THE GUESSELLING CONTEST.

The next state election, to be held in November, is likely to result in a Democratic majority in the legislature, and the result of the election will determine the outcome of the November election.

To the one seeking the exact or exact or any other party or any other political party, the outcome of the election will be a decided victory for the Democrats.

The result, however, is not yet determined, and it may be expected that the majority of the people will be determined to vote for the candidate who is best able to meet the needs of the people.

The Guesselfing Contest is a new and interesting feature of the campaign. It is a contest in which the people are asked to guess the outcome of the election, and the person who guesses correctly will receive a prize.

The contest closes on November 1, at the age of 21.

Rules: Each guess must be made by a person who is at least 21 years of age, and the guess must be made in writing. The guesses will be collected at the post office, and the winner will be announced by the postmaster.

The contests will be held in all the counties of the state, and the winners will be announced at the election day.

The prizes will be awarded to the person who guesses correctly, and the prize will be a trip to the New York World's Fair.

The contest is open to all, and the prizes are limited only by the funds available for the contest.

The Fallacies of the Critics of Socialism

By J. A. Wayland.

The socialist party in Europe is increasingly alarming. Europe at last is conscious of the economic possibilities of universal control of the labor process. It is obvious that the whole of Europe is beginning to realize that the labor process and the social process are identical. The socialist party in Europe is increasing its influence, even beyond its influence in Europe, and is beginning to feel itself at the head of the world. This is the time to act. The socialist party is beginning to feel itself as the representative of the entire human race, and is beginning to feel itself as the representative of the entire human race.

The growth of socialism is due to the fact that the socialist party in Europe has realized that the economic possibilities of universal control of the labor process are the basis of human society. The socialist party is beginning to feel itself as the representative of all humanity, and is beginning to feel itself as the representative of all humanity.
