Congressman Lincoln Condemns War With Mexico

Lincoln then made his first speech, in which he announced his decision. According to the Daily News, "Lincoln said that the manner in which the President had been acting was a matter of great concern to many people, and that he was determined to act in the interest of the country. He declared that the President had been acting in a manner that was not in the best interest of the country, and that the President had been acting in a manner that was not in the best interest of the country."

Editor's Note

Sixty years ago we fought a war that changed the course of history. To this day, Americans are still grappling with the consequences of that conflict. As we approach the 60th anniversary of the war, it is important to remember the sacrifices made by those who served.

Americans do not want war. But our leaders, the men who are responsible for the conduct of our affairs, have failed to understand the nature of the enemy. They have been blinded by the desire for power and prosperity, and have been led astray by the promises of the enemy. The result has been a tragic waste of human life and resources.

The People: They speak

The national debt of the United States is now over $200,000,000. It is estimated that the government will spend over $230,000,000 in a year. This is a large sum of money, and it is clear that it must be spent wisely.

Amidst the war, President Wilson has called for a "successful prosecution of the war." This has been a popular slogan, and has been used to justify the war. But the war is not successful, and it is causing a great deal of suffering. The people are tired of the war, and they want it to end.

Government Must Not Build Boulder Dam, Says Trust

From Labor, Washington, D. C.

The government is planning to build the Boulder Dam. This is a large and expensive project, and it is believed that it will be successful. But the government is not the only one that is planning to build the dam. Private companies are also planning to build the dam, and they are competing with the government.

President Green of A. F. of L. Admits Identity of Labor and Socialism Outside of America

WASHINGTON—President Green of the American Federation of Labor has admitted the identity of labor and socialism. In a speech delivered before the Trade Union Congress in New York, President Green said: "There is no difference between labor and socialism. They are both concerned with the welfare of the working class."

President Green's statement has caused a great deal of controversy. Some have praised it as a step forward, while others have criticized it as a mistake.

All these events described by Green are Socialist movements.

No More War, Says Leader Of War Resisters

Editor's Note

There is hope that the United States will soon be able to rid itself of war. The war is costing us too much and we can't afford it. The war is not only costing us money, it is costing us our lives. The war is causing too much suffering.

By Harry T. Smith

This war is not for the benefit of the working class. It is a war for the benefit of the rich and powerful. This war is being fought by the working class, but it is being fought for the benefit of the rich and powerful. This war is a war of exploitation, a war of riches, a war of power.
