Parry's Call to Arms to the American Plutocracy!

The following is taken from D. M. Parry's address before the National Manufacturers' Association, at Atlanta, Ga., May 16th:

"Before proceeding to a brief consideration of the labor question, I wish to make a few statements respecting the treatment which the laboring man is receiving at the hands of employers, and the general industrial policy which it is being steadily enforced here at home in the interest of the employers. The Socialist party is endeavoring to change the system under which the laboring man is being treated, and to make the system one which will be advantageous to the laboring man. In doing this, it is necessary for employers to understand the reasons why the laboring man is being treated, and to learn what is the best system which will be advantageous to the laboring man. It is necessary for employers to understand the reasons why the laboring man is being treated, and to learn what is the best system which will be advantageous to the laboring man.

"The Socialists are the party which is endeavoring to change the system under which the laboring man is being treated, and to make the system one which will be advantageous to the laboring man. In doing this, it is necessary for employers to understand the reasons why the laboring man is being treated, and to learn what is the best system which will be advantageous to the laboring man. It is necessary for employers to understand the reasons why the laboring man is being treated, and to learn what is the best system which will be advantageous to the laboring man.

"The Socialists are the party which is endeavoring to change the system under which the laboring man is being treated, and to make the system one which will be advantageous to the laboring man. In doing this, it is necessary for employers to understand the reasons why the laboring man is being treated, and to learn what is the best system which will be advantageous to the laboring man. It is necessary for employers to understand the reasons why the laboring man is being treated, and to learn what is the best system which will be advantageous to the laboring man. It is necessary for employers to understand the reasons why the laboring man is being treated, and to learn what is the best system which will be advantageous to the laboring man.
A Significant Oration

QUEENSBURY, N.Y., May 15, 1963

The editor of this newspaper, having had the privilege of listening to the splendid address delivered by the distinguished orator, Mr. Robert Butler, on the occasion of the dedication of the new wooden house of the Woodstock Woodlands, found the highest praise for any given by any individual person.

In the recent context, held on May 4th, there were six candidates for the position of orator. The challenge was delivered with a full understanding of the orator's role in society, and the orator's speech was not only eloquent but also full of meaning.

The theme of Mr. Butler's address was "Living in the Community," and he emphasized the importance of community involvement and the role of the individual in society.

Mr. Butler's address was not only a call to action but also a reminder of the value of community involvement.

In conclusion, Mr. Butler's speech was a powerful reminder of the importance of community involvement and the role of the individual in society.
Two Presidents: Lincoln and Roosevelt

Roosevelt and the Chicago Tramsmen.

Roosevelt, the Chicago Tramsmen.

---

In a Lighter Vein.

---

A Grave Fact—For the Capitols—A grave fact in railroad service. The great fact is that in the offices of the railroad companies is a money box.

---

A Grave Fact—For the Capitols—A grave fact in railroad service. The great fact is that in the offices of the railroad companies is a money box.