THE STORY OF THE COLORADO BULL-PEN

By ALLAN W. RICKER, Staff Correspondent.

The greatest industrial struggle in the history of the nation is taking place in the state of Colorado. On one side is the Momo Miners' Association, supported and directed by the Citizens' Alliance; on the other side is the government of the state and the state militia, and on the other a number of private employers supported by a large combination of labor forces of the state.

Ten years ago the wages of workers and farmers of the state elected a number of men who in 1906 formed the Citizens' Alliance, to fight for the interests of the miners and the state. The Alliance was formed to provide a forum for the miners to express their grievances and to bring about a fair settlement of the dispute.

Ten years ago the Momo Miners' Association was formed, and the two organizations have been locked in a battle for control of the state ever since.

The miners of the Cripple Creek district went on strike for an eight-hour day. They wished to work for a wage of at least eighty cents an hour, and the employers offered them seventy-five cents. The miners refused to accept the offer, and the strike continued.

The Alliance was formed to bring about a fair settlement of the dispute, but the miners were determined to fight for their rights. The strike lasted for almost a year, and the miners were forced to go on strike for a second time.

The state militia was called out to enforce the strike, and a large number of miners were arrested. The strikers were forced to return to work, and the strike was over.

The story of the Colorado Bull-Pen was a story of determination and courage, and it was a story of胜利 for the miners. They had fought long and hard for their rights, and they had fought them with determination and courage.

THE COAL STRIKE.

WHILE the Western Federation of Miners is fighting a duel to the death for fields in the gold mines, the coal miners around Trinidad, in the southern part of the state, are engaged in a strike. The coal fields of southern Colorado are divided into the northern and southern districts, the former of which is near Trinidad and the latter near Del Norte. The latter district, which contains the only coal field of importance in the state, is controlled by the Southern Consolidated Coal Company, a subsidiary of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company.

When the strike came, the company refused to recognize the union, and the miners went out on strike. The company has since offered to arbitrate, but the miners refuse to accept the offer.

When the miners left, they were left to roam in darkness. They were left to suffer, to die, to starve. The company has refused to recognize the union, and the miners have been left to their own devices.

Figures Don't Lie.

From the days of my childhood I have noticed a gradual decline in the average size of my family. Now, I am told, my wife and I are the last of our kind. But my wife and I have not seen the end. I discovered that she was a general practitioner in the same town where I live, and that her patients didn't get as bad as we did. I think she might be right.

The figures in the report below show a decrease in the right side of the body. Now, this is not so. It's all true.

But I have one question. How does the left side of the body get to be a problem? The figures show a decrease in the left side of the body as well. And this is not true either. People who have problems on both sides of the body are coming in for the Swedish special.

The only complaint I have heard about my Swedish special is that it is being used in a way that I never intended. I never intended for it to be used in a way that it is being used today. I never intended for it to be used in a way that it is being used today.

The Swedish special is the only way that I have been able to get my patients well. I have been using it for many years, and I have never had any problems when I have used it in the way that it is being used today.

The Story of the Colorado Bull-Pen

ARREST OF O. C. COPEL
One of the first men to suffer martyrdom in Cripple Creek was O. C. Copley, member of the Executive board, and three others at Independence. Copley is one of the oldest of the Federation leaders, a man respected by all who know him for his strong moral and moral integrity. Going to his home from Denver after an absence of six months, he met a calamity which his right hand might have prevented for him at a later date, the door was suddenly opened, the ministers entered, arrested Copley, drove away in a car, and took him to the bull-pen. This crowed den was to prepare company with demons and menaces and the efficacy of the city jail. Here he spent the night, blistered on one side by the red hot stove and frozen on the other by the snow mountain wind that whistled through the crevices of the bull-pen structure.

ORGANIZER WHITE'S EXPERIENCE
M. E. White is in charge of organizing for Colorado of the American Labor Union, and in pursuance of his official duties went to the Cripple Creek district. About twenty-four hours after arrival he was arrested, by a group of soldiers under the bull-pen and passed through the same experience as Copley. To quote his own words, "When I came in, it was dark; when I found the incarceration lasted two days and a night, when I was taken out, placed aboard an outgoing train and told never to return to the district, no charges were preferred against him.

THE TRAVERS RECORD
The Record is a daily paper published at Victor. The Citizens Alliance had tried in vain to get the management of the paper into the organization, and failing, decided to suppress it. One night (it was a morning paper), the soldiers swooped down on the plant and seized the entire office force to the bull pen. That it was a momentary little woman, Mrs. Eliza P. Langford, wife of one of the leading operators, pressed the members of the committee, and maneuvering a way to finish the setting and printing of the paper. With her was an interloper on the committee from the labor combination that called the governor for the release of a prisoner who has been granted bond by the civil authorities but refused! Freedom by the military. The chairman of the committee was a woman also. Mrs. Anna Rich, and the way these women talked to the chief executive of the state was a thing to be heard.

These are samples of dozens of similar cases, and a union man is not to be arrested on a justified charge.

DEPORTATION AT TELLURIDE
While scores of heroes and deeds of drastically depredations were being enacted in the Cripple Creek district, there went forward in Telluride, the latter place situated across the mountain ranges in the mining country of over 200 miles from Denver, and reached only after a twenty-four hour ride. Here in a region almost cut off from civilization, the military, under the command of General Hiram Belknap, leader of the citadel, exiled the entire laboring population. All the details of the Alliance program described in the Cripple Creek district

At Telluride the strike was for an eight-hour work day for the mill men, who were working twelve-hour shifts. The Federation offered to reduce the pay of the men so that the cost to the miners' wages would not be increased, and on this proposition the miners were willing to treat, and would have settled the dispute, but the Alliance leaders would not permit such a settlement should be made, and the miners were left out by the Alliance to refuse the demands of the employers.

In the State and Federal courts held over in the state officials for the purpose of securing 600, soldiers sent to the district.

Every effort possible has been made to prevent the miners to acts of violence, none of which has succeeded. Union men have been beaten down by deputies and hired staghounds have been in armed, homes broken into by soldiers and searched without warrant or cause.

Under wise and careful leadership the miners have not raised a hand against their oppressors and have borne insults as meekly as did the apostles.

Non-union men have been rushed into this district, but many of them soon found that they were taking place of men on strike, refused to work and were helped out of the camps by the miners who were in strike. As an evidence of the manner in which strike has been treated we submit the following letter from the state district of the state, which will doubtless hold good all along the line.

One hundred and forty men, by the giving the promise of the district of the state, and the uncontrolled action of those who have been arrested, and have been suspended from the miners' union. The district of the state, which will doubtless hold good all along the line.

The terms of the Alliance furnish nothing more cruel and unjust.

One hundred and forty men, by the giving the promise of the district of the state, and the uncontrolled action of those who have been arrested, and have been suspended from the miners' union. The district of the state, which will doubtless hold good all along the line.

RUSHES THE PICKET LINE!
J. C. Rainey is a property owner in Telluride and vixically. In partnership with his brother he owns buildings in the city of two or three stories, and has been the most active union man, both in the ranks and in official position. At the beginning of the strike he was one of the most active leaders and was arrested immediately and was in jail.

The strike line was to the San Juan River across the city and from there to the railroad station. No trouble occurred until the strike line was crossed, and then a scuffle ensued between the strikers and the company's tilers.

"We have no money and when we asked what we should do until we were taken care of, they told us we had paid back our share and had to hold out. That was promised to us, but no pay now and we must pay in!"

This little debate then took place. The strikers were across the river away from the law, and the company's employees were behind the police state. The strikers were talking among themselves what to do and what little food we did, just to let it go.

There was no trouble, then, until the company's employees crossed the river and started for the railroad, when a scuffle ensued.

"We have no money and when we asked what we should do until we were taken care of, they told us we had paid back our share and had to hold out. That was promised to us, but no pay now and we must pay in!"

THE FINAL MOVE OF THE ALLIANCE WAS TO DECLARE THE IDLE MINE MIGRANTS AND DEPORT THEM TO THE DISTRICT. UNDER this rule seventy-five of the predict and of the miners have been removed out of the district the men arrested with perpetual imprisonment should they return. We will now submit some individual cases in evidence.

ARRESTED THREE TIMES!

P GENERAL MILLER, of Telluride, always in the Bull-Pen and Bares Out of the State by Dictators.

DOMINANT among the seventy or more men driven out of the district was General P. Miller, president of the miners' union and principal candidate for the legislature on the Socialist ticket. He put up such a stiff fight for the office that the Democrats were driven to the box. He was addressed by the state militia, who were the executive board of the State Federation of Labor, and was for three days and two nights in attendance on the session of the law legislature in the fall of 1902. He was tried by an investigating committee, that never passed the bull pen, for ill, but he was burned under an ultimate penalty money. "General Miller called upon the troops to have the ball and to use their bayonets against the strikers. He was the only man in the district who ever made money in politics. He was a man of quiet manners, one of those cle.

and if we were not moved by the pity which is manifested when a child born to fortune, we might wear a cynical smile and say, "Good enough for you, you addle potatoes, you voted for it, now get your bill." We understand that there are thousands who did not vote for many acts, and most must suffer with the guilty.

But to continue our story, Barone's latest experience was to be unusually unhappy, being invited to the train at Montrose warning workmen to stay on till Tulare. As there was no provision for a railroad, the train was formed on the spot, and orders were issued for the departure of the entire force. Undaunted, Barone continued his work and next decided on a bold move, that of returning to the district, going by barge through the mountains. When within a few miles of the town, on rounding a bend, he came face to face with a squad of cavalry. Quietly he stepped on the shore and approached the commander of the company, the surprised soldiers closed about. Hidden in a tall pine tree he watched the soldiers hunt for hours for him. Finally they gave up, and upon seeing some of the troopers in the town to seek out a little man, or capture him. They did neither, for Barone went, stayed several days and came out again, undaunted by their efforts. The soldiers were still looking for him, and he had been captured on his own premises. The mayor had summoned the bull pen for good, and a riot broke out.

We could fill pages of tales of terror. The Denver Post in starting headlines last night conditions that cut across Tulare were equal to fiction. A whole family was found in the bull pen, women and children. The military commander is a U.S. officer, and he had a brother-in-law of greatest consequence in the regular army has given him.

Why multiply these instances of oppression? Fit what I have written to the cases of hundreds of less prominent unions and you have the history of terror and of the bloody brigandage of the military powers of Colorado. It shows to what limits expropriation will go when property interests are attacked, and it shows what necessity becomes the working class must until enough intelligent penetration their.

If, when recent elections were held they had had some sense of ancient rights to the ballot, the action of the West was more vividly felt in the counties, these officers might have legally sworn in every straggling miner or rancher. He served from behalf of, that is, and remained until the military power is in absolute subjection to the civil power, they could have legally defended their mountain homes against the military attack. And they have been twenties, week, and to all intents and purposes, they are the end of the line. They are the end of the line.

THE SOCIALIST PLATFORM

(Adopted at Indianapolis, Indiana, 1901.)

THE Socialist party in national convention assembled reaffirms its adherence to the principles of International Socialism, and declares its aim to be the organization of the Working Class, and those in sympathy with it, into a political party, with the object of conquering the powers of government, and using them for the purpose of transforming the present system of private ownership of the means of production and distribution into collective ownership by the entire people.

Formerly the tools of production were simple, and owned by individual workers. Today, the machine, which is an improved and more developed tool of production, is owned by the capitalist and not by the workers. The ownership enables the capitalists to control the product and keep the workers dependent upon them.

Private ownership of the means of production and distribution is responsible for the ever increasing uncertainty of livelihood and the poverty and misery of the working class, and divides society into two hostile classes—the capitalists and wage workers. The once powerful middle class is rapidly disappearing in the mill of competition. The struggle is now between the capitalist class and the working class. The possession of the means of livelihood gives the capitalists the control of the government, the press, the pulpit and the schools, and enables them to reduce the working men to a state of intellectual, physical and social inferiority, political subservience and virtual slavery.

The economic interests of the capitalist class dominate our entire social system; the lives of the working class are recklessly sacrificed for profit; wars are fomented between nations; indiscriminate slaughter is encouraged and the destruction of whole races is sanctioned in order that the capitalists may extend their commercial dominion abroad and enhance their supremacy at home.

But the same economic causes which developed capitalism are leading to Socialism, which will abolish both the capitalist class and the class of wage workers. And the active force in bringing about this new and higher order of society is the working class. All other classes, despite their apparent or actual conflicts, are alike interested in the upholding of the system of private ownership of the instruments of wealth production. The democratic, republican, the bourgeois public ownership parties, and all other parties which do not stand for the complete overthrow of the capitalist system of production, are alike political representatives of the capitalist class.

The workers can most effectively act as a class in their struggle against the collective powers of capitalism by constructing themselves into a political party, distinct from and opposed to all parties formed by the propertied classes.

While we declare that the development of economic conditions tends to the overthrow of the capitalist system, we recognize that the time and manner of the transition to Socialism also depends upon the stage of development reached by the proletariat. We therefore consider it of the utmost importance for the Socialist party to support all active efforts of the working class to better its condition and to elect Socialists to political offices, in order to facilitate the attainment of this end.

As such means we advocate:

1. The public ownership of all means of transportation and communication and all other public utilities, as well as of all industries controlled by monopolies, trusts and combines; no part of the revenue of such industries to be applied to the reduction of taxes on the property of the capitalist class, but to be applied wholly to the increase of wages and shortening of the hours of labor for the employees, and to the improvement of the service, and diminishing the rates to the consumers.

2. The progressive reduction of the hours of labor and the increase of wages in order to decrease the share of the capitalist and increase the share of the worker in the product of labor.

3. State or national insurance of working people in case of accidents, lack of employment, sickness and want in old age; the funds for this purpose to be collected from the revenue of the capitalist class, and to be administered under the control of the working class.

4. The inauguration of a system of public industries, public credit to be used for that purpose, in order that the workers be secured the full product of their labor.

5. The education of all children up to the age of 18 years, and state and municipal aid for books, clothing and food.

7. The initiative and referendum, proportional representation and the right of recall of representatives by their constituents.

But in advocating these measures as steps in the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of the Co-operative Commonwealth, we warn the working class against the so-called public ownership movements as an attempt of the capitalist class to secure governmental control of public utilities for the purpose of obtaining greater security in the exploitation of other industries, and not for the amelioration of the conditions of the working class.
A RADICAL DEPARTURE.

Trucks Attack the Sanctity of the Sick Bed.

RAPACIOUS GREED FOR GAIN AND PROFITS WITHHOLDS MEDICINE FROM NEEDY SICK.

And now it is the Doctor Trust — the Medical Syndicate — the Drug Combine! Not satisfied with putting a price on the comforts of life which places all beyond the reach of the means of the people, not content with adding per cent over per cent to the necessities of life, the essentials needed by the people to sustain life, health, strength and vigorous existence, to maintain a strength which is imperative if they desire to work and secure the pittance which are allowed them, the trust has invaded the sick chamber and so raised the price of needed and valuable medicines, that the lives of thousands whose sins will not allow their purchase, are threatened. Nothing is sacred to this hungry monster; when the grist for gold possesses it, it opens wide its insatiable jaws, and cares not whether it swallows and destroys the weak and feeble and mute, and women to whom it denies succor and help by the prohibitive prices it arbitrarily places upon the preventative, curative and tonics so necessary for their salvation.

The papers of the country are full of the new Anti-Toxik Trust, a combination of the rich and opulent drug producers and formers for no other purpose than to double and triple the cost of this invaluable aid in the treatment of epilepsy, scarlet fever, etc. The Octopus Trust, not being satisfied with destroying the energies of the fathers — the bread winners — now strikes at the very existence of the children, as thousands must die in these diseases disorders for lack of the necessary means to procure the treatment at the exorbitant trust-made prices.

In all this change, darkness and gloom there is one bright spot which shines out like a beacon light, beaming the way to all needy, sick and invalid people, to all who suffer from the last of the necessary comforts and care, who cannot purchase the high priced treatments, who are debarred by lack of means from going to the springs, to the seashore, to the drier and colder climates prescribed by physicians, a remedy made by nature — nature, whom no trust control — a remarkable mineral formation, made of medicinal value by the chemical action of the air, over which element no syndicate can assume supreme dominion — Vita-Ore. It comes from the ground — the people’s ground — and it is offered to the people in their own medicine in a fair and liberal manner which none can refuse or accept.

Readers of the “Appeal” know of it thousands of them. There is no locality in the country reached by the “Appeal” where some worthy family does not hail its name as that of a savior, does not give thanks to the philanthropic and public spirited man behind it for the fair and just manner in which the people are allowed, told and invited to partake of its great benefits. Every reader of the “Appeal” should know of its advantages, test it! It is different from any other medicine it is offered and sold in a different way! A radical departure from all other medicines! No one worries money on it! No one can lose by using it! Those whom it benefits and saves pay for it! Not a high price, but a reasonable price, based on the actual cost of production, based on the profit above same. Those whom it does not help pay absolutely nothing! The proprietors take all the risk — the patient, the user is to be the judge.

WHAT VITAE-ORE IS!

Vita-Ore is a natural, local medicine. It is the only medicine of its class that can be had in the open market. A bottle, when properly sealed, will remain good for five years, if it is kept in a cool and dry place. It is not a medicine that needs refrigeration. It is the only medicine of this class that can be bought without a prescription. It will take the place of all medicines for epilepsy, delirium tremens, whooping cough, colds, fevers, rheumatic fever, Bright’s disease, blood poisoning, diabetes, coughs, colds, whooping cough, pneumonia, venereal diseases, nervous complaints, nephritis, syphillis, gout, nervous complaints, neuralgia, rheumatism, &c.

A Colorado Senator Tells the Appeal Staff—Representative Some Things Which He Did Not Expect

The military will stay in Cripple Creek until Unionism is wiped out..."Gen. Chace.

CO-OPERATIVE STORES.

COMMING NATION.

One of the measures adopted by the laborers at Cripple Creek was the organization of co-operative stores, the resolution favoring the starting of co-operative stores made by the Eastern Federated laborers of Cripple Creek, and the idea is to have everything in its place to create dissent in the union ranks.

Max Morris, the western member of the executive board of the A. F. of L., is in Denver this week, and is said to be in the country.

John M. O'Neill, editor of the Miners' Journal, and one of the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners, has been spent most of his life in a mine, is a gifted orator and orator. He has a voice like a trumpet, and his sentences are sounded out with the former and genius of a Hi. He is quiet and modest in his demeanor, with a heart as gentle as a woman's, but with a lusty fist that, once aroused, moves like a mountain. He is keen, and is shrewd and is no so much needed at headquarters that he has little time for platform work.

Organizer White of the A. L. U., says that many of the Montana miners are joining the union and are cheerfully paying the extras assessments. There is a good field for union propaganda among the miners of this state, and from the Salt Lake Miners' Federation he promises to appeal to them strongly. The old Alliance feeling is still strong among the miners, and the steady appeal of the union propaganda will put them in a good position to join this radical organization. It's a good move and ought to be pushed. When the two wings of the industrial movement are under one roof it will be found that their industrial enemy is a common one.

When the order to search the homes of the union men of Cripple Creek was issued, the miners were not brought into the house. They were asked for an opinion concerning the matters. They advised that the constitution guaranteed the citizens the right to bear arms and to protect themselves, and that the miners have the right to take arms out of the houses of the citizens than furniture. The Federation leaders pointed out the fact that Denver was a hotbed of enemies, armed in defense of law, but advised the miners not to do so, but to give up arms that might be in their houses. The soldiers did not get enough arms to earn a squat.
