The Kremlin's Aim
In the Finnish Crisis

Until a few days ago it appeared that the original demand of the Soviet government that Finland must be 'sanitized' was to be compromised. Suddenly, however, all indications of compromise seem to have disappeared. Why? What has happened?

You cannot tell from the preposterous and wild vituperation in the Soviet press or the speech in the Stalinist press. Nor can you tell from the anti-Soviet propaganda which dominates the "democratic" press. As in all other questions concerning the fate of the World War, in the case of the Kremlin's campaign of revolution against the war, must make our analysis independently and the conclusions we draw the above analysis.

The general international situation is characterized by the absence of a demand of the British government that Russia must be "sanitized". Only the first two days of the war, in the case of the Kremlin's campaign of revolution against the war, must be made independently and the conclusions we draw.

The real aim of the Kremlin is to avoid a war between the Baltic States and the Soviet Union. It is a war of defense against which the Kremlin cannot and will not undertake. It is not a war of the Soviet Union. It is not a war of the Soviet Union. It is not a war of the Soviet Union.

Computer

The only real way to defend the Soviet Union against the Finnish government is to put an end to that country. Only a successful defensive revolution in the region of the Baltic States can save the Soviet Union.

The way the Soviet government is to put an end to the Finnish government is to put an end to the Baltic States. Only a successful defensive revolution in the region of the Baltic States can save the Soviet Union.

Defensive Riddles: B-1 Frame-up Against WPA, WPA Workers

Government Acted as Scab and Strikebreaker in Enforcing Woodrum Law With Armed Force, Attorney For Defense Proves

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 23—Since last Wednesday, when the parade of 518 government workers in the third WPA article trial came to an end, the defense has been presenting its case.

As was expected, Judge Joyce denied the defense motions for dismissal of the case, although the parade of government workers had failed to establish the indictment charges that the strikers had violated Section 28 of the Revenue-Woodrum Relief Law by "interfering" WPA workers and that they had "caused" to the workers.

In his first speech to the defense, attorney Tom Davis termed the trial an "unusual and one of the strongest in American jurisprudence." The "interference" he said.

The Socialist Appeal Returns To Weekly Publication

Regarding to withdrawing financial subsidies, the Socialist Appeal is dependent upon the contributions of working people, and to remain independent of financial subsidies, to provide a platform for workers to express their views on economic issues, and to maintain a steady flow of financial support, the Socialist Appeal is committed to the provision of platform for workers to express their views on economic issues, and to maintain a steady flow of financial support. To provide a platform for workers to express their views on economic issues, and to maintain a steady flow of financial support, the Socialist Appeal is committed to the provision of platform for workers to express their views on economic issues, and to maintain a steady flow of financial support. To provide a platform for workers to express their views on economic issues, and to maintain a steady flow of financial support, the Socialist Appeal is committed to the provision of platform for workers to express their views on economic issues, and to maintain a steady flow of financial support.

Announcing

MUTINY!
A New Series of Special Articles, Beginning in This Issue.

I. "We Want To Go Home!"
II. "We Want To Know Why I Am Dying!"
III. "We Will Meet Peace Our Way!"
IV. "We'll Keep Our Ships!"
V. "We're Fed Up!"
VI. "We'll Fight The NAACP!"
VII. "Comrades! Why Are You Shooting Us?"
VIII. "The Black Sea Mutinies In The British Fleet"
IX. "We're Fed Up!"
X. "You Only Enemies Are Your Officers!"
XI. "The Socialist Appeal Returns To Weekly Publication"

(Continued on Page 6)
Lost Colony—The End of the 'Craproiler Trail

By ROYAL N. BERGMAN

Nearly 300 acher Fuckers—ex-Political prisoners and workers—were arrested this week in Framingham, Mass., on charges of 'conspiring to obstruct justice.' The charges were brought under the Federal Anti-Trust Act, which makes it a crime to 'combine or conspire' to monopolize trade or commerce.

Workers, who have long been clamoring for higher wages and better working conditions, have been victimized by the government's 'credibility' campaign. The government has been accused of 'conspiring' to keep wages low and working conditions bad.

The government's 'credibility' campaign has been countered by a new effort to win support for the 'conspiring' workers. This effort has been led by the 'Soup Kitchen' movement, which has distributed soup to the workers in an effort to improve their living conditions.

Workers' Forum

Speaking in Boston, the governor of Massachusetts, Mr. Brown, said that the state should have the power to enforce its own laws. Mr. Brown said that the state's laws are being ignored by the workers and that the workers' actions are leading to 'conspiracies' that are threatening the state's economy.

Mr. Brown said that the state's laws are being ignored by the workers and that the workers' actions are leading to 'conspiracies' that are threatening the state's economy. He said that the state should have the power to enforce its own laws and that the workers should be held responsible for their actions.

Mr. Brown said that the state's laws are being ignored by the workers and that the workers' actions are leading to 'conspiracies' that are threatening the state's economy. He said that the state should have the power to enforce its own laws and that the workers should be held responsible for their actions.

Mr. Brown said that the state's laws are being ignored by the workers and that the workers' actions are leading to 'conspiracies' that are threatening the state's economy. He said that the state should have the power to enforce its own laws and that the workers should be held responsible for their actions.

Mr. Brown said that the state's laws are being ignored by the workers and that the workers' actions are leading to 'conspiracies' that are threatening the state's economy. He said that the state should have the power to enforce its own laws and that the workers should be held responsible for their actions.
THE LABOR WITH A WHITE SKIN CAN NOT ENMANCIPATE ITSELF WITHOUT A BLACK SKIN BRANDED
— KARL MARX.

NEGRO QUESTION

By J. R. JOHNSON.

Destiny of the Negro

(Outline of the course at the Marcel School)

The subject of the Negro and the Negro question has become one of the most important in the world. It is a question not only of race but of humanity itself.

The Negro is a people of ancient origin, who have been subjected to the most cruel and inhuman treatment. They have been enslaved, oppressed, and deprived of their basic human rights. Despite their struggle for freedom, they have been denied equal rights and opportunities.

The Negro question is not just a matter of race, but a question of justice and equality. It is a question of human rights and the fundamental principles of freedom and democracy.

In the United States, the struggle for civil rights has been ongoing for decades. The civil rights movement of the 1950s and 1960s brought about significant changes, but the fight for equality continues today.

In Africa, the struggle for independence and freedom from colonial rule has also been a significant aspect of the Negro question.

The struggle for freedom and justice is ongoing, and it is up to all of us to support and participate in the fight for equality and freedom for all people.
FIGHT WITH THE SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY FOR:

1. A job and a decent living for every worker.
2. An end to the exploitation of workers by employers.
3. 8-hour, 6-day working week for all workers.
4. Better public schools, for all children, free of that class—driven nationalism.
5. An end to the divisive policies of the working class, and an end to the Empire.