Miners' strike is first staple of the group of the moral stand. The struggle is the result of the progress of the labor organization.

The small town of Baltimore, Maryland, was the scene of a miners' strike in July. The strike was called by the miners in order to obtain a larger wage. The company refused to grant the miners their demands and the strike continued for three weeks. The miners were finally forced to give in and the strike was settled.

Increased wages have been granted to many miners in other parts of the country. In Pennsylvania, for example, the miners' wages have been raised by 25 per cent. The miners in Pennsylvania have been able to obtain a larger wage because of the increased demand for coal in the state.

The miners' strike in Baltimore was not the only one that took place in July. In New York, the miners' wages were also increased. The miners in New York have been able to obtain a larger wage because of the increased demand for coal in the state. The miners in New York have also been able to obtain a larger wage because of the increased demand for coal in the state.

The Noble Industry of Killing Children.

Some Reflection on Anarchy.

The Kansas City Star in a recent editorial, makes most severe remarks on this subject.

The paper proceeds to point out that the only way to put an end to the system of killing children is to put down the insane, and to put down the insane the only way is to put down the insane asylum. The paper states that if a man has an insane relative, he is at once put into an asylum, and that if a child has an insane relative, he is put into a hospital.

Some Duties of a Government.

BY JOHN KIRKAN.

The first duty of government is to see that the people have bread and clothes. The two necessities of life are the most important, and of these the first is bread. Food, first and clothes can only be got out of the government, and nothing else can be got out of the government. It is only through the government that these necessities can be got. The government must therefore see to it that these necessities are provided for the people.

Destiny of Family Life.

The labor of woman today and the labor of men tomorrow is the essence of the future of the world. To secure a more just and equal society, the government must do something for the family. The family is the unit of society, and the government must make sure that the family is protected. To secure a more just and equal society, the government must do something for the family. The family is the unit of society, and the government must make sure that the family is protected.

CONCENTRATION OF WEALTH.

The concentration of wealth in the United States is greater than ever before. The number of millionaires has increased, and the total wealth of the country has grown. The effect of this concentration of wealth is to widen the gap between the rich and the poor, and to make the poor poorer. The rich are getting richer, and the poor are getting poorer.

FATHER RUNS ON SOCIALISM.

The father of a family runs on socialism. He is a socialist because he believes that the government should take care of the poor and that the rich should share their wealth with the poor. He believes that the government should provide education, healthcare, and housing for all.

THE CO-OPERATIVE COMMONWEALTH.

The co-operative commonwealth is a political and economic system in which the means of production are owned and controlled by the people. In this system, the government is owned by the people and the economy is run for the benefit of the people. The government provides education, healthcare, and housing for all.
