Trusts Likened to Birds of Prey.

To the Editor:

We are not likely to be concerned in this country with the nature and purpose of trusts, but the recent disclosures regarding the existence of such organizations have brought this question into prominence. The trusts are of two kinds, one being the kind that operates in the name of the corporation and the other being the kind that operates under the name of the individual. The former are known as the trust companies and the latter as the individual trusts.

The trusts are formed for the purpose of controlling the manufacture and sale of articles of personal property. They may be in the hands of the corporation or of the individual, and they may be controlled by the corporation or the individual. The trusts are controlled by a group of persons, and the control is exercised by a board of directors.

The trusts are formed for the purpose of controlling the manufacture and sale of articles of personal property. They may be in the hands of the corporation or of the individual, and they may be controlled by the corporation or the individual. The trusts are controlled by a group of persons, and the control is exercised by a board of directors.

I am well satisfied that there is a great deal of truth in the statements made by those who have investigated the subject. It is not the purpose of this letter to discuss the trusts, but I would like to say that the trusts are a very serious matter and should not be regarded lightly.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

Sent via email to: [Email Address]

Sent via email to: [Email Address]
Appeal to Reason, Girard, Kansas.

Appeal Army

Campaign Literature.

The appeal for the Army is being made at the complete of the next issue. We have asked for a copy of the yearbook to the author at 1212 E. 10th St., Kansas City, Mo., and in the hope of receiving them in time to distribute them to the public in the Kansas City area. We have also asked for a copy of the book, "The Appeal of the Army," which is being published by the Kansas City News-V 讀取文件，並將其轉換為自然語言。

Children Under Captivity.

The Appeal Army is being made at the complete of the next issue. We have asked for a copy of the yearbook to the author at 1212 E. 10th St., Kansas City, Mo., and in the hope of receiving them in time to distribute them to the public in the Kansas City area. We have also asked for a copy of the book, "The Appeal of the Army," which is being published by the Kansas City News-V 讀取文件，並將其轉換為自然語言。