ENTHUSIASM GROWS TENSE

Second Day of the Great Socialist Convention Completes the Organization.

STIRRING TIMES ANTICIPATED AT TODAY'S SESSIONS.

Congratulatory Telegram Received From the National Brewery Workers' Union Endorsing the Principles of International Socialism—Progressive Apparatchik Greets Its Reading.

At the end of the second day of the convention's activities, there have been no major surprises. The machinery is now more orderly, and it has been observed that the changing dynamics of the convention have managed to bring some of the older, more established elements into the forefront of the debate. The atmosphere is tense, but the excitement is palpable, as the delegates prepare for the next day's proceedings.

The committee on resolutions has been working overtime, and the reports are expected to be presented soon. The mood is optimistic, and the hope is that the convention will make significant progress in the coming days.

Conrad, a delegate from New York, was quoted as saying, "We are facing a critical moment. The decisions we make today will set the tone for the rest of the convention. It's up to us to ensure that our actions are in line with the principles of international socialism, and that we are true to the ideals of the movement."
THE HOUR OF TEST.

By Horace S. Workman.

The record of things accomplished by the executive government in Washington during the last year has been marked, if in the sense of some, by lack of profit by magnanimous legislation, by moral and physical things to be accomplished. All of the signs point toward a trend of the people toward the right, the fiscal and governmental policies of the past, and the present, far and away the latter.

Washington, July 7--As the last hour of test has nearly come, there have been a number of changes in the Cabinet, as well as a change in the administration of the Executive. Mr. Coit's appointment to the position of Secretary of the Interior has been announced, and his appointment has been approved by the Secretary of the Interior. His appointment has been approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, and his appointment has been approved by the Secretary of the Navy.
