The Capture of the Political Powers of State by the Working Class is the Aim of the Socialist Party.

This is Number 350.
25 Cents A Year.

A Twelve Months Campaign for a Minor Circulation.

The usefulness of a propaganda paper is in direct ratio to the number of copies sold. But when the circulation of the paper is doubled it makes twice as many Socialists a given time as if it did before. The Appeal wants to malcontent the three centers of the working public, especially the trades unionists, the railway workers, and the millions of workers and their families, which can be obtained only through the efforts of the workers themselves.

The Appeal has for the last two years been trying to get 50,000 new subscribers. Through the efforts of the Army the circulation of the Appeal has been raised to 175,000 with an average sale of 25,000 copies per week. This is a splendid practical result. But much work remains to be done. After all, Socialism is not a theory; it is a practical movement.

The Appeal is a position to get the million subscribers, so I have made the million mark the point to be reached in the coming year. It is not an impossible task, because there are at least two million workers in the United States of America.

HOW TO DO IT.

The Appeal asks you to help in the battle to get 50,000 new subscribers for its publication. You, as a member of the working class, are the key to our success. Every subscription, no matter how small, will help us to get the million mark.

In the past year we have made great strides in our campaign. We have added 50,000 new subscribers, but we have not yet reached our goal. We need 50,000 more to reach the million mark.

We are asking for the support of every worker who is interested in Socialism. We are asking for the support of every worker who wants to see a better world for himself and his children.

We are asking for the support of every worker who is tired of the exploitation and oppression of the capitalist system. We are asking for the support of every worker who feels that the world is not fair and that something must be done to change it.

The Appeal is a subscription paper. It is not for sale. It is a movement for Socialism, not for profit. It is the organ of the Socialist Party in the United States of America.

The Appeal is published weekly. It contains articles on current events, labor and politics, and a variety of educational and informative material.

The Appeal is edited by a committee of the Socialist Party, consisting of John T. Patten, John R. Briscoe, and John M. Kelley.

The Appeal is distributed by subscription only. A subscription is $1.00 per year, or $0.50 for six months.

The Appeal is printed by the Socialistic Publishing Company, 500 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Illinois.

United States of America, June 18, 1902.

Arms Bandit went from Kentucky to Prince William's County, Virginia, and then on to Pennsylvania, where he became the dominant figure in the banditry. He then moved to New York City and had a good-sized hold-up there. He then travelled to Europe and had many larger and smaller hold-ups on the way home. He finally stopped in a hospital and was critically ill. The doctors did their best, but he died on the second day. He is survived by a wife and a daughter, both of whom are in Europe. The funeral will be held at 3:00 p.m. today in the church of the same name. The body will be taken to the cemetery for burial.

Arms Bandit was a man of great strength and skill. He was a natural leader and had a remarkable ability to inspire his followers. He was a man of great courage and determination, and he never gave up until he achieved his goal. His legacy will live on in the memories of those who knew him, and in the stories of those who heard him speak.

Arms Bandit was a man of great wisdom, and he left many wise sayings that will be remembered for generations to come. One of his most famous sayings was: "The best things in life are free, but the best bandits are paid for." This has become a popular saying and is often quoted by people around the world.

Arms Bandit was a man of great kindness, and he always helped those in need. He was a man of great generosity, and he gave away much of his wealth to those who were less fortunate. His legacy will live on in the hearts of those who knew him, and in the memories of those who heard him speak.
