Shall We Heed Debs’ Last Plea for American Appeal?

Last year, after Debs, the great Socialist leader, had returned from Persia, while he was in Persia, he was imprisoned for six months.

But now, after he was released, he is in a different position. He is now in a position to fight for peace, but he is not in a position to fight for war.

The American Appeal is essentially the spokesman of the working class and the common people, and it represents their interests in the struggle for peace.

The appeal to peace is now the struggle for the rights of every man and woman who has not the power to make war.
