The Road Labor Must Follow For Victory

By The Editors

The dramatic events of the past week mark a major turning point in the labor movement. The French workers have been fighting for their liberty, and the workers of the United States are fighting for their lives. The struggle is not just about labor rights. It is about the right to live and work in freedom.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF SWP MEETS IN N.Y.

A thoroughgoing and fruitful examination of party-building problems was the chief topic of discussion at the first day meeting of the National Committee of the Socialist Workers Party, held in New York City early last week.

The organization of the SWP, the national status and situation, matters of procedure, relationships of the party to the labor movement were all examined in detail by the 14 members of the Central Committee.

In each section of the discussion, the emphasis was placed on the effort to build the party into a national political force with increasing influence in the labor movement.

SWP Calls For Labor's Aid To Halt Stalinist Hooliganism

NEW YORK, N.Y., May 21 — The Socialist Workers Party today issued a call to American workers to aid in halting the Stalinist hooliganism that is spreading within the labor movement.

The SWP said it is the duty of all workers to resist the efforts of the Stalinist party, which is seeking to gain control of the labor movement and to impose its dictatorial policies on the workers.

Why Browder Embarked On His "Mission To Moscow"

By Joseph Hansen

Why did Browder go to Moscow? What was the purpose of his trip? Was it possible to make a propaganda trip with Stalin's blessing? Was the trip a success? These are some of the questions raised by the recent visit of Browder to the Soviet Union.

TRUMAN CALLS FOR SAVAGE LAWS IN BIG BUSINESS WAR UPON LABOR

Wall Street's Strikebreaking Agency

Proposes Most Vicious Bill Ever Sought By President

Clamoring his savage strikebreaking offensive against American labor, President Truman on May 25 called on a special joint session of Congress to enact the most repressive legislation in the history of the United States. The movement was advocated by a bloc of pro-business congressmen, headed by the U.S. In Congress, Truman's chief supporter was Attorney General Clark, who had been in charge of the administration's drive to break the miners and railroad workers.

Federal Troops Used As Miners Defy Strikebreaking "Seizure"

May 25.— U. S. army troops have been ordered out for strikebreaking duty against American workers. In every mining community where the troops have been called out, the miners have been forced to work under the supervision of the federal government. The miners are being paid only a fraction of the wages they were receiving before the strike began.

SPECIAL TO THE MILITANT

PARIS, France—The first significant election campaign in the history of the Trotskyist movement in the world, and the most important in the French Section of the Fourth International.The P.C.I. (the official French Communist Party) is expected to get about 4,000,000 votes, whereas the Trotskyists are not expected to attract more than 100,000 votes.

The P.C.I. will campaign on the usual theme of a socialist program, whereas the Trotskyists will campaign on the theme of a socialist revolution.

The P.C.I. is the biggest single party in France, with about 100,000 members. It has a clear majority in the National Assembly, and is the leading party in the majority of the city councils.

The P.C.I. is expected to win the election. The P.C.I. has a long tradition of support from the working class, and is the official party of the trade unions.

The P.C.I. is a party of the working class, and is the official party of the trade unions.

The Road Labor Must Follow

Inger has been the proving ground for the workers. Some of the local unions of American labor have demonstrated that they can be a real force to be reckoned with. The American labor movement can be truly effective in the struggle for justice and material improvement.

The union has always been the guiding light of the workers. It has been the inspiration of the workers. It is the only organized force that can make a real impact on the policies of the government and the employers.

London Reader Says Work Grow More Class-conscious

Editorial:

A regular reader of the MILITANT, and have been for several years, has just written to me that he is today more class-conscious than ever in his life. I am interested to learn of his progress, although I have not had the chance to write to him personally. He states that he was once a member of the British Communist party, and has been a regular reader of the MILITANT for several years. Vet Hospital Unforgettable Revelation of Broken Lives

Dr. John Smith

Some of the patients are so young, so beautiful, so full of life, and yet they have so much pain. They have been brought to the hospital for treatment, but they are not cured. They are suffering from various illnesses, and they are in great pain. Some of them are in the final stages of disease, and they are not expected to live much longer. They are in great pain, and they are in great need of help. They are in great pain, and they are in great need of help.

$12,294 REACHED IN MILITANT FUND AS DRIVE FORCES AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

By Justine Lang

Campaign Director

The major project of the Socialist Workers Party, as well as that of the Communist Party, is the Militant fund drive. A total of $12,294 has already been reached, and the drive continues until July 15.

In this year’s drive, we have reached not only the members of the Militant Fund but also the general public. This has been possible because of the efforts of our local and national leadership.

We have had a number of successful events, such as the Million Dollar Drive in New York City. This drive was able to raise $5,000 in just one day, thanks to the hard work of our members.

Our goal for this drive is to raise $25,000. We believe that we can achieve this goal if everyone does their part.

We are already well on our way to achieving our goal, and we encourage everyone to continue to support the Militant fund drive.

The Militant Fund is essential to our work. It helps us to provide a voice for the working class and to educate people about the socialist revolution.

Please support the Militant Fund and help us to continue our important work.

Why Stalin Inflicted Mass Purges On Revolutionary Soviet Workers

By Joseph Hansen

The picture on the cover of this issue shows a man with a rifle and a woman with a bayonet. It is a reproduction of a photograph taken by the Trotskyists in Ufa in 1920, during the period of the Russian civil war. The man is Lev Kamenev, and the woman is Alexandra Kollontai. Kamenev was a leading member of the Bolshevik party and later a Soviet statesman. Kollontai was a prominent Soviet politician and writer. The photograph has been widely reproduced in Trotskyist publications to illustrate the revolutionary role of women in the struggle for socialism.

Many attempts have been made to explain this long series of purges by the people of the Soviet Union. Some have argued that Stalin was driven by personal ambition and paranoia, while others have pointed to the pressures of the Cold War and the need to maintain control over the Soviet state. Still others have suggested that the purges were a consequence of the intense class struggle that characterized the early years of the Soviet state.

The most satisfying explanation is that Stalin's purges were a necessary step in the development of a revolutionary state. The purges were not a random event, but rather a deliberate and calculated move to break the back of the counter-revolutionary forces that threatened the state. Stalin's goal was not just to remove his enemies, but to create a new, disciplined and loyal Soviet state.

The purges were not just a means to an end, but a part of the revolution itself. They were a way of destroying the old order and creating a new one. The purges were not just a tool of repression, but a vehicle for change. They were a part of the process of building a new society, where the interests of the state and the interests of the individual were one and the same.

The purges were a part of the struggle for power and for control. Stalin's purges were not a product of his paranoia, but a product of the revolutionary struggle for power.

Diary of a Steelworker By T. Kovalsky

The town was light and bright with the reflection of the moon on the water. The porch was left unlit, yet the darkness did not seem to affect the mood of the room.

"That's right," said the man, turning towards me. "I've never been one to seek out trouble."

I was the one to approach him, after all. With a smile and a nod, I turned towards the door. "Good night."
