conducts the war. The war was and remains an imperialist war for markets, for sources of raw materials, for colonies. The "democratic" powers and the Axis powers are fighting to determine which group and set up its own form of government-the dictatorship of the proletariat.

The Party refused to change its characterization of the war on the entry of the Soviet Union into the war. It was quick however, in defining the war as an imperialist war on the part of every country involved in it except the Soviet Union and China. The Soviet Union is a workers' state, though deformed. Thus the Soviet Union is fighting a progressive war in defense of the gains of the October Revolution. The Party supports the Soviet Union in this war and is doing everything in its power to enable the working class to render every independent assistance to the Soviet Union in this war. It stands for military victory against the counter-revolutionary forces of Hitler's Europe.

We support the war of the Chinese workers and peasants for national liberation from the voke of Japanese Imperialism. But the party works for the defeat of British imperialism in this war by the forces of the colonial masses and the working class of Britain.

The war has set in motion social and political forces that the ruling classes of the warring imperialist powers never bargained for. Fascism is already tottering in Europe thanks to the hammer blows of the Red Army. But Fascism is taking shape in Great Britain and America.

The fate of the Empire of the Mikado is sealed. The paper houses of the Mikado will go up in flames. But the working class in Japan is likely to settle accounts with the landlords and the capitalists of the Rising Sun - not the armed forces of America and the British Empire. Before this war is over civil war will spread over Europe and Asia. The Soviet Union will play a dominant part in the shaping of the world in the coming years.

Revolutions are on the order of the day. There is no room to believe that the European working class has not benefited from its experiences since break out in Europe. The fall of Japanese im-

Famine In India

A common street scene in India during the still existing famine. Endless rows of gaunt women and children line the curb, waiting for the scant morsels of food doled out from a pail. Even this inadequate and unsanitary "relief" was denied to the vast majority of India's millions in the provinces; conservative estimates place the death toll at more than a million.

class has not benefited from its experiences since the October Revolution in 1917. In the wake of the fall of Fascism working class revolutions will break out in Europe. The fall of Japanese imperialism will give rise to colonial revolution. Lenin characterized this epoch as the epoch of wars and revolutions.

The Problem Of Employment And The Election Campaign

The campaign speeches of Roosevelt and Dewey have simply served to confirm the fact that on all important issues the Democratic and Republican candidates stand united on the program of Big Business. Their essential agreement is clearly disclosed in the positions put forward by both presidential candidates on the problem of employment, despite their period ahead and to meet their mutual accusations against each other.

Remembering the economic crisis which ravaged the country after 1929, the workers are exremely concerned about their future economic security. How have Roosevelt and Dewey attempted to allay their justified fears of large-scale unemployment in the

What Workers Should Know About Politics SHOP TALKS In Order To Defend Their Class Interests

(The following article is the first section of a new pamphlet) by J. Hansen on the need for a Labor Party which will shortly be issued by Pioneer Publishers. The Militant plans to publish other parts of this timely pamphlet in subsequent issues.)

By Joseph Hansen

No one can escape taking part in politics.

The worker who rejects political action because "politicians are crooks" is fooling himself. He has not avoided politics. He has simply given up his rights to the enemies of labor without putting up a fight. A significant political act!

If he acted the same way in a strike, rejecting picket duty, his shopmates would condemn him. Every militant knows that anyone refusing picket duty opens the way for scabs brought in by the boss.

Far-sighted militants see that the unions today are blocked on every side by politicians in the service of the bosses. They are beginning to understand that labor must participate in politics actively and positively. A great revival of interest in political action is sweeping through the trade union movement.

But an intelligent guide and a realizable goal are necessary. Misdirected activity too can harm labor. In political action as in strike action it is important how we organize and what we demand.

The political enemies of labor are hard-boiled ruthless professionals. Their first rule is deceive labor: their second rule, no holds barred. Unless we understand what politics is about, labor can be crippled and even destroyed by the experts in political jiu jitsu.

Any intelligent person can master the principles of politics with a little study. The trouble is most people don't want to be bothered. Especially if they don't know that politics can get the unions out of the blind alley where they are stalled today.

What Politics Is About

Politics is far more than a mere struggle over "spoils of office." The truth is, that basically considered, politics is the struggle to control the destiny of the nation.

Today it is even correct to say that it is the struggle to control the destiny of the world.

A political party fights for office in order to make the final decision on such national problems as:

-Shall the unemployed be given jobs at trade union wages?

-Shall trade union activity be permitted?

-Shall troops be used to break strikes?

- -Shall the rich be allowed to escape taxation?
- -Shall a sales tax be levied?

-Shall racial and religious discrimination be stamped out? -Shall a federal anti-lynch law be passed?

-Shall poor people be prevented from voting through imposition of poll taxes?

-Shall a rise in wages be permitted under-paid workers?

-Shall a ceiling of say $25,000 be placed on high incomes? -Shall the nation's crops be harvested or plowed under?

-Shall the country be plunged into war?

-Shall the armed forces be denied the vote and their right to take part in political activities?

-Shall wages be frozen and labor red-taped to the job? -Shall the profits be taken out of war or permitted to produce a new crop of millionaires? -Shall the armed forces abroad be used to put down strikes and revolutions and keep fascists in office?

Once it wins, the political party has power to enact what laws it wants. It can enforce or fail to enforce the laws on the statute books. It can pack courts with friendly judges.

If a great new issue arises, the political party may compel a reluctant nation to carry out its will. The present administration did not hold a referendum to determine the wishes of the people before it plunged the United States into the Second World War. Yet it took office on a promise to keep out of the war. We are not interested for the moment in the rightness or wrongness of this

Only if they organized a political party of their own could these unemployed workers safeguard their economic interests. Such a political party in power would open the factories and produce goods for use instead of for profit.

Naturally, factory owners who have put in power their political party will never admit that it represents only their economic interests. They always claim that closing down factories or plowing mountains, the peasants came under crops is done for the good of the nation.

In the language of scientific politics, they identify their own special economic interests with the interests of the nation as a whole.

By V. Grey "The trouble with Socialism is that they want a dictatorship. If you ask me, I think we have too much of that right now."

That's what one of the boys said today. And a lot of honest working people say the same thing. That's mainly because all they know about Socialism is what they read in the capitalist newspapers. So you can't blame them for thinking Socialism would be even worse than Capitalism.

"They're certainly right to figure we have a dictatorship right the company during the walkout now, though. When Johnny Dylek wanted to move his family back to Pennsylvania, he couldn't get a release from the office, or from the U.S. government employment office either. Not unless he took sixty days off. Things are pretty bad when you can't change your job. that the company had permitted

But wait a minute. When could you ever change your job before? Whenever you felt like it? What would you and your family live on during the weeks or months you were looking around for another? The bosses had you where they wanted you, without any fuss or feathers. Now that jobs are more plentiful, they just pass a law to make you keep your nose to the same grindstone for the same hourly wages you got before.

We have a dictatorship of Capital over Labor all right. It's a dictatorship of the few over the many. Whether they get tough about it, or whether they speak softly, the capitalists do the dictating. And as long as they control the industries and the government, we do the obeying.

TWO KINDS OF GENERAL FOREMEN

Look how it is in the shop. Remember that general foreman. Stebbs? We had him long before we got the union in. We called him "the little dictator," "the louse," and lots of worse names, too. He ran everything with an iron hand, and you didn't dare turn around. If you were in the washroom long enough to finish smoking half a cigarette, he'd be in there after you. Well, one day he was found pretty badly beaten up near a saloon in town. After that they transferred Stebbs to another shop, and put in Hallory in his place.

Well, Hallory was a swell guy, everybody said. He always asked you in a nice way. Never told you to do anything. The fellows would smoke a whole cigarette at a time in the washroom, and sometimes twice a day at that. And still they worked harder and got more done for Hallory than Stebbs ever got out of them. We all got along fine with Hallory. Until one day Tony Jorek refused to do the job that Hallory asked him "please" to do.

Tony was a shear-man with twelve years' rights (seniority was observed "on paper" at least quite a while before the union came in). Hallory wanted Tony to go outside and load up a scrap serves reactionary purposes is a car-at laborers' pay-while a younger man took over the shear for a day or two. (They always say it's just for a day or two). Of course the younger man happened to be a very good friend of Hallory's, too. Sort of a stooge, in other words.

> So Tony, who wasn't so dumb, said he'd be glad to go outside the first chance he got when the shear was down, but not now, thank you. He was polite too, at first. But before you know it they were both getting hot. Then Hallory pushed Tony away from him. So Tony took a swing at him. It was a pretty healthy swing, too.

> At first a lot of fellows were sorry for Hallory because Tony hurt him pretty bad. But not for long. Because what do you think happened? Why, Tony got a month off without pay. And when he came back to work they put him on the band saw with a dollar a day cut in his wages.

Of course you'll say we should have struck the minute Tony went out the door. But we were too dumb at the time. We didn't have the understanding we have now. We were confused. We thought Hallory had something on his side, too. It was only after conscious workers and serves to we got to thinking it over, and only after Tony came back at lower advance the interests of the pay that we realized that what Hallory had on his side was the power of this whole damned corporation. And what did Tony have? Tony's family had a rotten time of it. Tony was watched and ridden, from then on. But Hallory-all he got was a sock in the jaw, and later on, we found out, a raise in pay.

Union control of hiring is a crucial issue in the maritime industry. Without this the union loses all semblance of independent existence and is powerless to protect the job conditions won through strike action. The union hiring hall was established only after long struggle by seamen against the old practice of fink hall discrimination whereby militants were fired at the end of every voyage and replaced aboard ship by company stooges. The character of the industry has made control of hiring the central issue in all disputes between the maritime unions and ship-operators.

The point to this story is that whether it was Stebbs with a swear word or Hallory with a "please" you had to do what they told you, or else.

Well, Capitalistic governments work the same way. They are all dictatorships of Capital. Sometimes they put a tough little faker like Stebbs up for the front, and sometimes a gas factory like Congress with a thousand and one Hallorys. But the whole thing is rigged so the workingman gets the business.

Socialism has the aim of doing away with all kinds of dictatorship or compulsion of any kind. But before we can accomplish that, our workers' government will have to be like the capitalist. in one way. It will have to be a dictatorship, too. But instead of being a dictatorship of Capital over Labor, it will be a dictatorship of Labor and poor farmers over, and against, the ex-capitalists. That will be the power of the many over the few.

Underneath the smooth front of the company are the layoffs, the guns and tear-gas. Underneath the little democracy in the present capitalist government is the power of all the big companies ready to crack down on the workers, like Hallory did. That's the dictatorship of Capital. Underneath the real and honest no monarchical regime, hand- democracy that we workers are going to have, will lie the power, the organized might, of the whole workingclass. That's the dictatorship of the proletariat. That's the Workers and Farmers government.

In our workers' government we may have to be tough at times with some of the ex-capitalist fakers. If they stick to their jobs and don't go in for any swindling or the fancy stealing they call profit taking, why it will be very pleasant for all. But human nature, especially capitalist human nature, doesn't change in a day. They may need some persuasion. But as our new age develops, and as we begin to give unheard of benefits to all, as Socialist production far outstrips Capitalist production, when Hallory and Stebbs and even Louie the stump jumper, are gone and their ways forgotten, then we'll have real Socialism and all relics of Capitalism, like dictatorship, will disappear.

Diary Of A Steel Worker

By Theodore Kovalesky

It seems like ages ago that I was working five days a week. remember having two days off every week and getting enough pay for forty hours to live half-way decently; or at least, it would have been half-way decently if it hadn't been for all the depression debts that I had to pay off, and the worn-out furniture and clothing that I had to replace.

And now they're talking about going on five days again . . . but what a difference!

For a while, there was a lot of talk about how the workers should be patriotic and give up all their time-and-a-half. Roosevelt came out with an order cutting out double time for Sunday and time-and-a-half for other days unless they were the sixth conport of the old leadership, headed | secutive days in the week, but we did retain time and one half pay for the sixth day. Then the matter was dropped. A lot of fellows thought that we had scored a victory on that point, but we didn't win a thing: instead, we lost some of our hard-won gains.

Here's the way I see it. A workingman goes out to work in the factory, where he produces profits for his boss. The boss pays him not his fair share of what he has produced but just enough to keep him and his family alive and kicking and perhaps producing little workers to make future profits. Now, that's what we had The fight against the no-strike | before we went on six days. We worked five days for a "living wage." Then we went on six days, forty-eight hours. For a little while, it seemed pretty swell. Of_ course, it was hard to get used to the extra labor. We had been used to working five days or nights in that hellish heat and getting two days off to rest up a little, and now we found ourselves getting only one day. But we got used to that, and, as I say, it did seem pretty swell to be getting that extra cash . . . so long as you put in all of your six days.

But before long that extra money began to be a necessity; it wasn't extra any more. It wasn't that we got used to a higher standard of living. It was just that the wage freeze and the rising prices put us financially back where we were when we worked forty nours a week.

Just as before, we worked a week for our boss and got a "living" wage." But now we worked twenty per cent more time for him for the same amount of purchasing power. Of course, made more money -but it didn't buy any more than before.

Well, it didn't stop there. Prices kept going up and up until even the pay that we got for six days, after all the deductions were taken out, left us with less purchasing power than we had previously had when we worked only five days.

We're All Worried About The Future

And now they are talking about putting us back on five days! All over the department the fellows are talking about it, and you can see that they are pretty worried. I am, myself. I know that even with six days I can't get along without working a sixteen hour shift every now and then. These double shifts will be cut out, too, along with going back on five days a week, and then, well, you know what that will mean.

Once again that old feeling will be coming back to the steelworkers, that old feeling of desperation, that feeling which shouts in the middle of your brain, "What are you going to do? You've GOT to have more money, and you CAN'T get it. You can't get an outside job. You work on different shifts, so you can't hold another job with this one . . . and besides, there aren't any other jobs to get. What happened to last week's check? It's gone already. How can you wait until payday for the next one? How about the dentist? Your teeth. are rotting in your mouth. So they ache, so what? Dentists cost money. How about the doctor? How about insurance? What about that threadbare coat that your wife has been wearing too long already? You've GOT to get some more money, but how can you POSSIBLY get it?" Yes, I feel pretty pessimistic about going back on five days, down to five days's pay with prices the way they are now. But my gloom isn't as deep as that of some of the fellows, because I realize that the future of the workers is not as black as some of them think. You see, they haven't anything to hang on to, not just yet. As for me, I know, really KNOW, that day by day the workers as a whole are coming to realize more and more that they as a class must rely on themselves alone. At every union convention that comes up, there is a fight about the no-strike pledge. It wasn't this way even one year ago. These boys are beginning to learn.

SPAIN - Miners in Asturias still battled from their mountain barricades, as the semi-fascist regime of Lerroux and Gil Robles used land and air forces to crush the incipient revolt. "The very fact that the workers have fought so valiantly in spite of the confusion caused by the lack of a truly united leadership, undoubtedly indicates that Gil Robles will still have much to contend with before he can consolidate a dictatorship," said The Militant.

The Militant continued: "The revolutionary party capable of giving Lenininist leadership was conspicuous by its absence. The Socialist Party . . . has demonstrated its incapacity to fulfill this necessary role ... (it) called for the transformation of the general strike into a general assault for power at precisely the time when the enemy, flushed by a series of partial victories over the workers, would be best able to defeat the as yet imperfectly united working class. The inability to win over any appreciable section of the armed forces is another indication of the lack of serious preparation." The analysis concluded with an explanation of the greatest task for the future, the consolidation of an organized, functioning united front to prepare for the battles still impending.

SAN FRANCISCO-Under pressure of the demand of the workers for industrial unionism, the leadership of the American Federation of Labor at its convention was compelled to make a significant concession. After long discussions in the resolutions committee, it accepted the Lewis plan of so-called vertical unions-industrial unions-for the automobile, aluminum and cement industries, with the proviso that in no other industries would craft union prerogatives be interfered with.

George Bill

With ruthless contempt for the needs of the American masses and utter subservience to the interests of the big business plutocracy, Wall Street's Democratic-Republican coalition in Congress has shoved through and Roosevelt has signed the George "Demobilization" Bill.

The specific measures of this law make it clear that the capitalist ruling class is determined in the coming period to raise up a "reserve" army of desperate, hungry unemployed; to launch a major offensive against union standards and the labor movement; to preserve its profits by looting the public treasury and stealing the vast industrial plant now owned by the government and paid for by the people.

Above all, the adoption of this "master plan" of Wall Street by the united pack of capitalist politicians, from Roosevelt on down, once more sharply demonstrates that the security of labor, the working farmers and the impoverished lower middle class is dependent upon the achievement of labor's own program, designed to serve the interests of the working masses and uncompromisingly opposed to the predatory schemes of the parasitical bankers and bosses.

The keystone of that program must be JOBS FOR ALL. Against the "Share-the-Starvation" plan of Wall Street and its government, organized labor must fight for:

1. The 30-hour week with no reduction in weekly pay:

2. A broad program of government public works, slum elimination, low-cost housing, schools, hospitals, etc., to provide work for all unemployed at trade union wage standards;

3. The immediate nationalization and operation under workers control of all government plants, for the production of goods necessary for the people. These demands-among the minimum which labor must realize to ensure even a measure of decent living standards and security-can be achieved, however, only if labor has its own political instrument with which to fight uncompromisingly against all the political agents and parties of capitalism. The indispensable political weapon for the well-being of the working class is the independent labor party, based upon the trade unions and free of all capitalist taint or influence.

Red-Baiting

Red-baiting is a type of provocation and incitement which the boss class and their political agents have used against the militant labor movement ever since its inception. This reactionary weapon is used to whip up hysteria against the working class.

It is in periods when the workers rise in militant struggle against their exploiters that the red-baiters are most active. By dragging the "red herring" across the trail, they attempt to obscure the real issues over which the workers are struggling, namely, wages, hours, and working conditions.

I read and reread with delight the article written by a Negro worker who recently joined the Trotskyist party that appeared in The Militant of Oct. 7 in the column on 'The Negro Struggle."

It was beautifully written and portrayed very vividly, the heightened, exalted feeling a worker (colored or white) experiences when after a hard and prolonged inner struggle, he finally succeeds in breaking through the mountains of lies and hypocrisy and age-old prejudices which confuse and weigh so heavily on the minds of present-day suffering humanity. What vast freedom gained! Yes, in our epoch, the highest peak of human culture can be reached only by class

I am only afraid that many readers (especially the new ones) might have missed this fine article either because they didn't acquire the habit of reading "The Negro Struggle" column or for some other reasons. May I therefore suggest that the editors reprint this article at some appropriate occasion and call the attention of its readers to it.

Trotskyism Advances

Evidence of the vitality and continued growth of the Trotskyist movement, on an international scale, may be seen in this issue of The Militant. Two weeks ago we reported the planting of the Trotskyist banner in Italy. This week we are able to furnish information testifying to the growing influence of Trotskyism in India and in Great Britain.

It is highly significant that this information, in the case of both countries, centers on the persecution of the Trotskyists by the ruling class. The vicious hounding of the Indian Trotskyists reflects the fear which animates the British usurpers in India as they observe the rising tide of the great liberation movement of the Indian workers, and peasants. In Great Britain, the courts of the capitalist ruling class, acting under pressure of the labor movement, have been compelled to quash the sentences imposed on four Trotskyist leaders

Great Britain is the classic home of capitalism. India is the classic imperialist colony. That Trotskyism, with its program of socialist revolution, has taken firm root in these two countries and makes its way among ever broader masses of the toilers, is testimony to its historic rightness. It expresses accurately the interests and aspirations of all toiling humanity which is searching for a way out of the morass of war and hunger.

In the first years of the present imperialist conflict, the Trotskyist movement in most countries consisted of comparatively small cadres of devoted revolutionary Marxists. Though armed with a tried and tested program, the hypnosis and repression of war, marked by the virtual suspension of the class struggle of the workers, prevented its rapid growth.

Today, in Europe and Asia, the masses are moving once more to the battle-lines of the class struggle and the socialist revolution. Inseparably connected with the masses, the Trotskyist movement is growing and moving forward. Its rise is a reflection of the rising tide of revolution.

In the period ahead the revolutionary movement of the masses in all leading countries will develop

Thus it is today. The American workers are up in arms against the no-strike pledge. They are in open rebellion against the wage-freeze and the run-arounds of the War Labor Board. Increasing numbers are turning their backs on the capitalist political parties and moving toward the formation of a real party of labor, an independent Labor Party.

In this situation the red-baiters, serving the dirty purposes of the capitalist bosses, are busily at work. In the labor movement some years ago the Communist Party was the principal target of the red-baiters, for its members were the most militant and advanced section of the labor movement. Today by their own admission the Stalinists are the enemies of Communism. Their leaders are venal agents of the reactionary Stalinist bureaucracy which rules in the Soviet Union.

The fire of the red-baiters is now first of all directed against the Trotskyists, inheritors and continuators of the revolutionary traditions of Communism. The Trotskyists stand in the van of the workers' movement. Single mindedly they defend the interests of the workers against the bosses and strive to lead the working class in struggle against capitalism-for socialism.

The Stalinists, on the other hand, have today become the spearhead of boss-class reaction in the ranks of labor, open defenders of Wall Street, traitors to the working class. In consistency with this role they stand in the front ranks of the redbaiters and spit their venom at the Trotskyist champions of labor.

Wherever the workers engage in militant struggle against the bosses to maintain or better their conditions, the Stalinists and their yellow press howl that the strike has been "engineered" by the Trotskyists. Playing all the variations of the redbaiters' theme, they vilify, slander and defame their revolutionay opponents, incite to lynch action against all militant workers, and call upon the authorities to clap them in jail.

In the mouths of the lying Stalinists every labor militant is ipso facto a "Trotskyist," just as in the mouths of the old-time red-baiters he was a "Communist." This is the essence of the method of the red-baiters, the method by which he attempts to confuse the workers, prejudice them against union militants, and hound them from the ranks.

Red-baiting is a weapon of reaction. By means of it the Stalinists serve the aim of the exploiters in dividing and weakening the working class. These scoundrelly tools of the bosses must be exposed for what they are: red-baiters-1944 model.

Ford Aide Helped Finance Fascist Gerald L. K. Smith

What class does fascism serve? Who provides the resources for the fascist movements? From what group does the real threat of fascism in America come?

A partial answer to these burning questions was revealed last week by Gerald L. K. Smith, fuchrer of the fascist America First Party, in his tectimony before the White House Campaign Expenditures Committee.

Labor-baiting, red-baiting anti-Semite Smith disclosed that one of his financial sponsors was Harry Bennett, Henry Ford's right-hand man

In 1939, Bennett slipped this would-be American Hitler $2,000 to finance his anti-union propaganda over the radio as part of the Ford campaign to prevent unionization of the huge River Rouge plants. Bennett also provided Smith with introductions to other automotive industry big shots

At that time Smith had recently arrived in Detroit following his $650 per week career as a chief lieutenant of Louisiana dictator Huey Long. Bennett, of course, tries to explain now that "I do not support Smith's political beliefs." His money was provided Smith for the purposes "only" of fighting "communism and labor racketeering."

By "communism and labor racketeering" Bennett means and meant the legitimate organization of the Ford workers into a union of their own choosing. Ford fought unionism for years with his storm troopers, called the "Service Department," the largest private armed force in the world.

It is interesting to note that Hitler and Mussolini also got their start on funds provided by the big capitalists, not for "political purposes," mind you, but to fight "communism and labor racketeering." That is, for strikebreaking and smashing labor unions and parties.

The truth is, that the hireling demagogues, like The Manchester Guardian of won Salazar's favor "through the prove the lying innuendo of Smith, are financed precisely to carry out the main political purpose of the bosses themselves: the crushing of the organized labor movement, the destruction of all democratic rights of the working class, the establishment of naked capitalist dictatorship. That is why the Bennetts today finance the fascists-and why tomorrow, when the capitalist class of America finds it necessary, many more big capitalists will be pouring funds into the native fascist movement.
