American Worker Enslaved

The Socialist Party, in its struggle for the control of the political and industrial institutions of the country, must be prepared to meet the menace of the growing power of the capitalist class. The capitalist class, in its relentless drive for profit, is constantly seeking to undermine the power of the working class by every means possible. The Socialist Party must be prepared to meet this menace by building up a strong and united working class movement that can stand up to the capitalist class and win the battle for the control of the political and industrial institutions of the country.

The Socialist Party is the only political party in the country that is fighting for the interests of the working class.
