The Appeal

GIRARD, KANSAS, U. S. A., NOVEMBER 10, 1900

Appeal to Reason.

W. T. Ayers of Memphis, Tenn., won the 1904 tract for the weekly appeal.

Compassion for businessmen near their store buildings—and a great many not even their own dwellings. But if they have both, we believe they value a little more effort of mercy to succeed, and they settle down to their hard-earned security from wind and sun and rain. We want to help them, touch them, and try to make them:

No, if you feel disposed to go into business, the Appeal offers you the results of a victorious campaign; with a nourishing start in the form of a store building, the doubling of three acres of good garden ground. That starts you without rent to pay for housing either your stock of goods or your family and rent ends into the profit of a business.

And you don’t have to go in five per cents per week for the longest term, at the rate of 20 cents a week, which will double the area of this store in the short time that most business men are well satisfied with after a life-time in business. And, of course, the great majority of business men would move the buildings they already have.

I persuade me fast in saying that you can run this business with little trouble.
To the Rich and to the Poor

I am asked how I have been the last few weeks. My reply is simply this: "I am without work." The trade is bad. My business is at a standstill. I have no customers. I have no orders. I have no work.

The wages of Capitalism are not sufficient to support the working class. The rich get rich, and the poor get poorer. The rich invest their money in factories and railroads, and make profits. The poor work in factories and railroads, and live on their wages.

The Waste of Capitalism

It is a strange thing that the wealth of the world should be concentrated in the hands of a few. It is a strange thing that the poor should be hungry while the rich are fat. It is a strange thing that the poor should be cold while the rich are warm. It is a strange thing that the poor should be ill while the rich are well.

The Rich are Always Right

The rich are always right. They have the money. They have the power. They have the influence. They have the votes. They have the newspapers. They have the railroads. They have the factories. They have the mines. They have the banks. They have the banks.

The Poor Are Always Wrong

The poor are always wrong. They are lazy. They are shiftless. They are shiftless. They are shiftless. They are shiftless.

The Only Solution

The only solution is to abolish the system of Capitalism. To do this, we must organize the working class and demand the following:

1. The right to work
2. The right to rest
3. The right to education
4. The right to health
5. The right to food

We must demand that the wealth of the world be divided among the working class. We must demand that the rich share their wealth with the poor. We must demand that the poor have the same rights as the rich.

The Time Is Now

The time is now to organize and demand these rights. The rich are becoming more and more powerful. The poor are becoming more and more oppressed. The time is now to act.

The Working Class Must Unite

The working class must unite in order to defeat the rich. We must form unions. We must strike. We must demand our rights. We must not be afraid of the rich. They are our enemies. We must fight them.

Says the Poor Man: "That's Better Than Voting.""0

The poor man can't vote. He can't vote except out of patriotism. He can't vote except in accordance with his conscience. He can't vote except in accordance with his principles of right. He can't vote except in accordance with his principles of wrong. He can't vote because he is not entitled to vote. He can't vote because he is not entitled to vote. He can't vote because he is not entitled to vote.
