Debs Family Give $100 to Socialist Campaign Fund

The following message accompanied by a $100 check was received by the Secretary of the Socialist Party of America from the office of Salmon Z. Debs in Chicago: "We were present at the Socialist convention in New York and the delegates there voted in favor of the principle of the Debs family giving $100 to the socialist campaign. The amount was to be contributed by the late Eugene V. Debs because he was not able to attend the convention. The check is enclosed to show that the principle was carried out." The amount of the check is $100. The Debs family consists of Eugene V. Debs, his wife, and their two children, who are now living in Chicago. They were present at the convention and voted in favor of the principle of the Debs family giving $100 to the socialist campaign.

Can War Be Abolished Under Present System?

Yes

By B. S. Cox

I am a member of the American Association for the Abolition of War. I have been a member of this organization for several years. The members of the Association are very active in promoting the cause of peace. They have been successful in getting the government to make peace treaties with other countries. They have also been very successful in getting the government to stop the manufacture of weapons. This has made it possible for us to live in peace. We are all very happy about this. We are all very grateful to the members of the Association for their work. They have done a great service to the world. They have done a great service to humanity. We are all very grateful to them.

Farmers’ Road to Socialism

2,500,000 Farmers Sell Through Cooperatives

During the 1930s, the American cooperative movement experienced a significant growth. As the Great Depression hit the country, farmers found it increasingly difficult to sell their products. To overcome this problem, they formed cooperatives that allowed them to pool their resources and sell directly to consumers. This strategy helped them to reduce costs and increase their profits. The cooperatives also provided a way for farmers to retain control of their farms and to resist the power of large corporations. By the end of the 1930s, over 2.5 million farmers were participating in these cooperatives, which had become an important force in the agricultural landscape of the United States.

British Thinker Tells How Socialism May Be Realized

As a co-reader of the American Appeal, I can attest to the importance of promoting socialism. It is a vital force for change and progress. The British thinker whose ideas are presented here is a powerful advocate of socialism. His ideas have influenced many people around the world and have led to significant changes in society. His emphasis on the need for a more just and equitable society is timely and relevant. As we face the challenges of our time, we must heed his call for a more equitable world.

Otto Kahn Offers Gold Brick to American Labor

As the President of the American Appeal, I am pleased to announce that Otto Kahn has offered a gold brick to American labor. This is a significant gesture that demonstrates his commitment to the cause of workers' rights. The gold brick is a symbol of the value of labor and the importance of labor's contributions to society. This gesture is a powerful reminder of the importance of unity and solidarity in the labor movement. We are all grateful to Otto Kahn for his support and commitment to the cause of workers' rights.
