John Howton, President

[LETTER TO A FRIEND]

Dear Friend,

Received your letter with much pleasure and am glad to hear from you. I have been here for two weeks now and everything is as I expected. The weather has been quite pleasant and I have had time to explore the town.

Yours truly,
John Howton.
APEAL TO REASON, GIRARD, KAN. U. S. A.

THE INCENTIVE FOR LABOR.

A recent study in the Labor Department of the U.S. Department of Commerce shows that the incentive for labor is the most important factor in determining the wage scale. The study found that the incentive for labor is highest in the manufacturing and mining industries, where the most skilled workers are employed. The incentive for labor is also high in the construction and transportation industries, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

The incentive for labor is defined as the difference between the wage rate that a worker receives and the cost of living. The study found that the incentive for labor is highest in the manufacturing and mining industries, where the most skilled workers are employed. The incentive for labor is also high in the construction and transportation industries, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

In the manufacturing industry, the incentive for labor is highest in the metalworking industry, where the most skilled workers are employed. In the mining industry, the incentive for labor is highest in the coal mining industry, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

In the construction industry, the incentive for labor is highest in the building construction industry, where the need for skilled labor is greatest. In the transportation industry, the incentive for labor is highest in the railroad and other transportation industries, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

In conclusion, the incentive for labor is the most important factor in determining the wage scale. The study found that the incentive for labor is highest in the manufacturing and mining industries, where the most skilled workers are employed. The incentive for labor is also high in the construction and transportation industries, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

THE INCENTIVE FOR LABOR.

A recent study in the Labor Department of the U.S. Department of Commerce shows that the incentive for labor is the most important factor in determining the wage scale. The study found that the incentive for labor is highest in the manufacturing and mining industries, where the most skilled workers are employed. The incentive for labor is also high in the construction and transportation industries, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

The incentive for labor is defined as the difference between the wage rate that a worker receives and the cost of living. The study found that the incentive for labor is highest in the manufacturing and mining industries, where the most skilled workers are employed. The incentive for labor is also high in the construction and transportation industries, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

In the manufacturing industry, the incentive for labor is highest in the metalworking industry, where the most skilled workers are employed. In the mining industry, the incentive for labor is highest in the coal mining industry, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

In the construction industry, the incentive for labor is highest in the building construction industry, where the need for skilled labor is greatest. In the transportation industry, the incentive for labor is highest in the railroad and other transportation industries, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.

In conclusion, the incentive for labor is the most important factor in determining the wage scale. The study found that the incentive for labor is highest in the manufacturing and mining industries, where the most skilled workers are employed. The incentive for labor is also high in the construction and transportation industries, where the need for skilled labor is greatest.
MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Wells Point, Texas, spent $15,500 on a municipal water system.

A Republican Organ in a Corner.

The Boys, Union Station, is a Republican stronghold. There is no question that it has tangled itself up and backed the bill during the recent convention.

The Stalemate says:

"The story of the working out of a problem that has plagued local authorities for a long period. The traffic is not appreciably reduced, the union of the two companies is not in progress and the question of labor has been settled.

"The workers are not satisfied with the settlement, but they are working hard to make the deal work. They want to see the issue of the strike settled.

"The settlement has been made by the two companies, and the strike has been settled. The workers are now working under the terms of the new contract."

American Notes.

The circulation of the Social Demoral has reached 1,000.

The New York Times reported that the Social Demoral has reached 1,000.

Socialist clubs have been organized in New York.

Bonneau Davis will speak before the Dunbar Club on October 10.

"Cassowary," W. P. Phillips,加紧了宣传攻势，与"Social Forum"进行了竞争。该组织在纽约市有九个分会，支持者有1,000多人。该组织还计划在未来几个月内，在其他城市成立分会。

Chakravarthy's department has opened a branch in the city of Los Angeles.

Page 103 of the "Labor Signal," which supports the strikers of the garment industry, has been seized by the authorities.

The sale of the electric light company employees at Baltimore will probably result in a strike.

Socialist clubs have been organized in New York.