The commission was appointed at the last general assembly of the League of Nations in 1919. Its terms of reference, which were not limited to the armistice, but also included the question of a permanent peace settlement, were extended later, in 1921.

The commission was divided into two parts: one to consider the armistice agreements and the other to consider the terms of the peace treaty. The latter part of the commission was divided into two sub-committees, one for France and Italy, and another for the rest of Europe.

The commission was also given the task of arranging for the distribution of reparations to the defeated powers and for the establishment of a trust fund to be used for this purpose.

The commission was dissolved in 1923, and its work was transferred to the League of Nations.

The League of Nations was established in 1919, following the巴黎和会, and was intended to prevent future conflicts and promote international cooperation.

The league was based on the principle of collective security, which was to be achieved through the establishment of a system of collective sanctions and the machinery for their application.

The league was composed of 28 member states, and its headquarters were located in Geneva.

The league was the forerunner of the United Nations, which was established after World War II.

The league was dissolved in 1939, and its successor, the United Nations, was established in 1945. The United Nations was intended to be a more powerful and effective organization than the league, and it was given the task of maintaining international peace and security.

The United Nations was composed of 51 member states, and its headquarters were located in New York City.

The United Nations has been successful in maintaining international peace and security, and it has been able to prevent many conflicts from escalating into full-scale wars.

The United Nations has also been successful in promoting international cooperation on a wide range of issues, including economic development, human rights, and environmental protection.

The United Nations is still an important international organization, and it continues to play a vital role in world affairs.
rule of Great Britain, i.e., of its governing classes, one is bound to ask what will happen in France and not as a political question? These democrats with their fatalism and their surrender to foreign interests have no public opinion. They are hypersensitized with the anti-democratic phrase and the eternal distrust of all that they do not understand. They have not the courage to express their demands and their political will. They are content with the colored races, who do not read Shakespeare and wear no stiff collars.

And in spite of the fact they have Czarist Georgia, Egypt, Syria, and Ethiopia, and all these countries have the right to demand from us, their enemies, not their allies, the evacuation of their Sovereigns and the immediate abolition of slavery. Such demand is at the same time the inevitable bricklay that the petty-bourgeois democracy pays to the primary conqueror. All this has been conscientiously Henderson and Company say.

A workers' democracy whose ministers we become as soon as she calls us, cannot be expected to respect the principles of self-determination. Indeed, we course, the Socialists of this democracy, and respectable official elements of the bourgeoisie, will have the right to demand that we should respect the rights of their people and their oppressed. But you, the revolution emboldened in a state, you are bound to do so, not by the old trickeries of mud and hypocrisy.

In other words, although they formally recognize democracy as the highest ideal, they at the same time voluntarily declare that those high demands which, we say, they put to the bourgeois democracy, whose ministers or loyal parliamentarians have there, would seem ridiculous and idiotic, could and should be put to the advantage of the proletariat.

As a result of such involuntary tribute, they demand, the proletarian dictatorship an act which would fully correspond to the Bolshevik idea. And, as we maintain and defend itself not by the application of its own moral and material strength but by the overthrow of the German workers, the workers of the Second International and the proletariat as a whole.

But in this paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired, not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.

"Letter and more concrete ideas of the policy pursued by the Western democracies towards the backward people of the East, and consequently to the Second International in this diplomatic game, one has only to consult the American legal, the English law, and the French court. M. Palcyr. Those were not a book in existence we could not have been more surprised. We were not perhaps aware that the French nation had not been invaded, had its memories not appeared in time. Palcyr, in his book, "The most political of all the republicans," not only by his Brussean name, (the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus), but by his whole soul. In November 1914, in the first war period, a peasant movement armed in Russia has been under the control of an ashen-skinned and blond-haired. In Russian, the word Palcyr is a corruption of the Brussean name of a canthus.

In the paper, we defend our lives according to the conventional rules and regulations of the bourgeois democracies, and the principles that are made by our enemies, but which are never respected by them in the application of them.
had a surplus production. We see that England has, in fact, got used to the idea of not getting another penny from Germany. The English statement and political economists clearly see that the idea of the old world economy which renders possible the reduction of the gigantic and catastrophic consequences of revolution and the transfer to a commodity export only means the perpetuation of English exploitation of the rest of the world.

But only a very small portion of the reparations payments falls to the account of economic measures designed to solve its problem through simple confiscation. By far the greater part of the war reparations is paid to creditors, which left great hopes upon these payments. Let us take France for example. During the war it procured its financial needs by a loan from the Bank of England. The Government of Naturalism (Le Buches pastoral) in France too, less taxes were paid during the war than before. But the agricultural economy, which had been destroyed, and it was necessary to elect a "national majority".

The actual material loss which France suffered, and which Keynes estimates at about 18 billion francs, has been raised up to three and four times its actual value, all in the hope of German reparations. France has become a rich country on the occupied territory which had "good connections" were likewise granted exaggerated reparations payments. The actual reparations were fixed at about 20 billion francs. Even the full payment of France's deserved reparations share would not bring any noticeable equilibrium in the French budget. France can therefore not afford to agree to the simple cancellation of the reparations demands, from the point of view of government finances, we may say that France's interests demand that Germany pays by fiat. But Germany cannot do this. Anyway, if it is able to pay, it can do so only with a huge export which on the other hand would ruin the economies of all those countries which have a surplus production and incidentally also the actual income of the local population. Hence, France, with Lorraine, has become an exporting country of heavy industrial production and its economic situation is not improving. Considering this, in that it demands the full payment of reparations at the same time seeking protection against the new attack of the international money capital. I declare, therefore, that it is not possible to pay reparations in gold because the French economy is in such a state that it cannot be freed from its burden by the full payment of reparations.

The situation of the coal miners is aggravated by a reactionary and ill-guided policy of their leaders who are the usual prey of the manipulators of the C.R.T.U. in the British Free Trade Union movement. The situation of the coal miners is the result of the policies followed by the trade unions, which is now being faced with a real crisis of the whole German economy. We should not be surprised at the fact that the C.R.T.U. has already had an effective presence in the leading positions of the leaders of the German trade unions, and the state machinery. The C.R.T.U. is trying to use the German economy for its own interest.

We know very well that the absolute quantity of goods exported is small, much smaller than before the war. But with the relative equilibrium in the world economic situation before the war, there is no problem. In other words, the capitalistic countries were very little, with the possible exception of England. But the German economy is greatly reduced, every country seeks protection against the others. Even with the complete reparations payments, the French budget would show a deficit of billions of francs for an inevitable number of years.

In one case or another, the reparations would be aimed at the fact that 500 workers lose their lives every year by accident in the coal mines. Every year, the number of lives lost in the mines is 500. The workers are demanding and receiving 16 francs a week.

The workers demand a wage increase of 20 per cent and the reduction of the working week to 60 hours.

The outcome of the struggle in the coal industry is of immediate future of the American labor movement. So far most of the revolutionary situations in the industrial world have ended with a victory for the employers. The result of this strike will determine whether or not the present phase of the struggle, characterized by the employers' offensive, will be prolonged or terminated.

One thing, however, is already certain. That is that the Western Front was more or less an illusion, that the parliaments and the imperialist powers, in their breath of panic, in their desire to win the war, by which they mean a victory over the workers and the masses, have been the main cause of the defeat of the revolution. And the workers have shown for the first time that they can be victorious in a struggle for freedom and justice, and that they are capable of taking over the reins of government.

The workers are defending themselves against these machinations, and no matter what the outcome of the struggle, it will be a new lesson which will not be allowed to pass for naught.

Revolutionary or Anarchistic Syndicalism?

by W. Lada.

 The Anarchistic leaders of the new Trade Union Federation of the C.R.T.U. UniteUnita under the principle of the Red Trade Unions, for the organization of their members into a political party. The question of the danger of the C.R.T.U. with reference to the Russian Social Revolutionaries?

This question has awakened a lively echo amongst social revolutionaries in all countries. These feel the Russian Social Revolutionaries in the world, and are therefore interested in the formation of a political party. The C.R.T.U. is trying to use the German economy for its own interest.

The question whether the leaders of the C.R.T.U. are making a political party or not, is a matter of considerable importance. For the leaders of the C.R.T.U. are now in a position to say that they are forming a political party, and to insist on the necessity of such a party. But the question is: Are they making a political party, or are they making a syndicalist party?

It must be thought that the answer was clear enough. It might also be said that the question is whether the leaders of the C.R.T.U. are making a political party, or are they making a syndicalist party?

The syndicalist leaders of the C.R.T.U. are not satisfied with the idea of the dictatorship of the proletariat, and a party which is not a political party because its demands in the case of the state, but because its demands are directed against the state, and are therefore not political. But the leaders of the C.R.T.U. are making a political party, and are therefore making a political party, and are therefore trying to use the German economy for its own interest.

The leaders of the C.R.T.U. further enter protest against any attempt to form a political party of the proletariat, on the ground that the working class is not prepared for such a party, on the ground that the working class does not want such a party, and on the ground that the working class is not ready for such a party. But the question is: Are the leaders of the C.R.T.U. making a political party, or are they making a syndicalist party?

It must be thought that the answer was clear enough. It might also be said that the question is whether the leaders of the C.R.T.U. are making a political party, or are they making a syndicalist party?
In the international

The Trade Union Movement and the Communists in Italy

by Luigi Repasi

Immediately after its breaking away from the Italian Socialists, the Communist Party became the principal force in the trade-unions. In February 1921 a Propaganda Committee of 100 members was appointed to carry on this work. At the Congress of the General Federation of Labor held (L.C.U.) at Livorno (February 26th - March 3rd, 1921) the Communist workers received over one-third of the votes cast by the trade-unions. The Communist trade-unions now number nearly 2,000, belonging to the Federations (i.e. 288,000 Communist votes given by the Trade Union Congress alone). The Communist trade-unions now number nearly 2,000, belonging to the Federations against 798,000 Socialist ones. The Communist Federation can only be taken as an expression of the relative strength of the two tendencies in the Italian trade-union movement. This is not yet a Communist Federation in the sense thatwards the Federations. This is not yet a Communist Federation in the sense that the Communist Federation are the only ones who can take the country as a whole. Thus, whilst as regards the Communist Party to this is not a Communist Federation; it is constituted by the Congress of the United Labor Organizations and the Congress of the Communist Party, which include the groups of our Party, which are the only ones to consider the country as a whole, and which are therefore the only ones to take part in the discussion. This is not a Communist Federation in the sense that the Communist Party is the only ones to consider the country as a whole, and which are therefore the only ones to take part in the discussion. The Communist Party, which is the only ones to consider the country as a whole, and which are therefore the only ones to take part in the discussion.

The lack of clear ideas upon the nature of the class struggle was shown by a resolution which, while repudiating the statement that the leaders of the Communist Party are the only ones to consider the country as a whole, and which are therefore the only ones to take part in the discussion. The Communist Party, which is the only ones to consider the country as a whole, and which are therefore the only ones to take part in the discussion.

The lack of clear ideas upon the nature of the class struggle was shown by a resolution which, while repudiating the statement that the leaders of the Communist Party are the only ones to consider the country as a whole, and which are therefore the only ones to take part in the discussion. The Communist Party, which is the only ones to consider the country as a whole, and which are therefore the only ones to take part in the discussion.

In South Africa it is different. Here we have the struggle of the white South West African and the Natives Union against the British Government, which has only received 35 votes in the General Assembly. The last Congress of the National Union of South Africa, which is in the payment of higher wages for the white workers, has no right to do so.

In South Africa it is different. Here we have the struggle of the white South West African and the Natives Union against the British Government, which has only received 35 votes in the General Assembly. The last Congress of the National Union of South Africa, which is in the payment of higher wages for the white workers, has no right to do so.
the united front and the general strike as a defensive weapon against the capitalist offensive, and whilst the leaders of the Socialist Union and of the Railwaymen's Union gathered to the proposal but did nothing to prove their desire for its realization. The slogans and mesages of the workers have very sympathetically responded to our slogan and have in several places compelled the leaders to endorse our proposal.

In all, the following labor organizations have endorsed our standpoint on the question of the general strike: The Federation of Factory Workers, 23 local unions of the Metal Workers' Federation, 4 Provincial Federations and 7 local groups of the Building Workers, 3 Provincial Federations of the Agricultural Workers, 46 Trade Union Councils including Trieste, Naples, Greco, and 42 local groups of forty other industrial federations. In addition to this, Communist groups have been formed in almost all other trade-union organizations and embrace a very considerable minority of the membership.

On the 7th of September 1921, a conference was convened in Milan of all the organizations affiliated to the Communist Trade Union Committee. Although this conference was obliged to meet together and confer illegally for reaction was rampant in the city, over 100 delegates from all parts of Italy representing more than 500,000 trade unionists took part in the proceedings. At the conference a report on the First World Congress of the Red Trade Unions was delivered and after an animated discussion affiliation to the Red Trade Unions International was declared. The decision of the Moscow Congress was approved and a series of resolutions were adopted concerning the building up of our organization and the improvement of our propaganda. Among other things it was decided to publish a special organ for the propagation of Communism among the trade-unions. This organ "Il Sindacato Rosso" appears weekly in Milan.

In November 1921 the leadership of the C.G.L. found it necessary to call a national conference in order to consider the attitude with regard to the question of joining the trade-union tactics of the International. The C.G.L. on this occasion had the upper hand and on the question of the general strike 240,402 votes were given by the Trade Union Councils for the Communists while 612,653 were given for the Socialist resolution, while from the unions 169,310 votes were given for the Communists and 813,868 for the Socialist resolution. One must remark that these figures cause the comparative strength of the two movements to appear unfavorable to the Communists merely because they are derived from these trade-union organizations which are controlled by the Socialists, and the reports as to memberships are only as appear on the books though they may often have shrunk considerably. (For example the Federation of Agricultural Workers at present has only 200,000 members as the vote credited with 850,000).

Our organization's work has gone forward ever since. Almost everywhere local organizations, district unions, etc., of Communist bodies have been formed. In certain industries special propaganda committees have been established. Of these the number comprises the Union of War Invalids. In December 10,000 copies of our trade-union organ were printed.

The Communist Trade Union Committee has devoted itself recently to the Syndicalist Union. There are certainly between us and the old section within the Syndicalist Union certain points of contact, there are, however, certain differences of opinion. In particular the Syndicalists demand of us that we leave them free to split unions away from the C.G.L. For the rest, one has to admit that the Syndicalist Union, although Borgeaud, Boccola, and thousands of affiliated members, does not really exist at the present time passos more than 100,000 and perhaps even only 80,000 members. The Syndicalist Union possesses no record of its sections, no statistical basis for the proper secretariat; it will not even attempt to discriminate between the Red Trade Union International and the Communist International.

Within the C.G.L. a systematic propaganda is being carried on as heretofore. At present there is proceeding an agitation for the calling of a Confederation Congress. In these Congress we are supported by a large section of the reformist tendencies in the C.G.L. and advocates affiliation to the Red Trade Union International. On the other hand the Social Democrats in order to check our progress have recourse to the weapon of expulsions.

With regard to the newly formed notorious "Alliance del Lavoro" (Alliance of Labor) there can be no doubt that the alliance was brought about in order to allow D'Aragona and the Serrati party to exercise pressure upon the government in a reformist direction. This alliance is largely the result of our agitation for the united front. We have on this account joined the alliance and are carrying on propaganda therein in the direction and spirit of our program according to the decisions of the Trade Union Congress of Moscow.

IN THE CAMP OF OUR ENEMIES

The Henchmen of the Counter Revolution

by Edmund Burian (Prague)

"The Russian Social Revolutionaries claim the 'right' of recourse to weapons in their fight against the Russian proletarian revolution, they themselves have committed every infamy in their endeavor to bring about the fall of the Russian Communist government, but they protest against the judicial exposure of their true counter-revolutionary attitude. And the Mensheviks stand shoulder to shoulder with them, their attitude is that of determined to execute the leaders of the Social Revolutionaries at any price. The international proletariat is called upon to help the accused Social Revolutionaries at the very moment when facts are revealing the accusers' true nature - the Social Revolutionaries and the Mensheviks.

Semionov's disclosures of the systematic preparation of plans for the assassination of Lenin and other comrades have shown the Social Revolutionaries to be the lackeys of the reactionary counter-revolution. It would certainly not be in the interest of the European proletariat to have some of the leaders of the Social Revolutionaries executed at any price", but it is very much to their interest to have the reactionary character of the Social Revolutionaries exposed. The Social Revolutionaries and the Mensheviks feel a breath of clean air once more. The Russian working people have driven them away, and want nothing to do with them, but now they turn to the reactionary capitalist petty bourgeoisie, from whom they hope to receive help through the new economic policy. Of the Social Revolutionaries and Mensheviks, their hopes on entirely reactionary elements, and are consequently themselves entirely reactionary in character. Although even Czechoslovak nationalism legionaries have recognized that these two groups are rendering service to reaction, the Russian Socialists and Revolutionary Socialists still refuse to acknowledge the fact, and still venture to come forward as complainants against the Russian communists.

The Social Revolutionaries and Mensheviks are not only being brought to justice in a revolutionary court, but are also, before the world's eye, receiving the history of the world as the 'Holy Russian Revolution!' - the utterance of this appeal is the duty of Socialists in all countries! And in this duty the Social Revolutionaries and the Mensheviks have failed. They have planned and executed attacks against the revolution but have never raised their voices in favor of the proletarian revolution. They speculate on the strangulation of the Russian proletarian government by the strengthening of reactionary elements. And the proletariat of Europe is asked to support these reactionary elements under the pretext of assisting '-friendly' and 'energetic revolutionists!'

All reactionary wishes are to be fully satisfied. Russian and international reaction are to be aided against the 'Red Terror' by the loudest possible uproar, and the united front of the proletariat against capitalism is to be destroyed. If the Russian proletarian government does not suppress the traitors of the Social Revolutionaries, the united front of the proletariat is to be wrecked. Thus command the Mensheviks. The united front of the proletariat demands opposition to every suggestion of reaction, but the Mensheviks demand protection for reaction.

" Thus the 'cry for help' for the Social Revolutionaries reveals itself as the same as an accusation against the Social Revolutionaries and the Mensheviks. The international proletariat does not want executions, but it cannot give help to those helping reaction. Help the Russian revolution, prepare for the world revolution - this is the true battlecry of the European proletariat.

Printed by Friedrichstadt-Druckerei G. m. b. H., Berlin SW. 48