ATTACK ON MINERS HITS ALL LABOR

U. S. Imperialism Steps Up Drive Toward War

by By Joseph Keller

The most savagely concerted strike-breaking ever attempted by Big Business, and one which has reached its frenzied climax last Friday, May 19, the day the AFL United Mine Workers wrangled an "agreement in principle" from the coal masters on its key health and safety demands and offered a two-week truce in the 6-month strike of 188,000 coal miners.

With a desperation born of fear before the demonstrable power of the militant, coal miners, the bosses, the corporations, and every capitalist instrument of propaganda were mobilized

Korean Labor Pleads For Aid Against Brutal American Rule

SPECIAL TO THE MILITANT

KOREAN LABOR LEADERS have appealed to the American public to join in the struggle against the American military government in South Korea. They are asking for help in obtaining food, medicine, and other necessities for the Korean workers, who are being poverty-stricken by the American military government.

The Korean government, which has been in power in South Korea since the end of World War II, has been supported by the United States and other Western countries. However, the Korean workers are seeking independence from the American military government.

The Korean labor leaders are asking for the support of the American public in their struggle against the American military government.

For American's sake

The American public, especially those who support American imperialism, should support the Korean labor leaders in their struggle against the American military government.

Four Freedoms

The Four Freedoms, as proposed by President Roosevelt, have been adopted by the United Nations as the basis for a world of peace and security. These freedoms are: (1) Freedom of speech and of the press; (2) Freedom of worship; (3) Freedom from want; and (4) Freedom from fear. These freedoms are essential for the development of a just and peaceful world. The American public should support the Korean labor leaders in their struggle to achieve these freedoms.

The Nuremberg Trials And The Moscow Trials

A Statement by the National Committee of the Socialists' Workers' Party

The Nuremberg Trials, at which the criminal leaders of the Nazi state were put on trial for their crimes, have shown that the world cannot afford to forget the lessons of history. The trials have been a reminder of the importance of justice and the need for accountability.

The Moscow Trials, on the other hand, have been a reminder of the need for vigilance and the need to remain vigilant against the forces of reaction.

The Communist Party is committed to the principles of the Four Freedoms, and to the struggle for a world of peace and freedom. We call on all who share these principles to join us in this struggle.

Trotsky's Biography Of Stalin — The Meaning Of The Attacks Upon It

By John B. Wright

This is the third volume of Mr. Wright's "Military" series, which appeared in the 1947 and 1948 issues of the New Masses. The present volume contains a series of essays on the history of the Russian Revolution. The essays are written in a straightforward, journalistic style, and provide a comprehensive overview of the events and figures that shaped the course of the revolution.

Chapter 1: The Rise of Stalin

Stalin's rise to power began in the early 1920s, following the death of Lenin. Under Stalin's leadership, the Soviet Union underwent significant changes, including the collectivization of agriculture, the expansion of industrial production, and the suppression of dissent.

Chapter 2: The Great Purges

Stalin's Great Purges were launched in the late 1930s and early 1940s, targeting perceived enemies of the state. The purges resulted in the execution of millions of people, including many high-ranking officials.

Chapter 3: The Second World War

Stalin played a significant role in the Soviet Union's victory in World War II. The war provided an opportunity for Stalin to assert his authority over the Eastern European satellite states.

Chapter 4: The Cold War

The Cold War began in the 1950s, with the Soviet Union and the United States engaging in a series of proxy wars and ideological battles. Stalin's death in 1953 marked the end of the Cold War period.

Chapter 5: The Legacy of Stalin

Stalin's legacy remains controversial, with some historians praising his achievements and others criticizing his brutality and mismanagement. The present volume provides a balanced assessment of Stalin's role in the history of the Russian Revolution.

Arabs And Jews Display Solidarity As Wake Sweep Waves Palestine

By T. Chi

JERUSALEM, May 20—The Arabs and Jews at last displayed solidarity in the history of Palestine, for surpassing any which have taken place before. The result of this movement is that the Arab-Jew conflict ends, and the desire for peace is the desire for permanent peace.

On the 20th of April, 1948, Arab and Jewish demonstrations were held in Jerusalem, and in several other cities in Palestine. The demonstrations were united in their demand for a united Palestine, and their protest against the policies of the British government.

The movement started on May 6 and continued for several days. More than 200,000 people participated in the demonstrations, and the worldcourts were filled with people from all over the world. The demonstrations ended on May 17.

The demonstrations were organized by the Palestinian Labour Union, and the Palestinian National Council. The demonstrations were supported by the United Nations, and the United States government.

The demonstrations were a significant step towards the achievement of a united Palestine. The demonstrations showed the world that the Arab and Jewish people are one people, and that they should work together for the benefit of all.

Stalinist Leaders Incite Ranks To Assault Trotskyists

Editor:

The Advance of the Dictatorship of the Communist Party, a leaflet circulated in the Twin Cities, quotes a Moscow speech by Stalin as saying that the Trotskyists are "enemies of the revolution." The leaflet calls for the destruction of the Trotskyist movement.

The leaflet also states that the Trotskyists are "enemies of the people," and that their activities are "dangerous to the security of the state."

The leaflet urges the Trotskyists to leave the country, and to cease all political activity.

The Advance of the Dictatorship of the Communist Party

"Trotskyites are traitors to the cause of the revolution."

The leaflet concludes by stating that the Trotskyists are "enemies of the people," and that their activities are "dangerous to the security of the state."

Emil H. Fine, a member of the Twin City Trotskyite group, has been arrested on charges of sedition.

The Negros Struggle

by Charles Jackson

The Negro's Secret Weapon

Many southern whites are being forced to the polls (even though they may temporarily be employed in a factory) in order to maintain their unhealthy status quo. The workers, they say, are too stupid to vote. They are ignorant of their rights—of their discrimination and segregation. The Negro should be taught the secret weapon of the South—his votes.

And what about the forces of the labor movement? The National Negro Congress (NNC) has voiced its support for the Negro vote, but it has not been fully effective. There is a need for the labor movement to come to the aid of the Negro in his struggle for civil rights.

The Socialist Workers Party

The Founding Woman

By Grace Carson

"Woman as she is"—in any language—"she's on the make." With each appeals to political parties, women have tried to build up to a womanpower during the war.

Millions of women who entered the war industry have become accustomed to the idea that the war will end, that they will have to return to the dustbins of domesticity.

The problem is not simply one of education; it is a problem of the very nature of society itself. The war has shown that women can take on jobs of all kinds, that they can contribute to the war effort. But the fact remains that women are still looked upon as second-class citizens in this society.

The Founding Woman was a born leader. She had a natural gift for organization and administration. She was one of the first women to see the need for a national organization of working women.

Since her death, her memory has been kept alive in the minds of many who have followed her example. The Socialist Workers Party has continued to fight for women's rights under her leadership.
Diary Of A Steelworker
By T. Kovelsky

"The working out of the body is not comparable to making a blank." This is a phrase that many of us have heard from our steel workers. It's especially true when we think of the hard work they put in.

On the job, the steelworkers are in a constant state of physical exertion. The heat, the noise, the dust, all contribute to their daily routine. They work hard to make our world a better place.

One day at the mill, I saw a steelworker waving his arm at a big, sweaty machine. He smiled and said, "You know, it's not easy to work here. But I love it. It's what I was born to do." I felt moved by his words and realized how much we need the steelworkers in our society.

Notes Of A Seaman
By Art Sharon

The majority of seamen have either taken a strike vote or are on vacation. On the west side, the membership of the Seamen's Union has voted overwhelmingly for strike action more than 90 per cent. On the coast, similar with the CIO, the Seamen's Union has voted to strike on the west side as well.

These votes are clearly a sign of the strength of the Seamen's Union in the industry. The union is fighting to improve conditions for its members.

On The Railroads

Railroad workers are the backbone of our country. They work hard to keep the nation on the move. It's important that we support them in their fight for a better future.

President Kennedy has signed an emergency bill that protects the rights of seamen and railway workers. This is a welcome step forward.

The union is working hard to ensure that the rights of these workers are protected.

On the issue of healthcare, the union has made significant progress in terms of quality and accessibility.

The union is committed to ensuring that all workers have access to affordable and comprehensive healthcare.

In conclusion, the steelworkers, seamen, and railroad workers are all working hard towards a better future for all.
