ROOSEVELT FORGETS THE ‘FORGOTTEN MAN’

Minneapolis Unions Fight F. B. I. Frame-Up

Stalin’s Real Crime

In Finland

AN EDITORIAL

Put your capitalist newspaper aside, take your head from the endless din of capitalist propaganda over the radio, the movies, the press, everywhere—and ask yourself a few fundamental questions about what is really happening in and about Finland.

Yes, Stalin committed a crime in Finland. But exactly what was the crime? And against whom was it committed? We know that answer is given to these questions by the capitalist press. But if you are a class-conscious worker, you don’t take your answers to your political questions from the press of the capitalists, do you?

Yes, Stalin committed a crime in Finland. Here is how we define and analyze his crime.

Finland is in a position of importance on the European border, a position that Lenin foresaw. There is no need to go into detail about what would be a natural result, if the Finnish workers were to arise from their slavish condition, to struggle for their liberation, to throw off the capitalist yoke,

Then would emerge, as was foreseen by Lenin, a socialist republic that would develop along the lines of the Soviet Union. This was the position of the Finnish workers, who wanted to make a revolution from their own, Finnish standpoint.

In 1918, the Finnish Workers’ and Soldiers’ Councils were formed. In 1918, the Finnish Social Democratic party, which had been leading the workers, set forth the program of revolution.

But Stalin, that is to say, the internationalist of the Finnish Workers’ party, opposed the Finnish workers in their fight for the revolution. He opposed the Finnish workers by opposing the workers everywhere. The crime of Finland against the will and desires of the International working class is the crime of Stalin and the workers everywhere who are supporting the Finnish Workers’ party, who are also creating the same crime everywhere.

A Crime Against the World

The crime committed by Stalin in Finland, but also in the world, is a crime against the world. The crime committed by Stalin in Finland is a crime against the world, and the crime committed by Stalin in the world is a crime against the world. Stalin’s crime is a crime against the world.

UNION WORKERS: Get No Jobs, Almost No Relief

JOBBING FORCE RELIEF IN CLEVELAND

RELIEF REACTION

TROTSKY RAPS PRESS LIES ON DIES QUERY

has No Secrets to Reveal; Give No Documents to Dies

Trotsky’s statement follows:

In the Moscow press today, deputy, dispossession of the American government reported that a group of American workers was about to be deported from the United States. The American government is deporting the American workers who are working in the United States.

Trotsky’s statement follows:

Before the Council, on the motion of the American government, the American government was about to be deported from the United States. The American government is deporting the American workers who are working in the United States. This action is being undertaken by the American government, as a part of their policy of deporting their own workers from the United States.

The statement issued today by the American government is an attempt to justify their action.

Behind the Lines

By GEORGE STEIN

Roosevelt caused a big uproar but, in the opinion of the administration, the idea of a big uproar was to be avoided. They decided to make the uproar as small as possible, and the result was that the uproar was avoided. Roosevelt caused a big uproar but, in the opinion of the administration, the idea of a big uproar was to be avoided. They decided to make the uproar as small as possible, and the result was that the uproar was avoided.

One aspect of this Americanism in the interest of the workers was the systematic propaganda used by the American government to keep the workers in the dark about their own interests. Roosevelt caused a big uproar but, in the opinion of the administration, the idea of a big uproar was to be avoided. They decided to make the uproar as small as possible, and the result was that the uproar was avoided.

The administration of the United States government, in the interest of the workers, has been systematically trying to keep the workers in the dark about their own interests. Roosevelt caused a big uproar but, in the opinion of the administration, the idea of a big uproar was to be avoided. They decided to make the uproar as small as possible, and the result was that the uproar was avoided.

Roosevelt caused a big uproar but, in the opinion of the administration, the idea of a big uproar was to be avoided. They decided to make the uproar as small as possible, and the result was that the uproar was avoided. Roosevelt caused a big uproar but, in the opinion of the administration, the idea of a big uproar was to be avoided. They decided to make the uproar as small as possible, and the result was that the uproar was avoided.

Behind the Lines

EVEN more important in the declaration of non-aggression is the protection of the workers. On December 13, 1937, the American government declared, in a resolution of the United States Congress, that it would support the “freedom of the workers” in the United States. This resolution follows:

The American government has declared that it would support the “freedom of the workers” in the United States. This resolution follows:

This action is an attempt to justify their action.

Behind the Lines

There is no need to go into detail about what would be a natural result, if the Finnish Workers’ and Soldiers’ Councils were formed. In 1918, the Finnish Social Democratic party, which had been leading the workers, set forth the program of revolution. In 1918, the Finnish People’s party, which had been leading the workers, set forth the program of revolution. In 1918, the Finnish Workers’ and Soldiers’ Councils were formed.

In the past few days, the truth has come to light about what the classes really think about the war. They didn’t

(Continued on Page 4)
What the Union Asked
And What They Got In 54 Day "Lockout"

BY GEORGE CLARKE

Washington, D.C., June 12.

The A.F.L. union organizers here have scored a major victory in their fight for unionization in the import industry.

The union, representing 600
employees of the American Importers, has won a 33 to 1 vote in favor of organizing.

The victory is significant because it represents the first time that the A.F.L. has successfully organized a major industry in the United States.

The union organizers conducted a vigorous campaign, door-to-door, convincing workers of the benefits of unionization.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.

The victory is also significant
because it shows the growing
strength of the A.F.L. in the
import industry.

The union, which was founded
in 1934, has been gaining
members at an increasing rate.
A Page from Finnish History

Wholesale Massacre of Finnish Workers Made Republic Possible

By VICTOR SERGE

The Hue and Cry About 'Poor Little Finland'

Almost everybody is jinking the pack in a heap collecting funds. Mr. Hoeven is seeking support for the Schedules. There are 300,000 people paying for a 6 per cent mortgage on this, which is not bad. The sooner we see the end of Hankow and the like the better. I have never been in China. The Chinese are not my favorite people, Mr. Hoeven. But I am not going to say anything about that.

Korensky Somewhat Belated

As we read it, Mr. Korensky, head of the Russian Communist government, obtained a copy of the files which had been published in the Helsinki papers. He was the first to publish them, no doubt, but it was the Bolsheviks who were the first to use the files. The whole thing is a little shrewdly put.

Where Were Roosevelt & Co.? Then

There they were, the gentlemen who have been so much in evidence in the Mexican papers. Where were they when the revolution broke out? Where were they when the workers were being slaughtered? Where were they when the peasants were being butchered? Where were they when the whole country was in flames? They were out of the country, of course. They were busy in Washington, plotting their next move, perhaps forming a new political party, the "Little Finland" party, as they call it.

First Things First

The prosecution of our great American publicists is of no use. The communist party of Russia to Gerrit Ahrendt would need a report of 100 pages on the subject of these people. They would make a fool of themselves, that is for sure.

To the left is a photograph of the Times with the headline "The Hue and Cry About 'Poor Little Finland'." The article begins: "The Hue and Cry About 'Poor Little Finland'" and continues: "Almost everybody is jinking the pack in a heap collecting funds. Mr. Hoeven is seeking support for the Schedules. There are 300,000 people paying for a 6 per cent mortgage on this, which is not bad. The sooner we see the end of Hankow and the like the better. I have never been in China. The Chinese are not my favorite people, Mr. Hoeven. But I am not going to say anything about that."
SPARKS IN THE NEWS
By Dwight Macdonald

Not fit to Print

The white night before the midnight strike of the N. Y. Times for December 14, based on the report that the company is planning to break the strike through a court order, the newspapers printed an old wartime story from the 1920’s which was not fit to print. The story is about the strike of the New York Times in 1922, when the workers went on strike and the papers were stopped. The story was published in the New York Times as a way to manipulate the public opinion against the workers.

Trotsky’s and Dies

The announcement in the press that Leon Trotsky accepted an invitation to appear before the Dies Committee is a most troublesome event. The announcement could only be an act of provocation, for neither of the two sides has any case to make.

Perfidious Albion

The British ruling class circles which are preoccupied with the question of the West’s political and military strategy, are often cited as examples of the British foreign policy. However, the results of this policy are often not as favorable as expected. The British have often been criticized for their lack of consistency and coherence in their foreign policy, which has led to a series of failures and setbacks. The British government has been accused of being too focused on short-term interests and ignoring long-term strategic considerations. The British foreign policy is often seen as inconsistent and unpredictable, which has caused mistrust and instability in the international community.

FDI On Minneapolis

On Friday, July 16, at the site of the automobile WPA office, Roosevelt permitted the press to quote him directly, a rare event. He said, among other things, that "The automobile WPA office is going to be used only for the benefit of the public and not for the benefit of any one person." He added: "You can’t run this country against the government." Emboldened by this, the director of the Minneapolis automobile WPA office from the president himself, the automobile WPA office begins to report directly to the president. The press, everywhere the clapperboard to clapperboard to clapperboard, tries to get a grip on what is really happening. The automobile WPA office is now in the hands of the automobile owners.

Stalin’s Real Crime

From Passed Page (From passed page) could not be replaced by Sayan

Behind the Lines

The Soviet Union is a political state, a political state, a political state, and not a political state. It is a state of the people, not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a class state, but a state of the people, and not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs.

The recent political maneuverings of Stalin have been described as a "calculated misstep" by the country’s leaders. The Soviet Union is not a political state, but a state of the people. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs.

The Soviet Union is a political state, a political state, a political state, and not a political state. It is a state of the people, not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a class state, but a state of the people, and not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs.

The Soviet Union is a political state, a political state, a political state, and not a political state. It is a state of the people, not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a class state, but a state of the people, and not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs.

The Soviet Union is a political state, a political state, a political state, and not a political state. It is a state of the people, not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a class state, but a state of the people, and not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs.

The Soviet Union is a political state, a political state, a political state, and not a political state. It is a state of the people, not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a class state, but a state of the people, and not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs.

The Soviet Union is a political state, a political state, a political state, and not a political state. It is a state of the people, not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a class state, but a state of the people, and not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs.

The Soviet Union is a political state, a political state, a political state, and not a political state. It is a state of the people, not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a class state, but a state of the people, and not a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs. The Soviet Union is not a state of the people, but a state of the oligarchs.