THE FARMERS.

In the Trades Congress at Toronto, Canada, the annual meeting of the National Farmers' Union, which was continued for two days, the farmers of that country stood up and  voted against a new tax on production. A new tax on production would have required a vote of $50,000,000, and the farmers of Canada
would not have voted for it.

Col. Whitman, a member of the delegation from the State of Washington, said: "The farmers of Canada are not going to stand for this. They are not going to stand for any new tax on production. They are not going to stand for any new tax that is going to make it impossible for them to live."

The farmers of Canada are not going to stand

Socialism Goes Marching On.

From Coast to Coast the Workers Hail the Speedy Coming of the Co-operative Commonwealth.

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT

Hundreds of thousands of steel workers in the various steel towns of the country have already been distributed bulletins containing a description of the new Co-operative Commonwealth. The workers have been invited to contribute their quota to this great scheme of social reform. The result of this movement is the formation of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. The object of this federation is to unite the workers of the world in a single organization, with the aim of establishing a society in which all men shall live in peace and harmony.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation is the most important development in the history of the working class. It is a movement which will have a profound effect on the social and economic structure of the country. The federation is based on the principles of equality and cooperation. It seeks to establish a society in which all men shall have equal opportunities for economic and social advancement. The federation is working to achieve this goal through the establishment of a co-operative system of production and distribution.

The federation is supported by thousands of workers who are tired of the existing system of capitalism. They see in the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation a way to achieve the social and economic justice that they believe is necessary for the survival of the working class.
