Japan Presses For Colonization of China

The situation in the Far East is by no means abated, Japan announces the dispatch of troops to Shanghai to fortify her gains there, upon the excuse that the Chinese are threatening to relapse to conditions that result in defeat. The war maneuvers demand constant successes in order to keep the Japanese manpower free to attack on their own terms. Only a series of small-scale victories, as those in recent months, is sufficient to create the illusion of victories that result in defeats.

The situation is delicate. Japan finds itself in a position of strength. She has the Chinese on the run. But, if she were to begin a prolonged campaign, the Chinese might turn the tables. The situation is thus critical and requires the utmost caution and skill in handling it. The United States must be kept informed of the developments in the Far East.

The Autonomy of China

The question of the status of China is by no means settled. All of the agreements have been violated, and the Chinese are forced to continue their struggle for autonomy. The United States must take a firm stand against the Japanese aggression, both in the Far East and in the United States.

The Autonomy of China is a question of principle. The Chinese are determined to maintain their independence. The United States must support China and the Chinese in their struggle for autonomy.

Henry Ford will be greatly concerned about the situation in the United States, and the United States must take an active role in supporting China and the Chinese in their struggle for autonomy.

Framed Marine Workers Stand Trial

Over five months have passed since the New York police acting for the large automobile companies of the city, arrested two officers of the Independent Tidewater Boilermakers Union and arrested three of their leaders, charging them with attempting to organize the workers.

The trial began on May 19th, and the defendants, charged with the crime of conspiracy to organize the workers, are scheduled to come to trial on June 1st. The trial is expected to last for several weeks.

The trial is a test of the ability of the Independent Tidewater Boilermakers Union to organize the workers and to take a stand against the efforts of the automobile companies to break the union.

Since the advent of the crisis, and with its constant intensification, there has been aroused to face these problems entirely at variance with his former indifference. On the contrary, he is the author and direct critic into revolutionary work of the West. He has been a leader of the New York Students League was created by a group of socialists and former students of the socialist-controlled League for Industrial Democracy which, though not formally a student organization (Norman Thomas for example, is one of the directors) draws its membership from the working class. But what was necessary was a militant organization, oriented around a correct revolutionary program, to be in a position to combine its activities in New York with other states; how, in a word, to make a serious study of the individual struggles of its color groups—what are needed to be in fighting an issue pertaining to the whole student body. There are a few lines left for work. Despite its errors and failures the N. R. L. has been a good beginning. The greatest danger is that it be not regarded as a defeat. And this the C.U.L. members who comprise the present Student Council should bear in mind.

S. Y. C. Arranges Debates

Since the election of its new executive, the Spartacist Youth Club has already staged a number of debates with other student organizations as to the success and effects of the work of the club. At the last Student Council the club prepared a series of debates with other student organizations. The registration is still open and those interested are encouraged to join in and see what one can yet do by communicating with the club.

Two debates have already been arranged, one with the Student League and the Young Communist League, and a more ambitious debate at the Labor Temple on 14th Street. The former debate will be held at the Labor Temple on 14th Street. The latter will be held at the Labor Temple on 14th Street. The former debate will be held at the Labor Temple on 14th Street. A pamphlet is forthcoming with the title “The Capitalist Nature of the Coalition of the Standar Marxists on war. As such it is very important to the people.”

The coming war, with which the imperialist generals are linked, is a struggle over division of the market.

The marxists of the war-mongers, we answer Lenin’s answer: “Defeat our own bourgeoisie”, “Pull the imperialist war into civil war”, “The main engine is our own bourgeoisie”.

Socialism and War

such was the spark that the betrays of the working class, those "socialists" who supported their own capitalist class, and consequently forgot their own interests in the interests of the bourgeoisie, that struggle against capitalism, were not able to stand up. These groups seemed to be in a minority here. On the contrary, they were strong in correct theory, in Marxism-Leninism, and in practice. The result was that they were victorious over the capitalist class and their "socialist" superiors.

This lesson should be learned by all of us. We may all made a common experience, even at the small number of international troops in our country, so as to see the inevitability of the enemy. The conclusion is that we fully recognize the justification for the progressivism and the necessity of civil war, i.e., wars of an opposed class against the oppressor.

The oppressed class may be chattered about by the bourgeoisie. The bourgeoisie is a very limited use, the bourgeoisie in its revolutionary and reactionary attitudes.

In a statement the International Bureau regretted that the Russian party had not been able to take the lead in the October revolution: that was the only possibility of victory of the Red Army and that he is today the outstanding factor of the proletarian revolution.

"Now will this prevent what is inevitable, the downfall of the dictatorship of the degenerate Stalinist cliques. This downfall is inevitable. It will not be the preparation for the downfall of the proletariat dictatorship as the enemy class, but on the contrary, for the re- determination of the Workers’ and Peasants’ Alliance and for the development of the interna- tionary socialist cooperation in the U. 3. The working class is capable of grasping the character of the socialist revolution.
4. It is not necessary to seize the power of the state.

The working class must be armed with the Socialist program and must be organized into its ranks. The Socialist Party is the only organization that can do this.
