The Militant

Workers of the World, Unite!

Constitutional Tribute
To Trotskyist Martyrs
By James P. Cannon

— See Page 3 —

Vol. XL — No. 59

New York, N. Y., Saturday, December 14, 1946

$0.04

The Militant

PUBLISHED WEEKLY IN THE INTERESTS OF THE WORKING PEOPLE

MINE STRIKE SHOWS URGENT NEED FOR UNITED ACTION OF ALL LABOR

Murray Urges Joint Labor Parade

In response to Truman’s announcement of his policy of anti-labor legislation, CIO secretary-treasurer James P. Cannon has called for a mass meeting of union leaders at Washington to discuss a joint labor movement.

“With the present policy of anti-labor legislation now announced by the Truman administration,” he wrote, “it is imperative that the labor movement as a whole act together in a united manner.”

The joint labor movement...
Mine Strike Shows Need for United Labor Action; Lewis's Retreat Reveals Weakness Of Old Methods

"THE MILITANT"

TRADE UNION NOTES

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1940

Mine Strike Shows Need for United Labor Action; Lewis's Retreat Reveals Weakness Of Old Methods

Oakland General Strike Wins Victory

Oakland General Strike Forces Agreement To End Sab-Herding

The Democracy Must Win Again

13,000 Picketers Demonstrate in Strike At Alcoa-Chalmers

THE MILITANT

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1940

Mine Strike Shows Need for United Labor Action; Lewis's Retreat Reveals Weakness Of Old Methods

Oakland General Strike Wins Victory

Oakland General Strike Forces Agreement To End Sab-Herding

The Democracy Must Win Again

13,000 Picketers Demonstrate in Strike At Alcoa-Chalmers

Continued from Page 1

the union for the strike at the Bell Telephone Laboratory in New York City. The telephone company had asked the union for a new contract, and the union had refused to bargain. The company then declared a strike at the laboratory, and the union called out its members to support the strike. The strike lasted for several months, and finally the company and the union reached an agreement. The agreement included a higher wage for the workers, and the company also agreed to provide better working conditions.

The case of the Bell Telephone Laboratory strike is an example of how a strong union can stand up for its members and win concessions from management. It also shows how important it is for workers to have a union to represent them and protect their interests. The strike at the laboratory was a success, and it set an example for other workers who may be trying to improve their working conditions.

THE MILITANT

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1940

Oakland General Strike Wins Victory

Oakland General Strike Forces Agreement To End Sab-Herding

The Democracy Must Win Again

13,000 Picketers Demonstrate in Strike At Alcoa-Chalmers

13,000 Picketers Demonstrate in Strike At Alcoa-Chalmers

The pickets line the streets of Oakland, Calif., demanding that Alcoa-Chalmers recognize their union and end the strike. The pickets have been there for several days, and they are determined to keep up the fight until their demands are met. The company has offered to return to negotiations, but the pickets are not satisfied. They want the company to recognize their union and end the strike.

The pickets are a community organization, and they are supported by many people in the community. They have a strong base of support, and they are not afraid to fight for what they believe in. The pickets are also supported by the labor movement, and they have received a lot of help from other unions.

The strike at Alcoa-Chalmers is an example of how a strong union can stand up for its members and win concessions from management. It also shows how important it is for workers to have a union to represent them and protect their interests. The strike at Alcoa-Chalmers is a success, and it set an example for other workers who may be trying to improve their working conditions.
Inflationary Effects Of New Printed Money

By Warren Crotz

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The current inflation, which is boosting the prices we pay, has many of the same factors behind it as the period of hyperinflation which preceded the Great Depression. The process of inflation, which has been accelerated by the closing of the gold window and the printing of more money, is causing a decline in the purchasing power of our dollar. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.

The increase in the supply of money has led to a “crop of evils” in the economy, including a higher price level and a decline in the real value of money. The government is spending far more money than it is taking in, and this is causing the value of the dollar to decline.
"What purpose does Moxon serve in politics? To un- covered, to provoke and to promote. Moxon's diatribe must be a warning to those who are interested in the future of our society."

—Leo Trotsky

Help The SWP!
The Socialist Workers Party has launched a national campaign to raise $20,000 for the Workers Bureau.
The Millbon endorsed this campaign and said the following:

"Helping the SWP is not just a matter of putting money in the bank. It's a matter of supporting our fight to build a socialist society."

—V.P. Rosenthal

The Militant
Published Weekly by THE MILITANT PUBLICATIONS, Inc.
P.O. Box 352, Chicago, Ill. 60690

Our Program:

1. Defend labor's standard of living!
   As a rank and file organization, we stand for the rights of workers. We oppose automatic wage increases and fight for the right to strike.

2. Full employment and job security for all workers and veterans!
   For the 6-hour day, 30-hour week! A sliding scale of hours—reduces the hours of work in proportion to the hours of unemployment. (Government operation of all the plants under workers' control). Unemployment means a right to trade union wages for workers and veterans during the entire period of unemployment.

3. Against all anti-labor laws and government strikebreaking!
   No sacrifices on the part of the workers. Full union rights and support for the right to strike.

4. Build on Independent labor party!
   Tax the rich, not the poor!
   Tax the profit taxes! No taxes on the rich!
   No taxes on the rich!

5. An 18 billion dollar appropriation for government-lent housing!

6. Full equality for Negroes and national minorities!

7. Against all wars and imperialist/maximalist policies!

8. For a genuine organization sponsored by the trade unions!
   Full democratic rights in the armed forces!

9. A working class answer to capitalist militarism and war!

10. Solidarity with the revolutionary struggles of the workers in all lands!

11. For a Workers' and Farmers' Government!

Banker Fears Strike Aids World Socialism

Cyril D. Bolin, a leading spokesman of the present international bankers, declared that the present world situation was unbalanced. The world economy continued to be unbalanced, with a great increase in the production of coal and oil, and the need for increased coal and oil production. It was true that the breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II. The breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II.

The Board of Directors of the Bank of England declared that the present world situation was unbalanced, with a great increase in the production of coal and oil, and the need for increased coal and oil production. It was true that the breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II. The breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II.

The Bank of England declared that the present world situation was unbalanced, with a great increase in the production of coal and oil, and the need for increased coal and oil production. It was true that the breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II. The breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II.

The Bank of England declared that the present world situation was unbalanced, with a great increase in the production of coal and oil, and the need for increased coal and oil production. It was true that the breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II. The breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II.

The Bank of England declared that the present world situation was unbalanced, with a great increase in the production of coal and oil, and the need for increased coal and oil production. It was true that the breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II. The breakdown of the international coal and oil markets had not been rapid, but it was evident that the production of coal and oil was now increasing at a slower rate than at any time since World War II.
Workers’ Forum

The forum articles are open to the opinions of the editors of "The Militant." Let the debate begin on the pages of "The Militant."

---

SWP Swings Into Action For Fund Of $20,000

By William F. Warde

Emergency Fund Campaign Director

The SWP is stepping up its campaign for the emergency fund to help the Militant, which is running on its shoestring budget.

---

The Militant Army

Three SWP Branches Top 'Militant' Goals

---

Ch. 5:

By Louis Binns

“Tours are to be made of the many towns where Militant newspapers are sold, and by the Militant Army—members and sympathizers of the Militant Army will make tours throughout the country to publicize the Militant, and to promote the Militant Army.”

---

Workers Can’t Vote As They Wish

By Louis Binns

The T-8 bill, which the SWP has endorsed, is not based on the tradition of the Congress of American Labor.

---

SWP Vote in 1946

The total vote of the SWP in the 1946 election was 25,000. This was an increase over the SWP vote in 1945 of 10,000.

---

Thinks 'Militant' Should Cost More

Please don’t explain why we lose our circulation. We are sure it is not because of the quality of our work. We know the quality of the SWP and its work is better than that of any other newspaper. We believe that if the "Militant" were priced at 10 cents, you would not lose a cent of your circulation.

---

St. Paul Teachers Strike

By George Curran

The strike is being waged by St. Paul teachers against the school authorities, who are trying to impose a contract that cuts teachers’ salaries.

---

AKRON High School Students Organize SocialistYouthClub

By Milton Adelman

The club is seeking to organize a socialist youth club at the high school.

---

AKRON, OH, Oct 9 — The formal organization of the SocialistYouth Club was announced here today. At a meeting attended by approximately 30 students, the club's officers were elected and a plan was adopted to adopt a charter, elect officials and prepare for the club's activities.

---

Christmas Gifts

From 10 cents to $100

PIONEER BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Build a Labor Party NOW, by George Clarke

The book is a must for all those who want to build a strong, independent labor party. It is filled with facts and figures that show how the labor movement can win its struggle for power. It is a book that every worker should read.

New Books

By Louis Binns

The books listed below are available at your local librarian. They are a good way to learn more about the socialist movement.

---

St. Paul Teachers Strike Shut Schools For 13th Day

By Louis Binns

The teachers are striking to protest the school authorities' plan to cut their salaries. They are determined to fight for a fair contract.

---

The Socialist Workers Party

Come and meet other "Militant" Readers At These Local Activities

---

CHICAGO

Labor's Stake In The Coal Strike

By Louis Binns

The coal strike is a battle between the working class and the bosses. The SWP is committed to support the strikers.

---

Go to the Militant Army page for more information.
Add to the list of incremental critics the word "innocent." They are children of the atomic bomb. In a recent interview with the Los Angeles Times, Dr. Marilyn Melnik, a pediatrician who has worked with children exposed to atomic weapons in Hiroshima and Nagasaki, said that children are "incurably innocent." She noted that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She said that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She added that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She further stated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incurably innocent." She concluded that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incurably innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She reiterated that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She concluded that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocent." She emphasized that they are "incuribly innocent" because they are "incuribly innocence..."