STALIN'S NEW PURGE--The First Account Published Anywhere

Purges the Majority of Trade Unions' Officials

Kremlin's Henchmen, Living Like An Upper Class, Have Been Devouring Workers' Funds For Their Own Purposes

By JOHN G. WRIGHT

Stalin is now in the midst of a new mass

The first step to be taken is to name the干ublic officials, according to official statistics, numbered 33,256,000, or six out of ten people in the country. About 200 of these officials are employed in the Ministry of Agriculture and 200 in the Komsomol (the young Communist League). The number of officials in the Komsomol is not very accurate, Stalin himself having boasted that he had 600,000 officials, or about ten times the number of the Komsomol officials. In the Moscow region, officials numbered 1,200,000, or about one in every ten families.

Stalin Must Expose His Accusations

Stalin today, as he has always, will des-cribe, in the usual trite language of his speech, his own officials, who have not only violated laws, but have also violated the Constitution of the Union. The Kremlin has been in a state of disorder and confusion, and the local authorities have been unable to do anything to stop it. In the Moscow region, officials numbered 1,200,000, or about one in every ten families.

Cabled Stories Suppressed by Stalin

Stalin has had his failings, as anyone can see, and the Kremlin has been in a state of disorder and confusion, and the local authorities have been unable to do anything to stop it. In the Moscow region, officials numbered 1,200,000, or about one in every ten families.

Here Are Some of the Anti-Labor Clauses in Roosevelt's Conservation Law

Are you one of the workers who is about to learn that there is no longer any such thing as the right to strike? That's the law that a New Deal is about to make when its Congress is about to turn a U.S. Constitution provision that has protected American workers' rights for 65 years into an all-out war on the American worker?

The actual words of the law that will be voted on in the House of Representatives this week end:

Sections 9 and 10 of the Conservation Bill which the President has just signed into law.

Section 9 is the standing strike law, which will result in a complete stoppage of all work in industries that involve the use of coal, steel, and other essential raw materials.

Section 10 is the minimum wage law, which will result in the closing of all industries where wages are below the minimum wage fixed by the President.

These sections, as well as the other sections of the Conservation Bill, are all part of the New Deal's anti-labor program, which is aimed at the complete destruction of the American worker's rights.

The New Deal has been in power for only a few months, but it has already succeeded in turning a once great country into a land of poverty and slavery. The workers have been forced to work longer hours for lower wages, and they have been denied the right to strike for the betterment of their working conditions.

The New Deal has been a disaster for the workers, and it is time for the workers to stand up and resist this tyrannical government. The workers have the power to overthrow this government and establish a just and equitable society for all.

Thank you for your support.

The Chinese Get a Lesson In Democracy

by George Stein

The Chinese Communists have suffered a severe defeat in the recent Shanghai disturbances. The Chinese government and the Fourth International have been calling for a united front against the communists. The communists have been fighting for the establishment of a socialist society. The conflict between the two sides has led to a series of violent incidents, including the recent disturbances in Shanghai. The Chinese government has been trying to suppress the communists, while the communists have been fighting back. The outcome of the conflict is still uncertain, but it is clear that the communists will continue to fight for their cause.

The Roosevelt Record

During eight years the present administration has done more to improve the lot of the working man than all the previous administrations put together. The government has taken steps to regulate the trusts and to protect the consumer. The Social Security Act has been passed, and other reforms have been introduced. The New Deal program has been successful in creating employment and improving the economic situation.

Jim Crow Is a General

As Commander-in-Chief of the Army, Roosevelt has been able to carry out the policies of the New Deal. The government has been able to make progress in the war effort, and the war has been brought to a successful conclusion. The country has been able to make progress in the field of education, and the schools have been able to train a new generation of leaders. The government has been able to make progress in the field of social welfare, and the people have been able to enjoy a higher standard of living.

Trotzky's Last Work

The Trotsky International News Bulletin of the Fourth International is published for the International Workers' Alliance, founded by Trotsky to carry on his revolutionary ideas after his death. The Bulletin is published in London by the International Publishers. It is a bi-weekly publication, and its price is 2/6 per annum.

Ultimate challenge of the working class is the establishment of a classless society, a society in which all men are free and equal, and in which the means of production are owned by the community as a whole.

Soviet Russia: The Nation that Punishes

By George Stein

The Soviet Union has been called a paradise for the working class. The government has been able to make progress in the field of education, and the schools have been able to train a new generation of leaders. The government has been able to make progress in the field of social welfare, and the people have been able to enjoy a higher standard of living.

STALIN'S NEW PURGE

Central Committee of the Communist International, which was composed of several hundred Moscow trade union officials. It has over the years been described as "the last of Stalin's great organizational moves" by those who have studied the period in detail.

Shvernik in the Confessional

The report to the Plenum was Shvernik's second as Chairman of the C.C. The previous report had been largely the work of his predecessor, Chicherin, and had focused on developments in the Soviet Union from 1931-1932.

In his new report, Shvernik outlined the current state of affairs in the Soviet Union, stating that industrial production had increased significantly since the previous report. He acknowledged that there were still some areas of concern, such as the continued need for agricultural cooperation, but overall he was optimistic about the future of the Soviet Union.

The report also touched on the ongoing struggle against the kulaks and the need for continued support from the workers to ensure the success of the Five-Year Plan.

The Scope of the Purge

After a proper preface, Shvernik announced the creation of a new permanent commission to investigate individuals accused of various crimes. This commission would be composed of representatives from various departments of the government.

The goals of the commission were to ensure that individuals were not retaliated against for having denounced others, and to prevent the spread of the purges to other areas of the Soviet Union.

The commission would have the power to investigate any evidence of crimes, and would have the authority to issue warrants for the arrest of individuals suspected of criminal activity.

In closing, Shvernik expressed the hope that the commission would be successful in its task, and that the Soviet Union would continue to thrive under the guidance of the Communist Party.
