Appeal to Reason

J. A. Wayland

The Los Angeles Times is circulating a letter that President Coolidge has received from a group of women asking for a hearing of the problem of unemployment. The president has not yet responded to the letter, which was written by the Union of Women for the Protection of the Rights of Women in America. The union, which has over 250,000 members, is made up of women who have been unemployed for a long time and who believe that the government should do more to help them.

The letter to the president reads:

"Dear Mr. President,

We write to express our concern about the high level of unemployment in the country. We believe that the government should do more to help those who are unemployed, and we urge you to take action to alleviate this problem. We understand that you are currently busy, but we hope that you will give this matter your attention.

Sincerely yours,
The Union of Women for the Protection of the Rights of Women in America"

The president has not yet responded to the letter, but it is likely that he will do so in due course.

The union has asked for a hearing of the problem, and it is likely that the president will consider this request. The union has a long history of fighting for the rights of women, and it is likely that the president will take this into account.

The union has been active in many different areas, including employment, education, and health. It has been particularly active in the area of unemployment, and it has been successful in getting the government to take action on this issue.

The union has a strong base of support, and it is likely that the president will be influenced by the views of its members. It is likely that the president will take this into account when making his decision.

We urge you to support the union and to take action on the matter of unemployment. We believe that the government should do more to help those who are unemployed, and we urge you to take action to alleviate this problem.

Sincerely yours,
The Union of Women for the Protection of the Rights of Women in America"

HOW WE TREAT

Our Dogs.

Our Babies.

New York City.

One day last week, a Southern panic news spread through Boston having a story of forty-five children, many of them small, in the same pestilential heat of the sun. The following reports from the scene gave a true picture of the condition of the children:

"What is the matter with the children?"

"They are in the sun."

"What are you doing about it?"

"Nothing," was the reply.

"Why not take them indoors?"

"We can't."

"Why not take them down to the river?"

"We can't."

"What will happen to them?"

"They will die."

"What will you do about it?"

"Nothing."}

LOST! 500,000 VOTES.

BY GEORGE R. KIRKPATRICK.

The Boston Herald, the reputable and respectably published daily newspaper of Boston, was printed on November 26, 1928, and it contained an editorial column titled "COMING NATION." The editorial discussed the importance of the upcoming presidential election and the necessity of citizens voting. It highlighted the significance of the vote and the potential consequences of non-voting. The editorial emphasized the need for每个公民 to exercise their democratic right to vote, as it could determine the future of the nation. The tone was informative and urgent, urging readers to participate in the election process by casting their ballots on November 2nd.
