5,000 PROTEST AGAINST W.P.A. CUTS

W.P.A. To Cut Rolls Another 100,000 in June

WILL BRING TOTAL NUMBER OF “GUINEA PIGS” SACRIFICED SINCE NOVEMBER TO 850,000—NO JOBS IN INDUSTRY FOR DISMISSED WORKERS

Another 100,000 W.P.A. workers are to be dropped, sent to their home relief rolls, with no hope of private employment! That is the cold-blooded decision of the Roosevelt W.P.A. Administration.

In the words of Congresswoman Fiorello H. La Guardia, "the first cuts were "an experiment to see whether relief expenditure could be cut off in a small way, just as one would experiment with a new drug, to see whether it will do any good."

The second experiment, as we have all seen, is a practical demonstration of the responsiveness of the W.P.A. to the pressure of large-scale financial measures. In both cases, there is no implication that the workers have been chosen by any means other than the basic criteria of need and ability.

LUCY NEGRON WORKER IN MISSISSIPPI

Tortured with Hot Irons, Shot, for Refusing Pay Cut

By (Staff Writer)

Tortured with hot irons and shot, the San Francisco office of the Socialist Workers Party yesterday released a statement that Lucy Negron, a worker in Mississippi, had been tortured by the Mississippi cotton bosses for refusing to work. The statement called for a national boycott of the Mississippi cotton industry in protest against the treatment of Negron and other workers in the South.

In the statement, SWP leaders charged that the Mississippi cotton bosses, "who have been forcing women like Lucy Negron to work under the most brutal conditions, have been engaging in a campaign of terror and murder to break the workers." The statement continued, "We call on all workers in the South to join the strike of the Mississippi cotton workers and to join the national campaign to eradicate sweatshops and exploitative conditions in the cotton industry.

Labor Mobilizes Behind Eide in Mpls. Election

The Strike of the Seattle International Union of Operating Engineers got underway on Saturday night. The strike was called after the failure of negotiations with the operators. The strike is a direct result of the long-standing struggle between the two sides over the question of the future of the Seattle International Union of Operating Engineers.

In view of the fact that the Seattle International Union of Operating Engineers has been on strike for over four months, it is not surprising that the operators have not been willing to make any concessions. However, the operators have agreed to meet with the union representatives to discuss the matter further.

Despite this resounding victory, the operators have not yet agreed to any of the union's demands. The union is continuing its strike until a new agreement can be reached.

With the support of the workers, the union is determined to fight for their rights and to ensure that the operators adhere to the terms of the new agreement.

NATIONAL UNION OF MINING EMPLOYEES

Members of the National Union of Mining Employees (NUME), who have been on strike for over six months, have won a significant victory this week.

The NUME announced that it has won a major victory in its long-running strike against the coal companies.

The union has been fighting against the coal companies for better wages and working conditions for over six months, and this week it was able to negotiate a new agreement that includes substantial wage increases and improved working conditions.

The NUME is pleased with the outcome of these negotiations and is committed to continuing its fight for better wages and working conditions for all miners.

Crack Boss Unity

But Local 67 of the Interna tional Union of Operating Engineers, which represents coal miners in the area, has also had some success in its negotiations. The union has won a significant victory in its long-running strike against the coal companies.

Southport Conference of B.L.P. Reverses Stand on Conscientious in

Despite the tremendous wave of opposition among labor leaders, the Southport Conference of the B.L.P. last week reversed itself and voted to drop from the name of the party the word "conscientious." This, of course, means that the party will now officially be called the B.L.P. without any reference to its earlier stand on conscientious objection.

The vote, which was taken by a show of hands, was the result of a long debate during which various speakers argued both for and against the continuation of the party's stand on conscientious objection.

The motion to drop the word "conscientious" was made by Mr. John Smith, the acting leader of the party, who said that the time had come for the B.L.P. to move away from the issue of conscientious objection.

The motion was supported by a number of speakers, including Mr. John Smith, who said that the issue of conscientious objection was no longer relevant to the B.L.P.

However, the motion was opposed by Mr. Richard White, who argued that the B.L.P. should not abandon its stand on conscientious objection.

The final vote was taken by a show of hands, with 70 votes in favor of dropping the word "conscientious" and 30 votes against.

The decision of the Southport Conference means that the B.L.P. will now officially be known as the B.L.P. without any reference to its earlier stand on conscientious objection.

French: In New Blow against the Opponents of Imperialist War

While the Pandro-Biskupi gang of "marches" and "stirrings" continued to irritate the French public with their frequent attacks on the working class and the working people, a new blow was dealt to the opponents of the imperialist war.

The police, in the course of their daily round, discovered a group of activists planning to organize a demonstration against the war. The police promptly arrested several members of the group and brought them to the central police station. The police then presented charges against the activists for conspiracy to organize a demonstration.

The activists, who were members of the French section of the International Labor Union, denied the charges and said that they were merely organizing a peaceful demonstration to protest against the war.

The demonstration was planned to take place on the 1st of June, which is a national day of protest against the war. The police said that the demonstration would be a threat to public order and would not be allowed.

A further blow to the opponents of the imperialist war was dealt by the French government, which announced that it would be increasing its military budget.

The increase in the military budget was part of the government's plan to increase its military strength in order to be able to defend itself against any potential enemies.

The opponents of the imperialist war said that the increase in the military budget was a direct threat to the peace of the world and would only encourage other countries to increase their military budgets.

On the Line... with Bill Morgan

One afternoon while waiting for the mail to come, Bill Morgan decided to write a letter to his friend in the South about the coming war which he agrees will be conducted without any interference from the United States. He said that the U.S. should not get involved in this war, and that it would only result in the destruction of the country.

He decided to write a letter to his friend about the coming war because he feels that it is a dangerous situation and that the United States should not get involved in it.

The letter begins with the statement that the United States should not get involved in the coming war. He goes on to say that the United States is a great country and that it should not get involved in any war.

He concludes his letter by saying that he hopes that his friend will agree with his view and that the United States will not get involved in the coming war.

Refugees in Cuba

There are few more disturbing stories of anguish and persecution than that of more than a million refugees from Cuba. They are women and children—who are kept in the propaganda of the line State, that the United States is the paradise of Cuba, which refuses to admit them.

The Cuban refugees, the Jewish victims of the "Aryan" system expected nothing but the best for them. But they were driven to the United States. According to the line, the refugees from the United States are victims of oppression, yet the United States is behind it.
