Labor and The Second World War

By J. R. Johnson

Germany and the "democracy," Great Britain and France, are once more locked in murderous conflict. President Roosevelt, like Woodrow Wilson in 1914, is not as neutral as he appears. Not only have the Allies increased their supplies of arms to the Soviet Union, the popular reaction here and abroad has grown stronger. The Roosevelt administration's support of the Soviet Union has been formalized in the Lend-Lease Act. The American people are increasingly aware of the growing danger to their country from a possible German attack. The American people are increasingly aware of the growing danger to their country from a possible German attack.

British "Democracy" in India and Africa

For the British, the Second World War is a war of two fronts. In Africa, Britain is fighting against the Japanese. In India, Britain is fighting against the Sikhs. In the Middle East, Britain is fighting against the Arabs. In the Indian Subcontinent, Britain is fighting against the Muslims. The British government is determined to keep India as a part of the British Empire, and it is using all means at its disposal to that end.

Behind the Lines

By George Stern

The papers here have been fighting for months against an anti-Communist, anti-Soviet, and anti-Semitic propaganda. The government is trying to suppress the news that the Soviet Union is aiding the British in their war against Germany. The government is also trying to suppress the news that the United States is aiding the British in their war against Germany.

New York SWP Girds All Its Forces For Final Campaign Sprint

Afterring successfully ending the activities to have its Brown candidate for Congress, Max LaZar, removed from the ballot, the New York State Socialists Workers Party completed its plans for a Congressional drive, converted into a contest for the last two weeks of the municipal campaign.

Major Struggle Ahead in India, British Reject Freedom Demand

The Indian National Congress—representing 5,000,000 organized members and tens of millions of Indian nationalists—this week ordered its eight leading provincial governments of British India to resist any political pressure of the British imperialists.

RANK AND FILE REVOLTS AGAINST STALINIST MISRULE

First Effects of C.I.O. Stalinist Purge Felt At Lumberjacks Convention

Point recordings of the C.I.O. Stalinist purge at the recent convention of the Communist Party of the United States (CPUSA) have shown a marked decrease in the number of Communist Party members. The C.I.O. purge, which was directed against the entire membership of the Communist Party, has caused a significant drop in the number of CPUSA members.

CORRECTION TO TROTSKY ARTICLE

The following three sentences were incorrectly omitted from the article on Trotsky in the last issue of the World Review of Books.

The Trotskyist movement has been growing in recent years, and it is now the most significant of the anti-Communist movements in the United States. The Trotskyists are a small but active group, and they are often able to influence the course of events by their active opposition to the policies of the official Communist Party.

THE NEGRO QUESTION

By J. R. JOHNSON

Franklin Roosevelt [said Earl Browder] and it has nothing to do with people who were in a political unit. If there is any difference of opinion, it is with the people who have been involved in the political unit. It is nothing to do with the people who have been involved in the political unit. It is nothing to do with the people who have been involved in the political unit. It is nothing to do with the people who have been involved in the political unit.

SPARKS IN THE NEWS

By Dwight Macdonald

Footnote on International Law

The New York Times reports that the U.S. government is considering a draft resolution that would establish a new international court to judicially settle disputes between states. The resolution, according to the Times, is based on the idea that the International Court of Justice should have the power to render advisory opinions on legal questions related to international law. The Times notes that this would be a significant departure from the current practice of the court, which has limited itself to only advisory opinions.

The Swag

The old-fashioned nineteenth century type of swagger is a thing of the pastas a swag or act of violence is rarely seen. This is due to the increased awareness of the dangers of such acts, and the increased law enforcement due to the increased awareness of the dangers of such acts, and the increased law enforcement efforts in recent years. However, swagging is still a problem in some areas, especially in rural areas where there is less police presence.

The Hitler Mover Takes Over

The Times, November 15, 1962

The Times reports that the new leader of the Hitler Mover movement, which is a right-wing extremist group, has taken control of the organization. The new leader, who was previously a member of the organization, has been politically active for several years and is known for his anti-Semitic views. The Times notes that the group has been involved in several controversial incidents in recent years, and that the new leader is likely to continue this trend.

Truth Is Beginning to Clear a Path for Itself

The Times, November 16, 1962

The Times reports that the truth is beginning to clear a path for itself in many areas of society. The newspaper notes that the truth has become more accepted in recent years, and that this has led to progress in areas such as civil rights and social justice.

Ignace Reiss

The Second Anniversary of His Death

By Leon Trotsky

Two years ago today, Ignace Reiss, a critic of Lenin, was assassinated outside his home in Paris. The Times reports that Reiss was a radical socialist who was known for his attacks on the Russian government. The newspaper notes that Reiss was a controversial figure in his time, and that his death was a significant loss to the democratic movement.

Tendencies Toward a Breakdown of National Unity in Great Britain

The Times, November 17, 1962

The Times reports that there are tendencies toward a breakdown of national unity in Great Britain. The newspaper notes that there are growing divisions between different groups in society, such as those between working-class and middle-class people. The Times notes that these divisions are likely to lead to social conflict in the future.

General Election

The Times, November 18, 1962

The Times reports that the upcoming general election in Great Britain is likely to be a close contest. The newspaper notes that the two major parties, the Labour and Conservative parties, are likely to have close support, and that this could lead to a hung parliament.
