Appeal Army

Comrade Flanders, of Eugene, Oreg., O. D., Commanding, U. S. A.

The American Soldiers of Socialism have recently enjoyed a delightful holiday at the beach, and many of them have made family visits, thus enjoying the society of their loved ones.

The Socialist state is rapidly taking shape, and the soldiers are busily occupied in building up its institutions. The soldiers are organized into battalions, and each battalion is commanded by a commissioned officer. The soldiers are armed with the latest weapons, and they are well trained in the use of them.

Comrade Flanders is a veteran of many campaigns, and he has proven himself to be a bold and fearless leader. The soldiers under his command are loyal and dedicated to the cause of Socialism.

Socialism Not an End

Socialism is not an end, but a means. It is a way of life that aims to create a society where all people can live in peace and harmony. The aims of Socialism are to abolish private property and to establish a society where all people have equal opportunity and rights.

Socialism seeks to create a world where the wealth of the country is owned by the people, and where everyone has a voice in the decision-making process. This is achieved through the democratic process, where the people elect representatives to govern on their behalf.
