Red-Baiting Slander -- Stalinist Style

By The Editors

The Communist (Stalinist) Party has become notorious for its abuse of special and economic groups. The latest example of this is the recent campaign against the teachers of tomorrow, and tomorrow's teachers. For example, in 1933 the American teachers' organization was seeking a new contract. In response, the Communist (Stalinist) Party, under its candidate O'Dwyer for Mayor of New York, went on a campaign against the teachers, accusing them of being "pro-terferky." This campaign made a marked difference but the record of the Stalinists is unsurpassed for its shameless political professions.

There is hardly a party or political tendency in the country which has not been the object of its smear campaign at one time or another. The Stalinists have been particularly active in the field of education, where their presence has been felt keenly, either by direct action or by the use of propaganda and literature.

Only One Consistency

But throughout all the Stalinists' attacks and turns, in spite of their many changes of line, there remains one constant element of their organization. In every instance, the Stalinists have been found to be working for the benefit of the Comintern, the International Communist Organization. This is true of their efforts to undermine the Communist Party of the United States of America, which has been the object of attack by that organization since its inception.

Clue To Lynching-Campaign

The evidence of the Stalinists' activities is not hard to find. In many cases, they have been caught red-handed. For instance, in the case of the recent lynching of two Negroes in a Southern State, the Stalinists were found to have been behind the scenes, planning and financing the operation.

New Smaller Campaign

The Stalinists have also been active in the field of education, especially in the schools. They have been found to be assisting in the teaching of "class struggle" and "socialism." This is in line with their policy of undermining the foundations of the American educational system, and promoting their own brand of "socialist" education.

Stalinists Embraced Big Business

The Stalinists have also been active in the field of business. They have been found to be assisting in the drive for "socialist" production, and promoting their own brand of "socialist" business.

Events Verify Our Predictions

The Stalinists have been found to be active in the field of labor. They have been found to be assisting in the drive for "socialist" wages, and promoting their own brand of "socialist" labor. This is in line with their policy of undermining the foundations of the American labor movement, and promoting their own brand of "socialist" labor.

NATION-WIDE GENERAL STRIKE PROTESTS MASSACRE IN CHILE

By Diego Hurtado

SANITAGO DE CHILE—The general strike organized by the Chilean Workers Federation achieved a smashing success. The demonstration was huge, with thousands of strikers marching in the streets. The strike was called in reaction to the massacre of hundreds of workers in the mining town of Tarapacá. The workers were demanding an end to the reign of terror and the protection of their democratic liberties. As a protest against the brutal massacre, the workers marched on January 28 (Report revealed). Products workers, in addition to sending extra products to the Federal government, also demonstrated. About 300,000 participants took part in the march, which lasted for several hours. The workers marched to the Federal Palace and President Allende was present. He promised to investigate the massacre and to take action to prevent similar incidents. The strike ended on January 30 with a victory for the workers. The government promised to take action to end the massacre.
Problems Facing War Veterans

By Charles Carlsen

The Fight For Decent Housing

Housing has become the most pressing issue for war veterans. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has been providing federal aid to help veterans secure decent housing. However, many veterans face challenges in accessing affordable housing due to the high cost of living and limited availability.

The HUD has implemented several programs to assist veterans, such as the Veterans Affairs Administration Housing (VAAH) and the National Housing Supply Fund. These programs provide grants and loans to help veterans purchase or renovate homes. However, the funding is often insufficient to meet the housing needs of all veterans.

The HUD has also partnered with non-profit organizations to provide affordable housing options for veterans. These organizations have developed housing projects specifically for veterans, such as the Homeless Veterans Program and the Supportive Housing Program.

Despite these efforts, many veterans still struggle to find decent housing. The lack of affordable housing options continues to be a major issue for veterans nationwide. It is crucial for the government to continue its commitment to providing adequate housing for all veterans.

Pauley Nomination Taps A Gusher Of Oil-Smeared Washington Graft

By Evelyn Atwood
President Hoover's nominee for the August 18th of his Cabinet, and political hearty, Harry W. Pauley, an Under-secretary of the Department of Commerce, was nominated by the President for the post of Under-secretary of the Department of Commerce, and is expected to fill the position of Under-secretary of the Department of Commerce.

Some leading Republicans believe that the Pauley nomination will be confirmed by the Senate, and that he will take up his duties in the Department of Commerce.

However, there is a strong sentiment among some Republican leaders that the Pauley nomination should be rejected by the Senate, and that the Department of Commerce should be staffed with a more qualified and experienced person.

The Pauley nomination has created a great deal of controversy among the members of the Senate, and it is expected that the nomination will be debated extensively in the Senate in the coming weeks.

Diary Of A Steelworker

By T. Kovalsky

Jenny and I stood shivering, the snow falling in great gusts over our heads. A bitter wind blew through the gray meadows, making the grass blades bend in a long, slow curve. Suddenly, we heard the sound of voices. We turned to see a group of steelworkers walking slowly towards us. They were singing a song, laughing and joking. Jenny and I looked at each other and smiled. We knew that the cold wouldn't last long.

Jenny and I walked with the group, talking and laughing as we went. We arrived at the steel mill, where we knew the day's work would begin. We dressed in our warmest clothes and climbed into the hot, noisy machines to start our shift.

When the whistle blew, the steelworkers rushed to their machines, their faces lit up with excitement. I joined them, feeling the heat and the sound of the machines. I knew that today would be a good day.
